WOULD RETAIN OLD CABINET, WILSON HINTS

But Several Members May Quit Posts for Other Positions.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Now that Mr. Hughes has congratulated President Wilson and Mr. Wilson has felicitated Mr. Hughes, the politicians consider the election duly consigned to history and are turning their attention to possible changes in the cabinet.

Much significance in this respect is regarded as attaching to the reply of Mr. Wilson today to the congratulations of the cabinet, when he said:

"One of the best things about the result is that it means four more years of active association in public service, and in that we are genuinely rejoiced."

There are some cabinet members who are hoping that this means the retention in office of those department heads who do not insist upon retiring.

ALL RESIGN ON MARCH 4.

In accordance with established custom all members of the cabinet will offer their resignations to the president on March 4, 1917. He will be free to select an entirely new cabinet, if he desires.

If the president were guided by various manifestations of popular dissatisfaction with some of his official advisers he would permit Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary of War Baker, Postmaster General Burleson, Attorney General Gregory, and Secretary of Commerce Redfield to depart in peace.

But Mr. Wilson is less disposed than ever to listen to popular criticism of his cabinet in view of the popular indorsement given his administration at the recent election in the shape of 400,000 more votes for Wilson than for Hughes.

M'ADOO PLANS TO RESIGN.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo said several months ago that he intended to retire next March to engage in private business and he now seems disposed to adhere to that decision.

He has been offered the presidency of a large New York trust company which is not a member of the federal reserve system, and therefore not within the two year statutory prohibition applying to occupants of such places by treasury officials.

Moreover, Mr. McAdoo is a potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for president as successor to his father-in-law in 1920 and he is credited with a desire to get out of office early and start his campaign.

The politicians are watching Mr. McAdoo closely, for if he does retire and become a candidate they will have reason to believe that his father-in-law is not looking for a third term, but is not averse to keeping the presidency in the family.

BURLESON FOR TREASURY?

In the event of the retirement of Mr. McAdoo the president is likely to make Mr. Burleson secretary of the treasury.

If Secretary of War Baker should retire his successor is likely to be Vance McCormick of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Democratic national committee. Mr. Baker wants to stay, however, and he is doing some things that are likely to commend him strongly to popular favor. He has upheld the general staff, routed the department bureaucrats, and called on the war college for an opinion on the desirability of establishing universal military training.

TUMULTY SLATED FOR JOB.

Mr. Tumulty, the president's private secretary, as well as Mr. McCormick, is to be rewarded for political service and either one may be picked for postmaster general.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston may remain, as he wishes to return to the presidency of Washington university, St. Louis, and Attorney General Gregory has said that he desires to resume private practice. If Houston goes Carl Vrooman of Illinois, now assistant secretary of agriculture, may be promoted to head of the department.

Mr. Redfield has proved unpopular in many quarters, as, for example, in connection with the Eastland tragedy, but the president has an exceedingly high opinion of his abil

Mundelein Exacts Abstinence Pledge from New Priests

Cites Evils of Drink; Will Not Oppose Dry Move.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

The exaction of a five year pledge of total abstinence from every priest whom he ordains is the practice adopted by Archbishop G. W. Mundelein of the Chicago archdiocese of the Roman Catholic church.

Archbishop Mundelein already has put his rule in force and declared yesterday he intends to exact the same pledge from each priest ordained in the future.

"If the young priests keep the total abstinence pledge for five years after their ordination," he said, "it is easy to see that they will be likely to continue the practice the rest of their lives."

His Attitude Toward Drys.

When asked to define his attitude towards making Chicago dry he said:

"It is not my custom to ally myself with any movement outside of the church. I believe I can do the most effective work inside the church. But the Dry Chicago federation may be assured I will not fight against their movement.

"No one with intelligence can fail to appreciate the ravages done by the liquor traffic. We have all seen enough wrecks of character and happiness along the way to convince us of its evil. There is scarcely a home which has not suffered from the effects of strong drink.

Aids Temperance Cause.

"I would be untrue to my position and my convictions if I did not take a stand in favor of total abstinence. Not only in my attitude towards the newly ordained priests but in other ways I have taken measures to promote the cause of temperance.

"I appreciate the delicacy of dealing with those who have come from Europe, bringing with them customs observed for generations, but at the same time the ravages of the saloon among these very foreigners is often the most apparent."

Archbishop Mundelein described the manner in which he induced a club of young men under his care in New York to give up all drinking except light beer.

Did It as Compromise.

"I did that," Archbishop Mundelein said, "as a compromise. I would have preferred to have them give up drinking altogether, but I thought a promise to drink only light beer was better than to have them continue indulging in stronger alcoholic drinks, and I didn't want to estrange them from the church by too drastic measures.

"In the matter of church dogma I speak with authority and insist on having my instruction followed. In such a matter as temperance reform I try by example and precept to bring about right conditions.

"The sentiment in favor of prohibition is evidently gaining in this country."

MRS. HARRIMAN'S JEWELS RECOVERED; TWO ARRESTS.

Valuables Stolen from Residence of New York Woman Nov. 13 Regained and Suspects Locked Up.

New York, Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. E. H. Harriman's jewels, stolen from her home, Fifth avenue and Sixty-ninth street, on Monday, Nov. 13, have been recovered. Orville Daggett of Brooklyn and Arthur P. Daggett of Larchmont, N. Y., are locked up charged with the theft. The police blotter reads that, acting in concert, they stole two rubies, one diamond, and a platinum chain set with diamonds, all valued at $60,000.

VILLA BEATEN IN BIG BATTLE AT CHIHUAHUA

Bandits Storm Trevino's Stronghold Four Times, Then Withdraw.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 23.—Francisco Villa withdrew his surviving forces in defeat from Chihuahua City at 6:15 o'clock tonight after a battle of seven hours during which he made fruitless attempts to carry Gen. Trevino's protecting works by assault.

The bandit chieftain is reported to have led his men in person.

Villa's withdrawal followed the repulse by Gen. Trevino of a fourth mass attack by Villa forces late today, the bandits being driven from their temporary intrenchments with heavy losses, according to a Juarez announcement.

GEN. TREVINO WOUNDED.

Gen. Trevino was wounded in the scalp during the early afternoon while personally directin the fighting from the vicinity of Santa Rosa hill, Gen. Francisco Gonzales announced in Juarez tonight after receiving a message from Chihuahua City. After having his head bandaged, he returned to his post at field headquarters and continued the direction of the battle.

At 10 o'clock tonight the military authorities in Chihuahua City telegraphed to Gen. Gonzales in Juarez that Gen. Carlos Ozuna, in command of the Carranza cavalry, was pursuing the Villa bandits south in the direction of Mapula and the cavalry column was reported to be ten miles south of Santa Rosa.

OUTLAW BANDS GATHERING.

Simultaneous with this news, reports reached government agents here that bandits are gathering in the vicinity of Guzman, on the Mexico Northwestern railroad, about seventy-five miles southwest of Juarez.

This is near the place where a train was fired upon yesterday by bandits. A force of bandits said to be in command of Silvestre Quevedo is at Santa Maria, near Guzman, according to this same information. The purpose of this bandit force is said to be to cut the Mexico Northwestern railway. Guzman is only thirty miles from the American line of communication.

VILLA LEAVES MANY DEAD.

The reports of the battle at Chihuahua City received here state that following each of his four attacks before his final withdrawal tonight Villa left, on retiring, many dead and wounded on the plains outside the city to the south.

At 11 o'clock today (mountain time) the high crowned hats of the bandits were seen to the south, along the Mexican Central main line, according to these messages. The battle was opened a few minutes later with a salvo from cannon on Santa Rosa hill, the key to the state capital.

At 3 o'clock the battle was still raging, the apparent advantage being with the government forces. Villa is reported by Gen. Gonzales to have at least 3,500 men, practically all of whom are armed and mounted. He is also believed to have machine guns, but no heavy artillery.

DEAD LITTTER FIELD.

The field was covered with dead and dying men, one message stated.

A sortie by Carranza cavalry, supported by artillery, resulted in the capture of many Villa prisoners, who were without ammunition and had gone since morning without food or water, another message declared.

RECESS AT ATLANTIC CITY?

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 23.—A recess of two weeks has been requested by the Mexican members of the Mexican-American joint commission to give them an opportunity to lay before Gen. Carranza the proposals formulated by the Americans for border control.

The indications tonight were that the request would be granted.

CHICAGOANS' GLASS EYES ARE HELD UP BY THE WAR.

Effort Made to Obtain Their Release or Substitutes of a Different Color Will Have to Be Used.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Efforts are being made by American officials to secure the release of a consignment of glass eyes made in Germany and seized in transit to a Chicago concern. They are not yet in the prize court. It is asserted by Chicago importers that some of these eyes were specially made to order and that unless they reach their destination several clients must obtain substitutes which will not match the color of their good eyes.

Orsova Is Periled by Falkenhayn in Roumania Drive

Vienna Reports Balkan Army Reaches East Bank of Cerna.

BULLETIN.

VIENNA, via London, Nov. 23.—The imminent fall of Orsova, at the junction of the Cerna and the Danube, to the forces of Von Falkenhayn is foreshadowed in a statement from the war office tonight which says the Austro-Hungarian forces have reached the eastern bank of the Cerna river. This is taken to indicate that the Roumanians defending the city are preparing to evacuate it and retreat southeast, joining with the force from Craiova.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Teutonic allies in the Wallachian province are continuing their advance against the Roumanians. The operations there, according to the latest German official communication, are "progressing in accordance with our plans."

Semi-official advices from Berlin are that Gen. von Falkenhayn's army up to Nov. 21 had taken 11,000 square kilometers of wheat soil in Wallachia, and with the capture of the railroad had shut off the communication of all the Roumanian troops west of Craiova.

Berlin records the reinforcement of the Russians on the eastern Transylvanian border, but the locality where they have arrived is not definitely stated. In the Alt region Bucharest reports that the Roumanians rae holding their positions.

Avoid Falkenhayn Trap.

The Roumanian official statement, issued today after two days' silence at Bucharest, in the face of sweeping German claims of "bottling up" of the Roumanian army, served to increase the hope here that the forces of the Balkan kingdom in the Jiul valley at least have ducked from under the encircling arm of Gen. von Falkenhayn's troops.

The Roumanian statement did not concede loss to the Germans of Craiova, but it did announce a retirement westward from the Wallachian city.

Of more interest here was the statement that the Roumanian forces had withdrawn from the Jiul valley to "old positions." The Jiul valley forces were among those at which Von Falkenhayn's encircling sweep was most directly aimed. If they have escaped, as indicated in the Roumanian statement, they may be able to create a sufficiently strong diversion to relieve the viselike pressure of the Teutonic crusher on other Roumanian forces around Orsova.

Fighting in Macedonia.

Except in Macedonia, little fighting of moment is taking place. Here, in the vicinity of Monastir and in the region between Lakes Presba and Ochrida, battles of considerable proportion are in progress. North of Monastir the Germans and Bulgarians have received reinforcements and are stubbornly resisting the further advance of the entente allied troops. Dobromir and Paralovo have fallen into the hands of the French and Serbs, according to Paris, while west of Lake Presba the Italians have pushed their lines further forward. Berlin asserts that to the east of Lake Ochrida the Italians have been forced to retreat.

German Gains Offset?

"It is for Hindenburg to estimate whether the gains of the German army in Roumania pay for the losses sustained on the other fronts by the withdrawal of divisions to operate there," said Maj. Gen. F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations of the war office, in discussing today with an Associated Press correspondent the latest military developments.

"It is impossible and foolish to prophesy the outcome of the German campaign in Roumania," continued Gen. Maurice, "but I can say the first efforts to cut through by way of Predeal pass have been a failure. Since that time the Germans have had to go a long way around, thereby giving the Roumanians time which they need.

"The Germans have a long line of communications to defend, while the rapid approach of midwinter operates in favor of the Roumanians."

BRITISH AIR BOARD HAS QUARREL WITH ADMIRALTY.

Serous Crisis Said to Be Impending Unless Certain Demands Are Agreed To.

LONDON, Nov. 24, 2:15 a. m.—According to the Mail a critical situation has arisen in consequence of the government's repeated postponement of consideration of the British air board's demand for fuller powers and the admiralty's refusal to agree to this.

The Mail intimates that if the matter is again deferred at the meeting of the war council Friday important resignations are probable.

The Times, referring to recent criticisms of the admiralty, says that the government now recognizes the necessity of strengthening the board. Certain changes are impending, the paper says.

GUNMEN HELD IN POSSE TRAP

Maywood Citizens Hem in Trio After Shooting of Woman and Marshal.

Three Chicago gunmen who descended on the village of Maywood in a swift foray last night left behind one woman dangerously wounded and a policeman shot in the leg and arm. The woman is Mrs. Jacob Hirschberg, wife of the village butcher. Charles Ritt is the Maywood policeman who was hit twice while trying to round up the gunmen single handed.

The gunfighters dropped into Maywood about 7 o'clock. They entered the drug store of Leo Chulock at 401 South Thirteenth street and demanded whisky. When Chulock refused to serve them they left, making threats to "fill the rube town with smoke."

Shoot Woman; Laugh.

Later in the evening they went into Hirschberg's meat market at 449 South Twelfth avenue and put a gun to the butcher's head. One of the number went through the cash register. Mrs. Hirschberg, hearing the commotion, ran in from the living rooms at the rear. As she opened the door the gunmen laughed and let drive at her with all three weapons. One bullet entered the woman's abdomen.

Policeman Witt heard the shooting and was given the general direction in which the gunmen fled. He pursued them on a street car.

As the car was crossing the Desplaines river the policeman saw three men walking on the footpath. He ordered the motorman to stop and, jumping off, advanced toward the trio, who immediately opened fire and started to run. Witt quickly added his gun to the brisk action and kept up the chase until a volley dropped him with wounds in the leg and arm.

Surround Bandits in Woods.

A posse of citizens, attracted by the peppery battle, hastened to reinforce the wounded policeman and late at night surrounded the robbers in a small wood near West Madison street and the Desplaines river. The posse is heavily armed, for the most part with shotguns. It is planned to keep the robbers in the wood until daybreak and capture or kill them.

KAISER SENDS HIS SYMPATHY TO NEW AUSTRIAN EMPEROR

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The German emperor has sent a message of sympathy to Emperor Charles of Austria on the death of Emperor Francis Joseph, whose government, says Emperor William, "will live in the history of the monarchy as a period of blessing."

The message is further quoted in a Reuter dispatch from Berlin, by way of Amsterdam, as follows:

"We of the younger generation were accustomed to see in his venerable figure examples of the finest virtues of rulers and truly kingly devotion to duty. The German empire loses in him a loyal ally. I personally lose a paternal and highly honored friend.

"God's inscrutable will has called him away in the middle of the greatest world war and has not permitted him to see the result of the struggle and the return of peace. May God give him eternal rest, and to you strength to bear the burden which falls upon you at this grave time."

Emperor Charles replied:

"I thank you for the sympathy which you, dear friend, have shown and for the genuine friendship which you manifested toward the dead emperor, who held you in such high esteem. As your and his loyalty to the alliance stood firm as a rock in this world war, so shall it remain for us."

EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT ROOSEVELT'S REVOLUTION.

We Had to Get the News from Mexica, but Here It Is: Teddy to "Overthrow Wilson."

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 23.—Roosevelt has started a revolution against President Wilson, according to a dispatch printed in El Democrata, the leading newspaper of Chihuahua City.

The dispatch appears under a Mexico City date. It reads as follows:

"Alarming rumors have been circulating in this city which say that Col. Theodore Roosevelt heads a revolution that has broken out in several states of the American union, with the object of overthrowing President Wilson, who Roosevelt claims authorized various electoral frauds in order to triumph in the election.

"High officials in this city and some of the diplomats state with confidence that this rumor is a canard of the American yellow press, which is hostile to Wilson. The American ambassador already has telegraphed to Washington in order to inform himself as to the truth of the report."

BIND AND GAG EXPRESS MAN; GET $661 LOOT

Bandits Leisurely Rifle Safe in a Northwestern Car, Then Jump Off.

Two masked bandits, working in leisurely fashion at the side of a bound and gagged express messenger, accomplished a daring robbery last night on a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train as it pulled into the city.

With nearly an hour to devote to their work the robbers rifled the safe in the express car, threw aside checks, drafts, and other non-negotiable booty, and pocketed $661—all the cash there was.

Then they dropped off at Clybourn Junction, three miles from the loop, and slipped away into the dark.

DELAY IN CALLING POLICE.

The police were not notified until four hours after the robbery had been reported to the railroad and express companies and efforts to keep it secret had proved futile. Then the neighborhood of the Clybourn station was ransacked, but with little hope of locating the bandits.

The robbery was as methodical as it was bold. Making its way with frequent stops from Elroy, Wis., where it started at 10:05 a. m. after picking up cars from Minneapolis, the train reached Barrington, Ill., at about 6 o'clock. Here the messenger, W. E. Cater of 5140 Berteau avenue, took on three sacks of flour and forgot to lock the door of his car.

The bandits evidently got aboard on the side away from the Barrington station. They walked into the car as soon as the train gathered headway and, according to Cater's story, found him with a sack of flour in his arms.

HIS HANDS GO UP.

"Better put your hands up," said one mildly, according to Cater's story, related afterward.

Cater complied in a hurry. Both men wore thin stocking masks with no eye holes and handkerchiefs tied across their mouths. Each carried a revolver.

Forcing Cater into a chair, they tied him with a length of new rope they had brought with them. They drew the messenger's hands over his head and bound them to a hook on the wall behind him. Then they wrapped two handkerchiefs tightly across his face and head and relieved him of his revolver and keys.

"Where's your gat?" one demanded.

"That's the only one I've got," mumbled Cater, indicating his revolver with a nod.

WARN AGAINST "MONKEYING."

With a word of warning to Cater that he'd "get a .44" in him "if he tried any monkey business," the robbers proceeded to unlock the safe and go deliberately through its contents. Thirty or forty envelopes were opened and their contents scattered about the floor.

Having finished their work, they turned their attention again to Cater. Twice they threatened to kill him if he did not give them all the information they wanted.

At one station just outside the city—Cater is not sure which one—they placed their revolvers to his head.

"What stop is this?" they demanded.

ROBBERS GET SUSPICIOUS.

"Clybourn," said Cater.

It wasn't, but the bandits evidently didn't know the difference. They became suspicious, however, and asked again:

"Where is Clybourn?"

"Well, it's in the city limits," said Cater.

When the train finally slowed up for the stop at Clybourn one of the robbers said:

"Now listen. We'll kill you if you yell or try to get help."

A moment later they dropped off by the side door of the car.

Cater managed to work himself loose and notified Conductor P. J. Doolin of the robbery as the train was pulling into the terminal.

CHECK UP THE LOSSES.

J. H. Gates, assistant to one of the vice presidents of the road, hurried to the station ot question the messenger while representatives of the express company checked up on the contents of the safe. They were at it for four hours, hoping against hope that the news would not leak out. But it did, and then Lieut. James Larkin went over from the detective bureau to take a hand.

"Why didn't you tell us long ago?" he demanded. "We might have caught these men."

Cater is married, has been with the railroad eighteen years, and has a good record. Railroad officials said they accepted his story without question.

"I didn't have more than a minute to see what the robbers looked like before they blindfolded me," said the messenger. "All I can remember is that each was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighed about 140 pounds, and seemed about 25 years old. They wore old, bedraggled raincoats and had been drinking."

From their blundering questions as to the stations near the city, railroad detectives believe the bandits are not Chicago men. Because of the ease with which they boarded the train without being seen, and their knowledge of the fact that the safe could be opened with a key, it is suspected that they are former employés of the road.

PORTER SEES THEM JUMP OFF.

The police found that James W. Murphy of 5515 Lafayette avenue, a porter employed in the station at Clybourn Junction, saw the robbers swing off the express car as it slowed down.

"They were some distance from me," said Murphy, "and I hadn't any reason to suspect anything was wrong. They carried no satchel and I thought they came from one of the passenger coaches.

"It was too dark to see their faces, but as near as I could tell both wore dark overcoats and caps. They didn't run, but acted as if they had business to attend to and wanted to get right along somewhere."

DETECTIVES GET BUSY.

H. L. Dailey, train dispatcher for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, and Frank Mullady, chief of the railroad detective force, were among the first to hear of the holdup. The latter sent messages to Barrington to learn if any passengers boarded the train there who would answer the meager discription given of the bandits.

Two hours later the station agent at Clybourn Junction was notified of the robbery, then Murphy, the porter, told of seeing the two supposed bandits. The detective bureau was notified at 10:45 and the Rawson street police at 11 o'clock.

The railroad and the American Express company have each offered a reward of $500 for the robbers' capture.

PRICE OF PRINTING GOES UP 30 PER CENT NEXT MONTH.

Chicago and Northern Illinois Concerns Decide to Advance Charges to Meet Increased Expenses.

JUMP IN PRINTING COST

Article.	Per cent Increase.

The action, as stated by W. T. Leyden, secretary of the meeting, and also secretary of Franklin Typothetæ of Chicago, was as follows:

"After a two hours' debate upon the rise and cost of inks, paper, electrotypes, rollers, type metal, binder board, leather, glue, and other materials, as well as the increase granted Nov. 1 to employës in the printers' union, it was voted to place an additional increase of 30 per cent upon all schedules and estimates being made upon printing and binding after Dec. 1."

ILLINOIS OFFICIAL VOTE FIGURES NEAR COMPLETION.

Only Cook County's Official Returns Lacking from Compilations of Secretary of State.

The secretary of state at Springfield has compiled the official election figures from all the counties in Illinois, except Cook county. This county's final figures will be ready probably tomorrow.

The total vote of Illinois, including the unofficial Cook county vote, but otherwise official, is, for president [figures on first elector]:

For Hughes	1,137,643
For Wilson	945,205
Hughes' plurality	192,438

The official figures on governor, including unofficial for Cook county, are:

For Lowden	688,197
For Dunne	553,572
Lowden's plurality	134,625

The vote for Seymour Stedman, Socialist nominee for governor, was 57,730, and for John R. Golden, Prohibitionist, was 14,171.

H. B. CHAMBERLIN ELECTED TO THE L. V. L. COMMITTEE.

Magazine Editor Given Place on Executive Body Because of Public Welfare Experience.

Henry Barrett Chamberlin, former editor of the Chicago Record-Herald, and now editor of several magazines, was elected yesterday a member of the executive committee of the Legislative Voters' league. He was selected because of his experience in matters relating to the public welfare.

During the life time of the Chicago charter commission, Mr. Chamberlin was its secretary. He also was assistant secretary of the Municipal Voters' league during the early days of its existence.

Practically all his life Mr. Chamberlin has resided in Chicago. It was predicted by L. V. L. officials that the league's work will be considerably strengthened by his becoming a member of its executive committee.

Anti-Smoke Device Shown.

A new anti-smoke device for locomotives was introduced to the council health committee yesterday by former Ald. Henry P. Bergen. Its inventor is Oscar Lox, and it is said to have been tried out by several railroads with good results. The committee will inspect it two weeks hence.

AGREE TO PUSH RAIL LAW TEST TO HIGH COURT

Attorney General and Counsel for Roads Will Abide by Result in One Case.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Conferences between Attorney General Gregory and counsel for important railway systems of the country, looking to the expedition to the Supreme court of one of the suits attacking the constitutionality of the Adamson act, virtually were concluded today, and the question of which shall be made the test case was placed in the hands of department of justice attorneys and legal representatives of the railroads now in Kansas City.

It was said tonight that in the conferences here the form of the agreement between the attorney general and the railroad lawyers was in substance decided on, and that the only matter to be determined in Kansas City is whether the suit of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad, decided yesterday against the government, or that of the Santa Fé, set for hearing tomorrow, shall be made the test case.

Terms of the Agreement.

Terms of the tentative understanding were telegraphed by the department to G. C. Todd, assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions, now aiding in handling the Kansas City cases, and by counsel for the carriers to Walker D. Hines, counsel for the Santa Fé.

In substance the plan provides that both the department and the railroads agree in every way to expedite and actively press the case to be determined on to a final decision in the Supreme court, and that during the pendency of these suits the government will not begin any prosecutions of carriers for failure to apply the law. During its pendency the carriers will institute no more suits, and at its determination both parties to the agreement will be bound by the Supreme court decision, the carriers agreeing not to bring further actions if the law is found constitutional, and to drop all others. Neither party is bound by the agreement to refrain from efforts to secure legislation which might change the Adamson act.

Several additional suits were filed by the railroads during the day in various states attacking the Adamson law.

Deadlock in Missouri Court.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Counsel for the federal government and counsel for the railroads remained all day in deadlock as to a test case for the Adamson law. They expressed hope tonight that an agreement could be announced tomorrow morning.

The injunction case of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé was to have come up before Judge Pollock in Kansas City, Kas., this morning, but counsel, being unable to decide on a harmonious course of procedure, the court postponed the case until tomorrow.

Inquiry Body Meets Rail Men.

New York, Nov. 23.—The Adamson law commission appointed by President Wilson to investigate the operations of the act held its first meeting here today and conferred with more than a dozen railroad executives for the announced purpose of discussing with them informally the methods to be used in the investigation. The commission will hold a similar conference with the heads of the railroad brotherhoods here next Tuesday.

RALPH E. CHURCH DENIES HE'S BENT ON MATRIMONY.

Reads "Tribune" in Utica, N. Y., and Discovers Some Jest Fan Has Been Brewing Humor.

THE TRIBUNE last night received the following self-explanatory telegram, which it is glad to print:

"Utica, N. Y., Nov. 23.—[To the Chicago Tribune.]—I have just read here at Utica, N. Y., THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE story of Thursday stating I went to New York last Saturday with the purpose of wedding Miss Mary Nash Tyler of Montclair, N. J. This is the practical joke of some of my friends. I left Evanston only yesterday and expect to arrive in New York City tonight for the national military training caps association conference and for a brief vacation, with no elopement or matrimonial program in view whatever.

"I do not know Miss Tyler and do not believe there is such a person. I do believe in the conventional wedding and not the elopement sort. I shall continue for a while at least in single blessedness, married and devoted only to my law practice and to the work of the coming fiftieth general assembly of Illinois. RALPH E. CHURCH."

TRIES TO DIE

Chicago Cartoonist Seeks Death by Poison.

ARTIST SEEKS POISON DEATH

Arthur Bowen, Who Once Offered Self in Lottery, Takes Bichloride.

Arthur Bowen, for many years a cartoonist on various Chicago newspapers, tried to commit suicide yesterday by taking bichloride of mercury.

He was found on the floor of his room at 4516 Magnolia avenue and taken to the Ravenswood hospital after a physician had given emergency treatment. His condition is said to be serious.

Bowen admitted he intended to end his life, but refused to tell the reason. Friends said he has been despondent because of financial reverses.

The cartoonist has been employed at different times on the American, Journal, and News. At one time he worked out a monologue illustrated with cartoons and spent several months giving it in the variety theaters.

In 1910 he offered himself as a husband to the young woman who drew the winning ticket in a lottery conducted by a downtown theater. Nothing came of that, however, and shortly afterward he was married to Miss Mildred Gapen, the daughter of a wealthy Madison, Wis., physician.

Bowen spent last summer with an artist friend in Michigan and returned to Chicago early in October in the best of spirits. More recently he has appeared morose and has complained of "hard times," though he has been doing work for the News with more or less regularity.

CARPENTER TURNS ADAMSON CASES OVER TO LANDIS.

Refuses to Consider Granting Injunction in Advance of Hearing Before Fellow Judge on Dec. 4.

Federal Judge Carpenter yesterday refused to grant an injunction to restrain the federal government from enforcing the Adamson eight hour law when two railroad companies entered a motion to this effect.

The judge's ruling, however, has no bearing on the question of the law's constitutionality. The motion was made for the purpose of determining whether the court would entertain the injunction petition before the other cases that have been filed will be heard in an attempt to expedite a ruling.

Judge Carpenter denied the motion and instructed the attorneys to appear before Judge Landis on Dec. 4, when the other Adamson law cases are to be heard. The injunction was sought by the Pennsylvania company and the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.

Annual Fish Exhibit Held.

The annual fish exhibit of the Chicago Aquarium society was held last night in W. H. Keedy's studio 19 Cedar street. Among the paradise fish F. E. Bower took first prize, W. Hitchcock second, and L. H. Graf third. In the polyacanthous exhibits Dr. Gustave Reusker's entry took first prize. Fred Orsinger gave a lecture, illustrated with lantern slides, on the proper feeding of fish.

SAYS FOOD COST IS DUE TO LACK OF RAILROADS

A. P. Thom Asserts Lines Must Be Built to Tap Dormant Resources of the U. S.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Alfred P. Thom, spokesman for the railroads before the Newlands investigating committee on railroad conditions, today suggested to the committee that the present high cost of living might be ascribed to the recent lack of railroad expansion.

"There have been less than 1,000 miles of new railroad constructed in the United States during the last year," Mr. Thom said. "That is less than in any other year since 1848, except during the civil war, and yet the cost of living is daily advancing owing to a shortage of supplies which might be remedied by developing our untouched resources—securing access to new areas of production.

"The lack of railroad extension into new territory may be the real cause of the nation-wide disaster of the high cost of living, the greatest problem of the age for the poor man. Why not develop the undeveloped lands of our country and lay their products at the feet of the people?"

Can't Agree on Eight Hour Law.

Efforts to reach an agreement between the department of justice and representatives of the railroads today as to the case which shall be presented to the Supreme court as a test of the Adamson law were unavailing. The department of justice still insists on carrying through the case of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad, while the railroad representatives assert that this would not be a fair test case.

Mr. Thom went into many phases of railroad conditions, but dwelt particularly on their need for credit if they are to extend and keep transportation facilities up to the standard the public demands.

He said that in the last sixteen years the percentage of railroad securities constituting transactions against the property had increased from about 49 per cent to about 65 per cent of the total securities and predicted that financiers who would come before the committee later would testify that the danger line had been reached.

Too Much Interest Demanded.

The investing public, Mr. Thom said, demanded a 6 per cent return and a 3 per cent surplus fund yearly to provide against lean years, and such return is almost impossible on railroad stocks under present conditions.

"If government ownership of railroads comes in this country," Mr. Thom said, "it will be because of the need of credit which private owners cannot supply.

"The decision of the American people has gone forth," the witness said, "that the railroads must stay out of politics. They should see to it that the side that wants to attack the railroads stays out of politics, too. I plead for a nonpartisan regulation of railroads, that woud give every guarantee possible that questions shall be decided on principles of business righteousness and not on principles of political expediency."

Duty Is to the Public.

Mr. Thom pointed out that the present system of railroad regulation had its beginning in the abuses of the past and was based on the principles of repression, correction, and punishment, rather than on constructive principles. He contrasted this with the plan of governmental regulation of banks.

"The railroads accept the view that regulation is a permanent and enduring part of government in America and that the first duty of the carriers is to the public. That duty is to afford reasonable facilities on reasonable terms and at reasonable rates, and this must be done before any private interests can be considered."

THE ROLLING MAN

Pays His Hughes Bet, but Joins the Anti-Expectoration Club.

THE Don't Spit on the Sidewalk club received a recruit yesterday. It is Royal V. Andrus of the Hamilton club. Mr. Andrus set out to pay an election bet, and, in spite of expectoration, he said, he would have paid his obligation in full—if the police had not objected.

It was Mr. Andrus' privilege, because of a Hughes bet with his fellow club member, William F. Nitz, to roll down Dearborn street from Madison to Monroe street. Mr. Andrus rented a football suit and, in the presence of Mr. Nitz, he lay down on the sidewalk in front of Stilson's café and began to roll southward.

Women pedestrians drew aside their skirts as the club member rolled. Men whose time is money stopped to watch. It was estimated by Mr. Andrus that 5,000 persons collected on that bet. But after twenty feet of rolling the police told Mr. Andrus that gambling, if it interefered with traffic, could not be permitted. Mr. Nitz said he was satisfied, and the rolling clubman adjourned to the swimming pool of the Hamilton club.

36,000 COTTON MILL MEN GET INCREASE IN WAGES.

Manchester, N. H., Company Raises Pay for Third Time in Year—Lowell Company Follows Suit.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 23.—The Amoskeag Manufacturing company, whose cotton manufacturing plant, employing 18 000 persons, is said to be the largest in the world, tonight announced a raise in wages "substantially the same in amount as given in other textile cities in New England, to take effect on Dec. 4." This is the third increase granted by the company in the calendar year.

18,000 Benefited in Lowell.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 23.—Cotton mills in this city today announced an increase of wages to 18,000 operatives to take effect Dec. 4. The amount of the increase was not stated.

Sharon, Pa., Nov. 23.—More than 3,000 men employed by independent steel concerns in this vicinity have been given an increase of 10 per cent in wages.

PROSECUTION OF M'DANIEL ENDED ABRUPTLY BY STATE.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 23.—No case may be presented by the defense when the trial of Prosecutor Oscar D. McDaniel is resumed in the Criminal court here tomorrow afternoon. C. F. Strop, chief counsel for the defense, declared here late tonight, after a conference with other attorneys, that the defense probably would announce itself as believing the innocence of the accused man, who is charged with having murdered his wife, was shown before the state abruptly closed its case today.

"If we decide to enter a defense, it will not be because we feel the state has convicted McDaniel," he said, "but it will be to allay the public opinion aroused by this prosecution."

Earlier in the night the defense said the accused prosecutor would be the first witness called by the defense."

CRONES' ARREST AGAIN REPORTED; NEW SERIES ON

Fresh Batch of Circulars Starts Hunt—"Capture" Made in Nebraska.

Arrest No. 1 of the Jean Crones series expected following the distribution of photographs and offers of reward for the capture of the Mundelein soup poisoner was made yesterday by the town marshal of Spalding, Neb.

In the hope that the arrest is important, Detective Sergeant Aitken and Steward A. J. Brissette of the University club went to Spalding last night to attempt an identification.

On the long distance telephone last night Marshal Byrne of Spalding said he was certain the man he has in jail is the archpoisoner who attempted the lives of more than 200 in the University club banquet last January.

The Marshal's Evidence.

"I thought he looked somewhat suspicious," said the marshal, "so I picked him up. He is an Austrian and he speaks brokenly. He was wearing an army hat and says he was in the United States army, but I have my doubts. There was one thing I wanted to clear up, and that is the color of his hair. This fellow's hair is brown. I understand Crones dyed his hair when he escaped from Chicago and some of the folks here believe this fellow's hair has been dyed.

"I have looked him over carefully and I'm sure I've got the right man. I know a few other little things, too, but I won't give them out right now."

Sticks to Army Tale.

Telegraphic advices explained the suspect told a number of conflicting stories, but in the main he clung to the statement that he recently was discharged from the army.

Only recently a new assortment of literature bearing on the Crones poisoning, together with descriptions and the reward offer, were sent broadcast over the country, and it is not considered improbable that many arrests of suspects will be made.

Chief Larkin was not inclined to be oversure in the Nebraska case last night, but he decided to send a detective and Brissette to investigate.

BILLY SUNDAY WON'T QUIT AFTER CHICAGO.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—"Retire? Not on your life," was Billy Sunday's explosive answer to the query whether the story were true that he would close his career after a six months' campaign in Chicago.

"I'll preach the gospel as long as the Lord lets me keep my voice and gives my legs strength to prop me up," he continued. "I hope to preach up to the time the Lord says, 'That's enough, Bill; come up higher.'"

ASSAILS HOOK 8 HOUR EDICT

Gompers Says Labor Will Act on Defensive, but Warns of Fight.

PROOF IS UP TO U. S.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 23.—"If it was Judge Hook's intention to test the constitutionality of the eight hour law, why didn't he declare it constitutional and place the burden of proof upon the railroad managers, who wanted to evade and avoid it, instead of compelling the government to affirm the constitutionality of the law?"

Thus did President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in addressing the convention late today, lead up to a declaration that brought the delegates to their feet with shouts of approval that lasted five minutes.

"We are going to act on the defensive," said Mr. Gompers, "but if a fight is to be made to take from the men, women, and children of our time the advantages they have obtained, then labor's opponents had better look out. We will resist to the uttermost."

Gompers attacked a local newspaper for an editorial yesterday that contrasted Charles W. Schwab with Gompers, stating that the former was a constructive genius while the latter was an iconoclast and class provoker.

ANOTHER BET ON ELECTION.

Attorney Robert H. Eberle Has His Hair Clipped and Half of Mustache Shaved.

Robert H. Eberle, an attorney at 19 South La Salle street, had his hair clipped and half his mustache shaved last night to pay an election bet. Mr. Eberle is bound to go without a hat and wear a Navajo blanket instead of an overcoat for the next week. His friends say he will go to court in that costume. William White, whose barber shop is at Harrison street and California avenue, wielded the razor. Mr. White predicts that Mr. Eberle may look normal (if he uses this tonic regularly, sir) within three months.

W. L. KROESCHELL KILLS SELF IN ILLINOIS CLUB

Manufacturer Said to Have Feared Loss of Memory—No Funeral, Request.

William L. Kroeschell of Winnetka was sitting on a settee in an alcove just off the Illinois Athletic club library. A heavy rain was falling outside and the alcove was dark.

"Wouldn't you like a light, Mr. Kroeschell?" C. R. Evans, the manager, asked.

There was no answer.

Later members in the library and billiard room nearby were startled by the sound of a shot. They rushed to the alcove. Mr. Kroeschell was on the settee, his chin down against his chest, his arms at his sides, and a revolver in his right hand. A shot through his head had been instantly fatal.

Wants No Funeral.

On the lapel of his coat was pinned a piece of paper asking that certain friends be notified and requesting that no funeral be held and that his body be cremated. In a pocket was another note attached to a package of papers. It asked that the papers be delivered to Robert Otto Butz, his son-in-law, or to Otto C. Butz of Winnetka, Robert's father.

Despondency over ill health and fear of loss of memory are given by friends as the only possible explanations for Mr. Kroeschell's suicide. He was 61 years old. Sixteen years ago a brother, who also dreaded loss of memory, had died. The family always denied he had committed suicide.

Feared Loss of Memory.

"Mr. Kroeschell had been suffering from headaches," Mr. Butz said. "There appeared to be nothing serious, but he worried and seemed afraid of loss of memory. Sometimes when we were playing cards he would seem to forget the game for a moment or so and then realize with a sort of start where he was. These instances preyed on his mind."

Franklin Rudolph, vice president of the American Can company, a resident of Winnetka and one of Mr. Kroeschell's closest friends, also asserted despondency over ill health was the only reason to be assigned for Mr. Kroeschell's act.

Judge Hopkins Near.

Among the first to reach Mr. Kroeschell's body after the firing of the shot were Dr. Alvin W. Laforge, resident physician at the club, and Judge Jacob Hopkins.

Telephone calls went out at once to those named in the list pinned to Mr. Kroeschell's coat lapel, and the dead man's two sons-in-law, Mr. Butz and Paul C. von Ammon of Evanston, were the first to arrive. They took charge of the papers, including those attached to the second note. Both notes were withheld. Mr. Butz said the papers referred only to some business matters.

Mrs. Kroeschell and her two daughters were prostrated. Members of the family were cared for by friends in Winnetka. Because of the requests contained in the notes no time has been set for the funeral. Mr. Robert Butz said his father-in-law was opposed to funerals.

Old Board of Trade Man.

Mr. Kroeschell was born in Nashville, Tenn., on May 22, 1855. The family moved to Chicago, and he was educated in the Chicago public schools. He first entered business on the board of trade. From 1881 to 1900 he was a member of the commisison firm of Gerstenberg & Kroeschell.

In 1900, upon the death of his elder brother, Mr. Kroeschell entered the firm of Kroeschell Bros. company with his remaining brother, Charles Kroeschell. He was secretary and treasurer of the company, which manufactures boilers at 440 West Erie street, and also was secretary and director of Kroeschell Bros.' Ice Machine company. He was a member of the Chicago board of trade, the Royal Arcanum, and the Illinois Athletic club.

QUICK, WATSON, WHAT OF THIS DEEP MYSTERY?

All About Carter Harrison and Robert Redfield and Oscar Mayer and the Next Mayor.

If Mr. Sherlock Holmes' well known Dr. Watson were about one might ask him what he makes of this:

Former Mayor Carter Harrison stepped from a Madison street café and a small button, such as is used in campaigns, dropped from his pocket. It bore the legend:

Oscar F. Mayer, for mayor.

Mr. Mayer is known to be a warm personal friend of Mr. Harrison. He is in the packing business and both in political, social, and hunting life he has been a companion of the former mayor. But listen. In a moment Attorney Robert Redfield, passed along after the former mayor. A card dropped from his pocket. It read:

Oscar F. Mayer, for mayor. Oscar F. Mayer, treasurer campaign committee.

Well, Watson, what do you say?

The picture shows one of the central potato depots in the conquered section of Belgium, where under supervision of the German army the food supplies are doled out to the native population. All crops are turned over to the Teuton officials, who set the prices and apportion the supply each inhabitant can consume in a day. Usually one fair sized "spud" is allowed for a twenty-four hour supply.

ARCHBISHOP ON WITNESS STAND

Courtroom Crowded as Mundelein Testifies in Suit Against County.

Every available foot of seating and standing space in Judge Jesse A. Baldwin's courtroom was occupied yesterday when Archbishop George W. Mundelein appeared as the star witness in a lawsuit.

Even the corridors outside the room were filled. The archbishop's entrance, in company with an attorney and a few friends, caused a flurry of excitement and halted the testimony of a witness, who was temporarily excused.

The archbishop was a witness in the suit of William H. Dunn, a sewing machine manufacturer, against the county board, the county clerk, and the county treasurer. Dunn seeks an injunction to prevent the payment of money to the Chicago Industrial School for Girls, a Catholic institution, for the care of wards of the Juvenile court. His contention is that it is a violation of the constitution for the county to appropriate funds to a sectarian institution.

Proves a Good Witness.

The archbishop proved a better witness than many others heard. He talked clearly, slowly, and answered each question so that all could hear.

He was questioned by Attorney Charles S. McNett, acting for Dunn. He was asked to explain his relations to the Chicago Industrial School for Girls and the St. Mary's Training School for Boys, which occupy the same farm site a few miles north of Des Plaines.

"The title to the property," he said, "is vested in me as a corporation sole. The property is leased to the boards of directors of the institutions. They manage the institutions. I have a chaplain there to attend to the spiritual needs of the children. The chaplain represents me there, as a priest does in his parish."

Doesn't Supervise Work.

"Do you supervise the Chicago Industrial School for Girls as to discipline, educational work, or number of inmates?" asked Attorney McNett.

"No."

"Is there any other person, superior to Father James M. Doran, who does?"

"The board of trustees. They also supervise the educational work of the Sisters of Mercy at the school."

John Barton Payne, who headed a battery of six attorneys for the school and the archbishop, excused the witness without cross-examination.

Sister on Stand.

Sister Geraldine, sister superior at the school, and also manager, said she was placed in charge by the mother superior of her order and later was made manager and treasurer by the trustees. She also testified that none but Catholic children were admitted; that they were educated there as Catholics, and when sent to private homes after graduation Catholic homes were chosen.

Sister Geraldine also explained that Cook county paid for the care of children only when they actually were being cared for by the sisters. The appointment of teachers, she said, was a matter left almost wholly to the mother superior of the order.

Father Doran testified that when graduate children remained at the institution as employés they were paid for their work and the county relieved of any payment for their support. He said that the lessons given the girls included such things as cooking and plain and fancy sewing.

Washington, D. C., Nov 23.—President Wilson canceled several engagements today and spent the afternoon and evening in his bedroom because of a slight cold caught several days ago.

AUTO THIEVES AS WITNESSES

Two of Them Directly Accuse Mrs. Stiles of Heading "Trust."

Two confessed members of the "auto thieves' trust" who have turned state's evidence insisted yesterday before Judge Hugo Pam in the Criminal court that Mrs. Elvina Stiles is the queen of the gang. The witnesses were Walter Relihan and Louis M. Erb.

Relihan said that he met Mrs. Stiles in arranging for a bond for "Jimmy" Christian, who was arrested by the government in its raid on alleged blackmailers. He said he arranged with Mrs. Stiles to go on Christian's bond and that after several months' association in the bond business Mrs. Stiles became interested in the problem of disposing of stolen automobiles.

"I met Louis Erb in Mrs. Stiles' office," testified Relihan, "at her suggestion. The first question Erb asked me was, "Are you proficient in stealing automobiles?"

Relihan testified that at the time he was arrested he had disposed of four stolen cars to George W. Stewart, a real estate dealer, through Mrs. Stiles. He implicated Mrs. Stiles in nearly every deal made by the gang. He said that he and Mrs. Stiles had gone together to Stillson's café and the Casino to cash checks. One automobile, he testified, was stolen "to order" from in front of the Peoples Gas building.

Spectators were rebuked by Judge Pam for laughing at Relihan's description of a "big feed" in the state's attorney's office after he had made his confession.

FREE LUNCH TO BE SERVED BY CHURCH IN DRY TOWN.

Waukegan Preacher, U. of C. Man, Hopes to Attract Strangers to Sunday Evening Services.

Rev. W. E. Collins

Saloons went out of Waukegan last May, and with them perished the free lunch. Then along came the Rev. W. E. Collins, a University of Chicago student, who urged his parishioners not to be satisfied with eliminating saloons, but to put in their stead something of constructive nature.

So he planned the free lunch service with his sermons.

It will be served for the first time on Sunday night, when, after the service, the entire congregation will adjourn to the church parlors to spend an hour polishing elbows on tables while sipping coffee and nibbling sandwiches.

The Rev. Mr. Collins states that his real purpose is to attract strangers who have no place to go on Sunday nights and who might relish a social hour, while not especially keen for divine service.

BELGIAN ASKS POPE AND SPAIN TO SAVE NATION

Foreign Minister Says Situation Is Frightful—350,000 Already Deported?

HAVRE, Nov. 23.—The following telegram has been sent by the Belgian minister of foreign affairs to the Belgian ministers at Rome and Madrid, to be communicated to Pope Benedict and King Alfonso:

"The situation in Belgium is becoming day by day more frightful. The raids on valid Belgians now extend throughout the whole country. If they are not sent to work in Germany in munitions factories they are sent to the occupied parts of France to work on systems of trenches and the strategic railways of Lille, Aulnay, and Givet. The Germans boast of having already deported 350,000 men.

"Requisitions of materials continue, with the object of hindering after peace a resumption of work, to suppress competition, and ruin the country. Machines which could be used have been carried off or sold as old iron.

Suffer Tortures of Slavery.

"The governor general pretends in declarations that deportations in mass pass without incident and even that the Belgians go joyfully. In reality they suffer at the same time moral torture and the physical pains of slavery.

"The German government tries to excuse itself by the necessity of combating the unemployment which they themselves created by forbidding the communes to employ unemployed without their authorization and by preventing them, as in Luxemburg, from being used for public works or in exploiting the coal fields of Limburg.

"Belgium is delivered over to the violence of the military authorities while the civil authorities approve and stand aside.

Would Leave Belgium Stripped.

"Insist strongly that the government to which you are accredited invite the German government to reflect on the consequences of the treason to humanity committed in its name.

"Germany, before she is forced to abandon our country, wants to leave it in the condition of a corpse, but while thus engaged in torturing it she is putting herself under the ban of nations and instead of imposing peace on her adversaries by terror she is only raising the civilized world against her.

"BEYFNA."

Blow to Relief Work?

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Asked in the house of commons today if, in view of the deportations of Belgians, the allies would reconsider their policy of allowing supplies to go into the territory in possession of the Germans, Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, said there was no doubt that the action of the German government constituted a "deep and conscious blow to the agreement upon which the relief work rests."

No Deportations Yet?

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 23.—A letter to Les Nouvelles of Maestricht, Holland, from Belgium, says that thus far the German authorities have removed no Belgian workmen to Germany from the regions of Brussels and Liege, but that it is expected deportations will take place this week. It is said also that the Germans are removing machinery from factories and shipping it to Germany.

RUSS WARSHIP AND 200 LOST

Imperatritsa Maria, Dreadnaught, Sunk by Explosion in Black Sea.

DIE FROM INJURIES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 23.—Russia officially announces the loss of the dreadnaught Imperatritsa Maria. The statement issued tonight reads:

"The Russian dreadnaught Imperatritsa Maria has been sunk by an internal explosion. Two hundred of the crew are missing."

Early in November a report was in circulation that the Imperatritsa Maria had gone to the bottom and that nearly all of its crew had perished. Later, on Nov. 11, Berlin reported by wireless that a Bulgarian headquarters' dispatch announced that a fireman of the battleship had reached the Bulgarian coast and confirmed the destruction of the dreadnaught, which, it was stated, had been sunk by a mine near Sulina, or Feodossia Island, at the mouth of the Danube.

The Imperatritsa Maria was launched in 1914 and displaced 22,500 tons.

Report of Disaster Received.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Russian naval staff, says a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, has issued the following statement:

"At 6 o'clock on Oct. 20 fire broke out in the forward magazine of the Imperatritsa Maria. An internal explosion followed immediately and the fire spread rapidly and reached the petrol tanks. The officers and crew strove with the utmost bravery to localize the effects of the explosion and flood the magazines.

"Shortly after 7 o'clock, however, the vessel sank. The greater part of the crew were saved. An officer and two first class substitute officers and 149 sailors are missing. Sixty-four of the crew have since died from the effects of their burns.

"The position of the ship, which lies in shallow water, gives hope that it may be refloated and completely repaired in a few months. The bridge is only one yard below water level."

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

DEATH MASK OF LATE AUSTRIAN EMPEROR TAKEN

Francis Joseph Will Be Laid to Rest in Mausoleum in Capuchin Monastery.

VIENNA, Wednesday, Nov. 22, via London, Nov. 23.—A death mask of the late Emperor Francis Joseph was taken today as a preliminary to the embalming of the body and its removal to the Hofburg, where it will lie in state. The heart will be sealed in a silver cup, while the intestines, lungs, and stomach will be placed in a copper urn.

The body must be transferred from the Schoenbrunn palace to the Hofburg in the dead of night, drawn by six black horses. The cortège will be accompanied by torchbearers, and the outriders also will carry torches. After them will come a squadron of cavalry and a part of the mounted guard. The hearse will be preceded by the court couriers, the lord steward, and the court chamberlains in carriages drawn each by six horses. After the hearse will come a carriage containing the heart in its silver cup, followed by officers of the bodyguard, palace officials, and soldiers.

Body to Lie in State.

The cortège will move through several of the principal thoroughfares of Vienna and be met by Emperor Charles and the archdukes at the Black Eagle stairs, whence they will accompany the body into the chapel of the Hofburg, where it will lie in state and be viewed by the public.

Francis Joseph will be laid to rest in the imperial vaults in the Capuchin church, where are the tombs of his predecessors. On the day of the funeral the monarchy will go into mourning for a period of six months, divided into three equal portions of the deepest mourning, deep mourning, and light mourning. An order by the emperor, not as yet promulgated, will fix the duration of the court mourning and also the period during which the theaters and other places of amusement shall remain closed.

Places Flowers on Bier.

Today the emperor's body lies on the iron bedstead on which he slept for the last two years. The body is covered up to the chest, and upon the coverlet lies a great garland of flowers, placed there by the emperor's daughter, Archduchess Marie Valerie.

The emperor's last will and testament, opened today, was made several years ago. It disposes of the emperor's private means and contains many large bequests.

Count Stephan Tisza, the Hungarian premier, accompanied by his wife, arrived this morning from Budapest. With him was Baron Erwin Roszener, Hungarian minister at the Vienna court.

Berlin Press in Mourning.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 23.—All the Berlin newspapers appear with mourning borders today in respect to the memory of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, and print eulogistic articles on the late monarch. The Tageblatt says:

"His life task was done when it was ordained that to him, who had seen generations of statesmen and princes pass away, should be given the most grievous fate to bear. The test of his life has been furnished by the world war, in which all have been combined that have been for decades watching their prey, openly and secretly, from beyond Austria's border. The test was passed brilliantly. The social fabric of this heterogeneous empire evinced a strength and toughness which amazed even the best judges."

The dead emperor is praised as a pacifist by the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine, which comments:

"From the bottom of our hearts we share the sorrow into which all the homes of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy are plunged. Francis Joseph was a firm protector of the alliance with Germany and of a pacific policy, which he, in concert with the leaders of the German empire, was able to maintain for many decades to the blessing of Europe."

New Emperor's Proclamation.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Emperor Charles of Austria has issued a proclamation to the Austro-Hungarians declaring his inflexible decision to maintain the war until there comes "a peace assuring the existence and development of the monarchy," according to a Vienna dispatch to Reuters by way of Amsterdam. After paying homage to the late emperor, the proclamation said:

"I will continue to complete his work. I ascend his throne in a stormy time. Our aim has not yet been accomplished, and the illusion of the enemy to throw down my monarchy and our allies is not yet broken. You know me to be in harmony with my peoples in my inflexible decision to continue the struggle until a peace assuring the existence and development of the monarchy is obtained. I will do all in my power to banish as soon as possible the horrors and sacrifices of war and to reobtain peace as soon as the honor of our arms, the conditions of life of my countries and their allies, and the defiance of our enemies will allow."

GERMAN WAR OCCUPATIONS MAY CALL OUT ALL MALES.

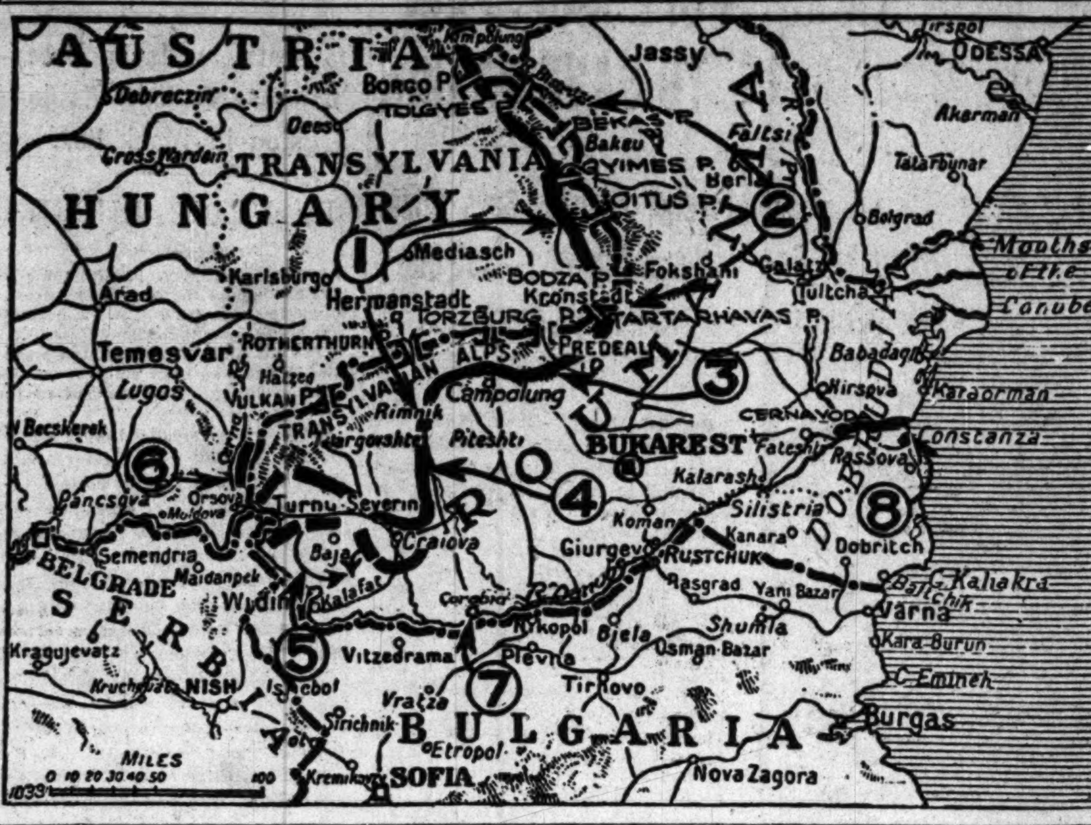
Vice Chancellor and Reichstag Leaders Discuss Bill Affecting Men Between 17 and 60 Years.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The home army bill, enrolling every German male from 17 years of age to 60 not serving with the colors, in the army of war workers, and in occupations necessary to the continuance of the war, which will be laid before the reichstag on Monday or Tuesday, was the subject of deliberations yesterday between the vice chancellor, Dr. Helfferich, and the reichstag leaders.

The subject will be placed before the ways and means committee of parliament immediately in an endeavor to secure a speedy and untroubled passage of the bill, in order to put the new civil labor service into effect at once.

Various objections to the measure have been raised in the press, and the preliminary negotiations are apparently concerned with providing necessary guarantees for a proper share of the great powers conferred on the new war office.

THE BATTLE FRONTS IN ROUMANIA



1—Berlin reports Russian reinforcements have arrived on the Transylvanian front.

2—Bucharest reports there were no changes on Moldavian frontier and in the Buzeu valley.

3—Minor infantry actions took place at Bractocee and Pridelus and in Prahova valley. Bucharest reports artillery bombardments and light infantry actions.

4—Bucharest reports Roumanians have maintained their positions in the Alt river valley.

6—Vienna reports Austro-Hungarians have crossed to east bank of Cerna river,

7—Sofia reports Roumanians have dynamited bridge over Danube at Corabia.

8—Von Mackensen reports only artillery firing on Danube front.

ATTEMPT TO OUST ASQUITH DISCUSSED IN LONDON.

Belief Is Expressed That Opposition to Premier Will Not Be Found Sufficiently Strong.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Apparently an attempt is about to be made to shelve Premier Asquith and to give his place to Lloyd-George. All signs point that way, but it is impossible to estimate the changes which may take place in the opposition to the prime minister, who has been forced to face the same situation several times since the coalition ministry went into effect. The conservative Morning Post refers to Lloyd-George as "the power that makes for victory."

In both factions—that opposed to Mr. Asquith and that which loyally supports him—are men who are agreed over the vital issues. The Irish Nationalists, for instance, unite with the Liberals on one proposition and with the Unionists on another.

Unless the anti-Asquith faction can muster more recruits it seems unlikely that the premier will be unseated. Asquith's wonderful parliamentary ability, his cleverness in debate, and his high position give him a big margin, no matter who heads the opposition. Lloyd-George has many enemies among men who were once his supporters.

OFFICIAL REPORTS ON RESULTS OF EUROPEAN BATTLES

ROUMANIAN FRONT

AUSTRIAN

VIENNA, via London, Nov. 23.—The following official communication was issued today:

Front of Archduke Joseph—On the lower Cerna we set foot on the left bank of the stream. Otherwise there is nothing new in Wallachia.

GERMAN

BERLIN, Nov. 23 (by wireless to Sayville).—Concerning today's operations on the Transylvanian front the war office reports:

Front of Archduke Joseph—On the eastern border of Transylvania engagements have occurred between reconnoitering detachments. The Russians have been reinforced there.

The situation in Wallachia is unchanged. In Craiova, in addition to other booty, 300 railway cars fell into our hands.

Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen—In Dobrudja and on the Danube there was artillery firing at several points.

ROUMANIA

BUCHAREST, Nov. 23.—The text of today's official statement reads:

Northern and northwestern fronts—On the western Moldavian frontier and to the Buzeu valley there have been no changes. At Bratocea and Predelus there were minor infantry actions. In the valley of Prahova there were artillery bombardments and light infantry actions.

In the region of Dragoslavele we fortified ourselves in captured positions.

In the valley of the Alt there were infantry actions in the center and artillery bombardments on our left wing. Our troops maintained their positions.

In Oldrie our troops were withdrawn from the valley of the Jiul and now occupy their old positions.

On the Cerna the enemy attacks were violent.

Southern front—On the Danube there was an exchange of infantry fire and an artillery bombardment especially in the sector between Zimnitza and Oltenitza.

In Dobrudja there were weak artillery bombardments. On the left wing the villages of Tasaul and Tatarpalas were occupied.

BULGARIAN

SOFIA, Nov. 23.—Today's official statement says of operations on the Roumanian front:

Artillery and infantry firing occurred at some places along the Danube. The Roumanians sank their barges on the Danube and destroyed the bridge near Corabia [50 miles southeast of Craiova], where they set fire to stores of ammunition.

In Dobrudja listless artillery fighting occurred, with some engagements among advance guards on our right wing. The situation on the Black sea is unchanged.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

BULGARIAN.

SOFIA, Nov. 23.—Today's official Bulgarian statement on the Macedonian front action follows:

Between Lake Ochrida and Lake Presba there were engagements with advanced guards of the enemy's infantry pushing forward north of Monastir, which were repulsed. In the Cerna bend all the desperate attacks of the enemy on hill 1050, east of Paralovo, were broken by the determined resistance of the German chausseur guard.

South of Monastir an enemy airplane was brought down in flames behind the enemy's lines.

On both sides of the Vardar, at the foot of the Belaschitza mountains, and on the Struma front there was weak artillery firing. Along the Aegean there was a lull.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—[By wireless to Sayville.]—Today's war office announcement on the Macedonian operations reads:

Macedonian front — Engagements east of Lake Ochrida were ended by the retreat of the enemy.

Between Presba lake and the eastern Cerna there were local advances. Strong attacks by the enemy on height positions east of Paralove were repulsed.

FRENCH

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The French war office statement concerning the Macedonian operations says:

Army of the east—The struggle continues under very difficult conditions. North of Monastir the enemy, who is resisting with stubbornness, received reinforcements and attempted violent counter attacks, which failed. The French troops, in the course of a brilliant assault, captured the village of Dobromir, while the Serbs took possession on our right of the village of Paralovo. Three hundred prisoners, Germans and Bulgarians, remained in our hands as a result of these actions.

West of Monastir the Italian troops made new progress. On the western shore of Lake Presba we have advanced to the outskirts of Hotesovo.

Our aeroplanes bombarded enemy encampments in the region of Topolchani and Prilep. In the course of an aerial flight one of our aeroplanes brought down two enemy machines in the Drama sector.

ITALIAN

ROME, via London, Nov. 23.—The war office communication issued today says:

In Macedonia the Italian troops on Monday were engaged in the mountain region west of Monastir and repulsed a violent attack from Mount Muva. Then, pressing their advance in a northerly direction, they captured heights southwest of Bradinol [Bratindol?] northwest of Monastir Wednesday.

SERBIAN

SALONIKI, via London, Nov. 23.—The Serbian official communication issued today says:

There was violent fighting yesterday over the whole front against the German forces. Nevertheless, the Serbians advanced in places toward the north and repulsed hostile counter attacks.

The area of Serbia now liberated amounts to 1,200 kilometers.

FRENCH FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The official report on the operations on the west front says:

On both banks of the Somme there was a strong artillery action, especially north of the Ancre and Saint Pierre Vaast wood.

Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht—The hostile artillery fire increased last evening on both sides of the Ancre and in the Sailly sector.

Local attack by the British north of Gueudecourt and by the French upon the northern edge of St. Pierre Vaast wood failed.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Tonight's official communication on the progress of hostilities on the French front is as follows:

There was intermittent artillery fighting along the whole front.

Belgian communication: An artillery duel took place in the region of Ramscapelle and Mannekensvere, while there was bomb fighting near Het-Sas.

BRITISH

LONDON, Nov. 23.—An announcement tonight from British headquarters in France reads:

The hostile artillery was active today against our front at Beaucourt and Serre and also in the Ypres area and south of Monchy. We bombarded the enemy lines in the neighborhood of Messines, Armentieres, and Loos.

Yesterday the enemy showed considerable enterprise in the air and crossed our lines. Three of his airplanes fell into our hands, a fourth was driven down on his own side of the line. One of our machines is missing.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN

ROME, via London, Nov. 23.—The following official communication was issued today dealing with the operations in the Austro-Italian theater:

There is nothing of importance to report from the front except artillery activity. This has been hindered by bad weather.

In the Gorizia area the enemy artillery opened fire on a field hospital in spite of the fact that the Red Cross flag over it was visible. Seven of the patients were killed and eleven wounded.

RUSSIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN

PETROGRAD, via London, Nov. 23.—Today's announcement from the war office concerning the western front says:

Western front [Russia and Galicia]—Firing is proceeding along the front. In the regions of Great and Little Porsk and on the Narayuvka, in the region of Svistelniki, and also in the region of Sezupol, the artillery firing was above the average intensity.

GERMAN

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—[By Wireless to Sayville.]—The German official statement concerning the operations on the Russian front says:

Eastern front—Front of Prince Leopold: Russian patrols advancing south of Smorgon, after strong preparatory fire, were repulsed.

The weather is improving and artillery activity between the Baltic and the wooded Carpathians is livelier.

BEEF BY GERMAN STEAMERS?

Housewives' Welfare Association Proposes Leasing Kaiser's Boats in North River.

New York, Nov. 23.—[Special.]—That the twenty-five German steamers lying in the North river be leased by the state or nation to carry beef from South America and fruit from the Pacific coast was the solution of the raised price problem today offered by the Housewives' Welfare association.

Studebaker One-Ton Open Express, $1200

Rapid transportation facilities from freight depots and wharves to store or warehouse headquarters, present a big problem to many merchants.

Quick deliveries of heavy materials that may be bulky or too large to carry economically over routes ordinarily taken care of by cars of smaller capacity, may be handled with speed and economy by this Studebaker One-Ton Express.

This Studebaker is particularly adaptable for quick, heavy-duty transportation service. The body is well ironed and has the strength of bodies used on cars of twice the carrying capacity. The khaki folding top is perpendicular with the seat back, permitting large boxes or pianos to be placed far enough forward to utilize every inch of body length.

U-BOAT ACTIONS MAY CAUSE MORE TROUBLE TO U. S.

Ten Inquiries from America Are Filed—Four German Replies Convincing.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—[By wireless to Sayville, Nov. 23.—A period of complications may again be impending in German-American relations. Germany's conduct of submarine warfare has brought forth an abundant crop of American inquiries, of which Joseph C. Grew, the American chargé, recently has filed no less than ten—five of them today.

Six remain to be answered, including the cases of the Marino, on which a number of Americans appear to have been killed, and the liner Arabia, the sinking of which, the American government declares, appears to be inconsistent with the promises of the German government regarding the treatment of passenger liners.

Claim Arabia Was Armed.

The United States bases its attitude in the case of the Arabia on the assumption that it was unarmed and torpedoed without warning and is unable to see that there was adequate justification for forcing the passengers into the boats. Washington believes the submarine commander, on ascertaining that there were women and children on the decks, should have refrained from making an attack.

Germany in the four cases in regard to which replies already have been made was found to have fairly convincing answers, which, it is believed, may put a different aspect on affairs. It is pointed out here, for example, that, according to testimony of its own passengers, the Arabia was armed and used a cannon; that the sea was smooth, and that other vessels were near. It is argued that the Arabia, having on board a large number of coolie war workers, should be regarded as a transport.

U. S. Adopts Policy of Silence.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Increasing frequency of attacks by German submarines upon American vessels or others bearing American citizens, with the consequent necessity of repeated inquiry at Berlin for facts, has led to the adoption of a policy of silence on the part of the state department.

Officials let it be known today that such a course was considered necessary because most of the cases investigated developed no violation of international law and premature discussion was likely to stir up useless excitement in the United States.

The wording of the Berlin dispatch that "A period of complications may be impending in German-American relations" aroused much interest in official circles, especially as the dispatch was allowed to pass a strict censorship.

FOUR MORE STEAMERS SUNK LONDON AGENCIES HEAR

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The British ship [illegible] is reported sunk, says an announcement by Lloyds' shipping agency today. The sinking of the Norwegian steamer City of Mexico also is announced by the agency, which says the British steamer Brierton is also reported to have been sunk. The Brierton was a vessel of 3,225 tons and was last reported as having arrived at Suez on a voyage from Karachi, India, to the British isles.

The Dutch steamer Helina, from Rotterdam for New York in ballast, has been sunk by mines in the North sea, according to a dispatch from Hull today to the Central News.

HAWAIIAN QUEEN IS BETTER.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 23.—Ex-Queen Liliuokalani, recently ill, is much improved, according to passengers arriving here today from Honolulu. She now takes daily drives and receives guests.

PICTUREMEN TAKING OBSERVATIONS IN THE SERBIAN AREA

A NEW series of moving pictures of the warfare in Europe will be seen next week, beginning Monday at 1 p. m., in the Playhouse, Fine Arts building.

The pictures were taken by Capt. F. E. Kleinschmidt during almost two years spent with the Austrian army. They were taken during the fighting along the Serbian, Italian, and Russian fronts and from points of vantage that often brought the photographer under actual fire.

Some of the pictures were taken from the trenches, others from a captive balloon, and yet others from aeroplanes sailing over the enemy's positions. In one of these latter the shrapnel is seen bursting all around the aeroplane from which the photographs were taken.

The pictures are to be given under the auspices of the German and Austro-Hungarian Relief Association of Chicago and for the benefit of the funds of the association.

BRITANNIC SUNK BY MINE, BRITISH ADMIRALTY SAYS.

Official Report States That All Officers Escaped—Latest Estimate of Dead Is Twenty-four.

New York, Nov. 23.—The offices of the White Star line have been advised by the British admiralty that the liner Britannic was sunk by a mine.

The officials stated today that the following message had been received from the head office in London:

"Regret exceedingly to inform you Britannic sunk by mine Ægean sea. Loss of life not exceeding fifty."

A later message stated that the captain, all the officers, and the engineers were safe, but that there were twenty-four dead.

NO WOUNDED ON BOARD.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Press dispatches from Athens saying there were no wounded on board the hospital ship Britannic when it was sunk off the Greek coast were confirmed today by the British admiralty.

BRINGS DOWN 22D AIRPLANE.

Sublieut. Guynemer of France Achieves Another Victory Over German Rival.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Sublieut. George Guynemer, the well known French aviator, has brought down his twenty-second German airplane, according to an announcement made by the French war office this afternoon. Guynemer secured his last victory over a German airman only five days ago. British airplanes have thrown down bombs upon German torpedo boats tied up to the dock at Zeebrugge.

SILESIAN POLES PROTEST

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Poles of Austrian Silesia have declared against a grant of autonomy to Galicia, according to a Vienna dispatch to Reuter's by way of Amsterdam. The dispatch says that the Silesian Poles have issued a manifesto declaring that an autonomous Galicia would be a heavy blow to their own national development. They declare that they will only agree to the reorganization if they also receive guarantees of their rights both nationally and economically.

REVOLUTION IN ABYSSINIA RETAINS CHRISTIAN FAITH.

Young Emperor, Who Sought to Make Mohammedanism National Religion, Overthrown by Mother.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Abyssinia, the oldest Christian country in the world, has put down another attempt to bring it under the sway of Mohammedanism. Details reaching here today through official sources of the revolution fought out on the African plateau show that the overthrow of the young emperor, Lidq Jeasu, by his mother, Ouizero Zeoditu, followed the emperor's conversion by his father to Moslenism and efforts to change the national religion.

Lidq, about 20 years old, succeeded his grandfather, the famous old Emperor Menelik, whose reported death was officially admitted three years ago. Ouizero Zeoditu is now on her father's throne with the title of empress of Ethiopia.

Abyssinia, isolated by deserts and mountains, is the most inaccessible of countries. Until today the United States government had heard no explanation for the revolution.

FRANCE WILL ESTABLISH MINISTRY OF PROVISIONS.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—At a meeting this morning of the cabinet presided over by President Poincaré it was decided to establish a ministry of provisions, with Joseph Thierry, undersecretary of war for the commissary department, in charge. The new department will not be attached to the war office but will have entire supervision of the provisioning of civilians as well as the army. It will be under direct orders of Premier Briand with authority in the fighting zone and in the rear.

FALL AFFECTS HER MIND.

Mrs. Gertrude Kremer Awarded $5,000 for Defective Sidewalk Injury.

Mrs. Gertrude Kremer, an inmate of Dunning, fell on a defective sidewalk last August and received an injury that caused her mind to fail. Yesterday she was awarded $5,000 damages against the city by a jury.

NEW TAXES OF $150,000,000 DECIDED UPON BY FRANCE.

War Measure Increases Assessments on Incomes, Securities, Sugar, and Many Other Articles.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—New taxes, which it is estimated will yield $150,000,000, have been decided on by the appropriation committee of the chamber of deputies. Among the measures will be an increase of the income tax from 2 to 5 per cent, the taxes on the yield of securities from 4 to 5 per cent, and on sugar from 25 to 40 francs per metric hundredweight. There also will be increases in the taxes on tobacco, wine, beef, letter postage, coffee, chocolate, tea, vanilla, mineral waters, and a great variety of other articles, and also upon horses, vehicles, billiards, and dogs.

PRELATE FAVORS U. S. DRILL.

Cardinal Gibbons Becomes Member of Advisory Committee of Training League.

Cardinal James Gibbons of Baltimore, it was announced yesterday, has agreed to identify himself actively with the Universal Military Training league. Word in confirmation of this was received by Frank G. Logan, chairman of the executive committee of the league, from Howard H. Gross, its president, who wired as follows from Washington:

"Cardinal Gibbons accepts membership on advisory committee and is very enthusiastic. He believes that all churches will help."

Aid from all church organizations is being asked by the officials of the league.

SIR GEORGE WHITE DIES.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Sir George White, who established the first manufactory of aeroplanes in England, died last night. He was a pioneer of electric street traction, being the first to introduce it in London.

GREECE REFUSES ALLIED DEMAND FOR MUNITIONS

Pleads Neutrality and Explains Further It Could Not Resist German Seizures.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Greek government has refused to comply with the demand of the entente allies for the surrender of part of its supplies of arms and ammunition, Reuter's Athens correspondent cables. The dispatch follows:

"The Greek government has refused the demands of Vice Admiral du Fournet that Greece surrender 18 field batteries, 16 batteries of mountain artillery with 1,000 shells for each, 40,000 Mannlichers with 220 cartridges each, 140 machine guns with ammunition, and fifty motor vans.

Explain German Moves.

"Referring to Admiral du Fournet's contention that the cession of war material to the Bulgarians and Germans had disturbed the equilibrium, the government replies that, although it does not desire to enter into the details of that operation, it must point out that the cabinet then in power could not approve of resistance to the central powers without abandoning neutrality, but duly protested. It also contends that the guns already taken by the entente are modern, while those taken by Bulgaria were obsolete.

"The reply concludes that the surrender of war material for financial compensation or otherwise would constitute a flagrant violation of neutrality and, moreover, that public opinion would not admit of the forces of Greece being so neutralized as to be unable to defend her vital interests if these were endangered."

Russian Envoy Fired On.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The train on which Prince Demidoff, Russian minister to Athens, was going to Saloniki was fired on by bands of reservists, according to an Athens dispatch to the Petit Parisien. On the return journey the train was derailed by a criminal band, the dispatch says, close to Litochori, but no one was hurt in either attempt.

A Havas dispatch from Athens says that the warning by Vice Admiral du Fournet to the German and other ministers of the central powers that they must quit Athens was the result of the German decision to sink all vessels transporting Greek revolutionary troops, which the entente powers regarded as a declaration of war against the Greek revolutionists.

The dispatch says the Turkish minister has asked the American minister to take charge of Turkish interests in Athens.

LONDON HOTELKEEPERS MUST CUT DOWN MENUS.

Runciman, by Threatening Government Action, Forces Cancellation of Holiday Feasts.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, addressing a meeting of leading London hotelkeepers, last night demanded an immediate curtailment of menus. He declared that there must be an immediate and drastic cutting down and a decrease in the use of imported foods.

"I have just seen," he said, "a specimen of a Christmas menu which is being circulated as an advertisement by a leading London hotel. Such an elaborate program would be wasteful even in peace time and is little short of scandalous in war time. If the trade interests will not take the necessary action the government must force them to do so."

Following the meeting the Savoy hotel announced the cancellation of its special Christmas and New Year's dinners.

MONEYS AND CREDIT FORMS CONTRABAND, BRITAIN RULES

Royal Proclamation Is Issued—U. S. Officials See Attempt to Legalize Practice of Seizure.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A royal proclamation issued today declares that henceforth gold, silver, and paper money securities, checks, drafts, letters of credit, and any negotiable instruments or documents relating to the transfer of money, credit, or securities will be treated as contraband.

Seeks to Legalize Practice.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Ever since the war began England has been seizing and confiscating moneys, drafts, and securities passing back and forth between the central powers and the United States.

The United States has insisted that England must establish the contraband character of oneys, drafts, or securities by proving them destined to the government of a belligerent, and has contended that if destined to private parties for peaceful purposes such moneys and credit instruments are not contraband.

The purpose of the British proclamation, in the opinion of administration officials, is to endeavor to make legitimate, under international law, a practice in which the London government has been indulging for several months, in defiance of the rules of warfare.

5,000 Armenians Massacred?

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A newspaper at Baku, in Transcaucasia, states that the Turks have massacred 5,000 to 6,000 Armenians at Syvas, Turkish Armenia, says Reuter's Petrograd correspondent in a dispatch today.

PREVENT SECOND BRIDGE TRAGEDY, MEMORIAL PLAN

Warner Family and Public Officials Co-operate in Making Spans Safe.

Plans were launched yesterday for a remarkable memorial to Hugo J. Warner and the three companions who were drowned with him a month ago when the Warner automobile plunged through an open draw at the Twelfth street bridge.

Prevention of like tragedies in the future is the object of those behind the memorial project. The sponsors include a coroner's jury in its official capacity, city and county officials, and a group of engineering experts—all co-operating actively with members of Mr. Warner's family.

Urge Safety Ordinance.

As a first step the coroner's jury, in returning its verdict, approved the recommendations of a special bridge safety commission whose formation was a direct result of the accident, and urged that an ordinance based on them be submitted to the city council.

The commission's report, just made public, was formulated at a meeting in Coroner Hoffman's office. Those present were I. F. Stern, chairman of the commission; Coroner Hoffman, City Engineer John E. Ericson, William Burkhardt, deputy commissioner of public works; Charles M. Hayes, president of the public safety commission; Robert I. Randolph, representing Isham Randolph; William J. Crumpton, representing W. B. Jackson, and L. E. Ritter.

Here Are Recommendations.

Briefly summarized, the commission's recommendations are:

Installation at every bridge approach of four powerful electric lights provided with reflectors to throw beams on the break in the roadway.

Light signal gates twenty-five feet from each bridge abutment; heavy barriers five feet in front of each signal gate to stop automobile traffic in emergencies.

Electric "stop" signals, similar to those now in use, at every approach.

Bells and gongs at every bridge with tone strong enough to be heard 100 feet away above the din of traffic; bells to be operated by hand and gongs by electricity.

Safeguarding apparatus to be interlocked so that bridge cannot be opened until gates are in position.

Derails on all street car tracks 100 feet from break in roadway.

Stationing of policemen, day and night, at both approaches to Rush, Wells, Madison, Adams, Clark, Twelfth, Halsted, and One Hundred and Sixth street bridges, Fullerton, Diversey, Torrence, and Ashland avenue (west fork) bridges, and Lake street bascule bridge; policemen at approaches to free ends of single leaf bascule bridges at Kinzie street, Thirty-fifth street, and Archer avenue.

Fine of $5 to $100, or imprisonment, or both, for driving on bridges after signals for opening are set.

Coroner's Jury Reports.

Of the Warner tragedy on Oct. 23 the coroner's jury reports:

"We are of the opinion that at the time of the accident the gong and red light at the west approach were not in working order and that the light was not displayed or the gong sounded.

"We believe the accident was due to that fact, and that had the Twelfth street bridge been equipped with barrier gates and lights as suggested the accident would not have happened."

Thomas G. Pihlfeldt, city engineer of bridges, agreed in part with the report of the commission.

"I would not be surprised if it is true that a fruit store boy sometimes draws the chain at the Adams street bridge," he said. "That is the affair of the police department, however. We have asked for adequate police protection at all the city bridges.

"It may be true, too, that there is not sufficient light at the Jackson boulevard bridge. We had four cluster lights there and the govrenment made us turn out two of the lights and put shades on the other two, so that no light wuold be thrown on the river."

SHE WANTS HER BOY BACK.

Mrs. Hilda Nelson of 4122 Berkeley avenue wants her "boy" back from the border, where he is with the Seventh Illinois. She says he is needed. So she put this appeal in the personal columns of the newspapers Wednesday:

WANTED—EVERY WIFE AND MOTHER of the 7th Illinois infantry to join me in a personal appeal for the return of our men from the border. We have done our share and need our men. MRS. H. NELSON, 4122 Berkeley-av.

Her "boy" is Nels C. Nelson.

DAUGHTER SANE, SCULLY HOLDS IN TORREY CASE

Young Woman Charges Mother Drank and Hounded Her from Home.

Mrs. Gertrude W. Torrey of 5323 Hyde Park boulevard failed yesterday in her attempt to have Yvonne, her 22 year old daughter, sent to an insane asylum.

Yvonne, in heavy furs and a gown cut low at the throat, appeared nervous but determined as she faced her mother and older sister, Evelyn, in Judge Scully's court for the insane.

"She—she drinks," the girl told the court. "I couldn't live at home because mother wouldn't let me rest. She hounded me continually. She would not even let me sleep. I was forced to leave home six times because of her treatment.

"I never had trouble with any one except my mother. My father was good to us. When she divorced him last July he just didn't contest the suit."

"Do you believe that your mother was under the influence you speak of when she made these charges against you?" asked Judge Scully.

"Absolutely so. All I ask is that my mother let me alone."

Dr. William O. Krohn and Dr. William G. Stearns testified that they had examined Miss Torrey and were convinced she is mentally sound. Judge Scully then ordered her discharge.

Mrs. Torrey formerly was the wife of Clarence A. Torrey, a member of the Illinois Athletic club. Her troubles with her daughter came to a head a few days ago when the latter filed a replevin suit to recover clothing which she said her mother refused to give her.

"I believe my daughter is out of her mind," Mrs. Torrey told Judge Scully. "She has been running up bills in department stores and tearing up and giving away clothing. She has assaulted me and her sister, Frances, and on six occasions she ran away from home.

"Once, in the dining room of the Hyde Park hotel, I asked her a simple question and she flew into a rage and struck me in the presence of many guests. I believe my former husband is responsible for some of her actions."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

$300,000 ADDED TO FUND FOR BIG MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rawson's Gift Increases Total for University Institution to $3,500,000.

A gift of $300,000 was added to the fund for the new University of Chicago medical school by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Rawson. Mr. Rawson is president of the Union Trust company. President Harry Pratt Judson of the university made the announcement of the gift yesterday.

Mr. Rawson specified that his gift should be used in the new buildings for the graduate school at Rush Medical college on the west side.

President Judson said plans for the new institution will not be announced until the campaign to complete the remainder of the fund is well under way. The gifts now include $1,000,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation and the same amount from the general education board, $700,000 raised by Dr. Frank Billings, $500,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, and the Rawson gift making a total of $3,500,000.

TAX AMENDMENT FATE HANGS ON CHICAGO VOTE.

Constitutional Change Apparently Fails to Receive Majority of Male Vote in Downstate Counties.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 23.—The Illinois canvassing board is in doubt concerning the fate of the tax amendment to the constitution submitted at the last election. Until it gets returns from Cook and several other counties it will not venture an opinion as to whether the amendment has been adopted.

"Several of the counties failed to return the total male vote cast at the election," said Anda Burwell of the secretary of state's office, "and for this reason their reports were sent back to. amendment. Until all of these are heard from and we get in the report from Cook county it is impossible to say what has happened to the amendment. The indications are that it is beaten in the downstate counties, but it may be saved by its majority in Cook."

The unofficial Cook county returns show less than half the men voted in favor of the amendment.

SUBWAY DRAFT MAY BE READY BY NEXT WEEK

Parsons, Ridgeway, and Arnold All to Be in City Prepared to Finish Report.

There is a possibility that the $250,000 report of the Chicago traction and subway commission will be completed and made public next week.

William Barclay Parsons and Robert Ridgeway, the two eastern members of the commission, will return to Chicago Monday morning. Chairman Parsons telegraphed Ald. Henry D. Capitan, chairman of the council committee on local transportation, yesterday to that effect. Ald. Capitain previously had wired him that it was "very desirable" that all of the members of the commission be in Chicago on Monday.

Real Action in Sight.

Dec. 1 is the date now set in the ordinance creating the commission as the time limit for the completion of its report, but for some time there has been in the air a belief that the work could not be completed until Dec. 10 or Dec. 15. It had been expected that at the council meeting on Monday an extension of time would be asked.

The likelihood of such a request was reduced materially when Ald. Capitain received his telegram.

"This means," he said, "that the entire commission will be on hand Monday to consider the final chapter of their report. I have every reason to believe Mr. Parsons and Mr. Ridgeway will remain in the city until their big task is completed. And I see cause for hope that the report will be ready within the time authorized by the city council. That time expires Friday."

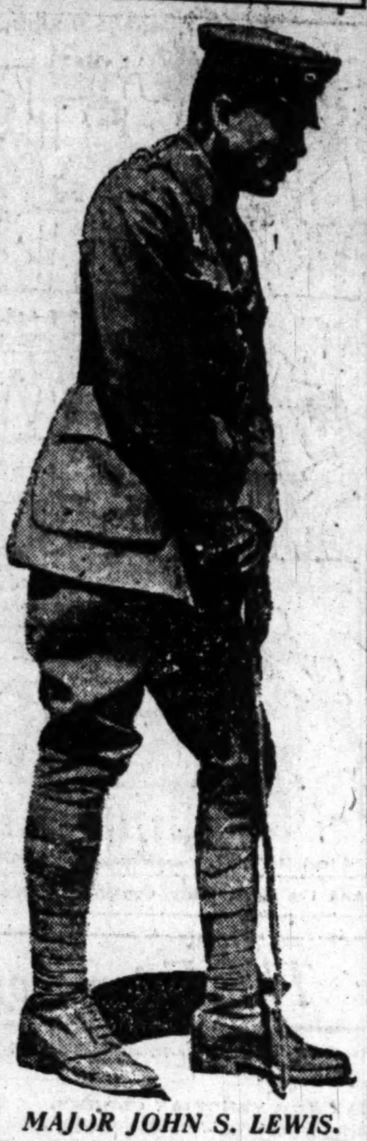
Arnold Ready for Finale.

Bion J. Arnold, the Chicago member of the commission, said he was ready to meet with his associates for their final deliberations.

"There are some phases of the report that remain to be discussed," he said, "but I shall be ready by Monday to go into those with a view to their final disposition."

It transpired during the day that the report is in such shape that the writing of the final draft will take only a short time. That will involve merely changes and additions to a draft already in existence, which is the fifth one considered by the commission.

FORMER CHICAGOAN DIES IN SOMME BATTLE



MAJOR JOHN S. LEWIS.

Word has been received that "Jack" Lewis, former Chicago newspaper man, was killed in action during the recent fighting on the Somme front along the Ancre. He was editor of the Montreal Star at the outbreak of the war and went to France as captain of the Eighty-seventh battalion, Grenadier guards. He was a reporter on the Inter Ocean in the '90s after his graduation from the University of Chicago, going from here to Montreal about twenty years ago.

Loan Company After Militiaman.

A judgment of $19 and costs was yesterday granted the Liberty Finance company against Thomas P. Dunne by Judge Leo J. Doyle. Dunne, a street car conductor, who recently returned from the border with the Second Illinois infantry, says the amount grew from a salary loan of $5, made him before he left for the border on June 19.

SIXTY CENT GAS IS A PROSPECT HELD OUT TO CITY

Peoples Company Confers with Aldermen on Change of Process.

The city of Chicago can "confidently look forward" to a gas rate of 50 to 60 cents, provided the gas company is permitted to manufacture coal gas without any candle power requirement instead of the water gas now produced.

This promise, with certain qualifications, yesterday was made to the council committee on gas, oil, and electric light by engineers for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company.

The upshot of the discussion was the adoption of a motion, proposed by Ald. C. E. Merriam, directing Edward W. Bemis, the city's gas expert, and Donald R. Richberg, counsel for the committee, to prepare a gas rate schedule for the next five years on the basis of the proposed change in the system of manufacture.

Report by Dec. 1.

Mr. Bemis said he could prepare a preliminary report for the next meeting of the committee, Dec. 1, and would submit a complete report within a month.

C. T. Chenery of the engineering firm of Sanderson & Porter, which is representing the gas company, painted the rosy picture of future cheap gas in order to persuade the committee to take early action authorizing the company to build a new coal gas plant.

"Even if you win every contention in the present gas litigation the only result will be to establish a rate of 68 cents," he said, "whereas if you accept our proposal the city can confidently look forward to a rate of 50 to 60 cents."

Consumers Save $2,000,000.

"If you allow us to change our method of manufacture," supplemented C. F. Elmes of the same engineering firm, "the company will have $1,000,000 and the consumers $2,000,000."

Questions propounded by members of the committee brought out the fact that both statements were based on various assumptions.

"We're gambling on world markets," observed Mr. Chenery.

"No, you're not, you're playing a cinch game," retorted Ald. E. H. Block. "We're doing the gambling."

Adhere to Sliding Scale.

William G. Woolfolk, Chicago manager of Sanderson & Porter, made it clear that for the present the company will stand pat on the proposed sliding scale of 75 to 35 cents.

"We are pointing out to you the possibilities of the future—say four or five years from now—after the company's system of production is changed to a coal gas basis," he said. "It has figured that under the new system it would cost us 25 cents less a 1,000 feet to manufacture the gas and the consumer would get the benefit."

Ald. Merriam asked the source of the estimate of decreased cost and it developed that Mr. Bemis obtained it from an engineer who had cited E. G. Cowdery, president of the gas company, as his authority.

Mr. Woolfolk criticized Mr. Bemis' statement that the new gas would have a heating value 15 per cent less than the present product.

"We believe we can show that the heating value will be only 10 per cent less," he declared, "while the lighting value will be practically the same if mantles are used."

To show that 60 cent gas is not impracticable Mr. Bemis cited Cincinnati, where coal gas is sold for 55 cents.

POLICEMAN KENNY IS DEAD.

Motorcycle Man Was Run Over by Auto Truck on November 11.

Motorcycle Policeman John Kenny of 4054 Colorado avenue, who was hurt on Nov. 11, when his motorcycle was struck by an auto truck, died yesterday at the Washington Park hospital.

DRAINAGE BOARD TAKES STEPS TO HALT CRITICISM

Votes to Hire Expert to Make Survey of Employes—Adopts "Activated Sludge" Plan.

Steps were taken by the sanitary district trustees yesterday to forestall any criticism of the district management with respect to patronage by Charles H. Sergel, the incoming president.

By a vote of 7 to 0, President Smyth passing and Trustee Reading being absent, the board approved an order from Chairman James M. Dailey for the immediate employment of Gardner S. Williams of Michigan university to make a survey of the electrical bureau of the district.

The board also went on record as favoring the activated sludge system of treating Chicago sewage.

In supporting the Dailey resolution Trustees Clark and Paullin made heated speeches.

Glad to Have Survey Made.

Mr. Clark said he was pleased to vote for the order for Mr. Williams, reputed one of the greatest experts in his line in the world, to come to Chicago and make a detailed survey of every employé in the electrical department.

Trustee Paullin also spoke with some feeling. He declared those who have seen fit to question the singleness of purpose and service for the people that has actuated the present board have been "maliciously lying" about the district.

President Smyth, by passing his vote, reserves the right to veto the order calling Mr. Williams to make the survey, but it must be vetoed, if at all, next week. Trustee Clark left last night for a two weeks' vacation, leaving six trustees still on the job favorable to the order, which is just the number required to pass it over a veto. President-elect Sergel does not take his place until Dec. 4, so the insurgents have the situation "sewed up," as they put it.

First Radical Blow at Dilution.

In going on record finally for the activated sludge system of treating Chicago's sewage that now flows into the river the trustees take the first radical departure from the purely dilution system of emptying sewage down the valley.

Trustee Thomas M. Sullivan submitted the report. By the same vote that carried the Dailey order the board ordered the chief engineer to prepare specifications and plans for carrying out the experiment.

By this new system intercepting sewers, or settling plants, will be constructed over large trunk sewer lines, and along the north branch of the river and in the Calumet district, in which the solids will be removed from the sewage before the affluent passes down the valley. The solids will be treated by the new process, which will give them a commercial value and at the same time further purify the Chicago river flow.

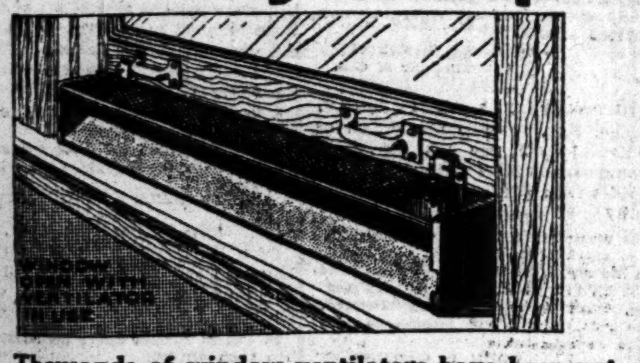
Simply Perfect—Perfectly Simple



WINDOW OPEN WITH VENTILATOR IN USE

Thousands of window ventilators have been patented; but the only one that really works, the only one that is in daily successful use from the Atlantic to the Pacific is the

BERRY WINDOW VENTILATOR

Its greatest merit is its simplicity. It admits Fresh Air constantly in any quantity desired; but it prevents drafts, and it excludes snow, rain and dirt. Yet it is so simple that any child old enough to open a window can operate it, and it is foolproof and indestructible.

PRICES HAVE BEEN REDUCED

Orr & Lockett, former exclusive agents, have gone out of business, and as a result the manufacturer is able to sell these ventilators direct to you, eliminating the middleman's profit. Thousands were sold at prices 40% higher than those now asked.

THE SUBWAY.

There need be no illusion that a subway offers a swift and complete solution for ills that vex us. We know that it tends to increase the difficulties of which it is the remedy. It gives a quick and comfortable way in which people may reach a district which already suffers from having more people in it than it can accommodate.

If the construction of a subway have as a conjoined improvement a restriction of building heights within the district which the subway feeds, two opposed facts present themselves—one a betterment of the means of reaching the desired district, the other a prohibition against being in the district.

Modern city life tends towards congested quarters. People in business and professions have adopted the herd idea for convenience. They want the smallest possible distances separating them from the people with whom they are conducting business. The telephone makes a close community, but it has its limitations. To meet a man in a discussion which requires an hour another man does not want a half hour's travel in between him and them.

If we improve methods of transportation and limit the numbers of people who may transact business in the district which has been made more accessible we have promoted a more pleasant way of leading a less active life.

If we improve methods of transportation and do not limit the number of people served by this improvement we merely maintain the congestion. As people may converge to a common center more easily and comfortably they will come in greater numbers. Therefore no remedy in conditions has been found. We merely have increased the numbers which shall suffer the old discomfort.

If we limit the height of building, thus arbitrarily cutting off the possible population of the business district at a certain figure, we have interfered with the rational growth of the city, which asks for close association.

Such are the problems which face rapid transit advocates, and they are solved by the application of one sound theory. The inclination of people to do whatever they may be impelled to do must not be checked by muddy roads. Progress cannot be made sound by impeding means of communication. A city, even as a state and nation, must clear out the obstructions in the way of intercourse.

If it is a swamp it must be drained. If it is a forest it must have a way cut through it. No problem is solved by permitting the existence of obstacles in the way of one human being reaching another human being.

Chicago must begin with the sound idea of making it possible for people to go where they want to go as quickly and as comfortably as possible. Any attempt to deny this impulse is an attempt to put artificial barriers against human intent. Such barriers may stand for a while to the great inconvenience of the people they check, but they will disappear.

The problems of congestion must be solved in a different fashion than building barricades across natural ways of travel.

A subway would be a tunnel under barriers.

MORE ABOUT THE H. C. OF L.

Health Commissioner Robertson's experiments with the high cost of living make good material for newspaper feature writers and may reduce a few grocer's bills. People are interested in living cheaply, but they are not much interested in living frugally. To know how to live on 40 cents a day is not the same as to live well on 40 cents a day. And American people like to live well.

Thus when the householder is complaining that sweetbreads are sky high a suggestion that rice is cheap seems a bit irrelevant. She is talking about sweetbreads and not about rice. When a citizen wants to know why potatoes are anywhere from 60 cents a peck up, the knowledge that German carp perhaps affords a cheap and filling meal is no consolation at all. Dr. Robertson's experiments won't make the citizen any happier than was the hungry militiaman who was constantly assured that the government ration was scientifically figured to keep body and soul together.

Americans can live frugally when they have to. But they do not want to. Eating what one likes is about the only sensual thing permitted a respectable American by public opinion. We are not far advanced in gastronomy, but we know even less of other pleasures.

PEACE TALK.

"With the entente willing to discuss peace on terms of reëstablishment of pre-war conditions," wisely prates a Vienna correspondent, "so modified as to take into account the central powers' interests that have suffered, Austria-Hungary's attitude might be expected to change."

Of course. If England and France and Russia agreed to replace the shipping lost to Germany and Austria through the war, give back her African colonies, and agree not to modify their commercial policy in any manner hurtful to the central powers, Austria for one would be willing to quit fighting.

Similarly, if Germany should offer to England, to Belgium, and to France, and to Italy, the land it has taken from them, the ships that have been sunk, pay perhaps a reasonable indemnity for the men who lost their lives and for the men diverted from productive to destructive occupations, and give some hostage against another outbreak, England and the rest would also be willing to quit. England says so herself. Just as Austria does.

The difficulty, of course, is that although both sides are a bit tired of fighting, both think of the damage the other has done and want that damage repaired. Unfortunately the ships that have been sunk are at the bottom of the sea and cannot be given back, and the men that have been killed cannot be resuscitated and put to work again in factories and fields. There is a prodigious amount of dead loss, and naturally each wants the other to pay it all.

That is about all they are fighting about now—who shall pay the bill. Once they were also fighting respectively for civilization and kultur, but there has not been so much talk about these things lately. Defending civilization is not so bad as long as you are able to see a week's meals ahead, and spreading kultur is capable of arousing enthusiasm until most of your sons are killed off. After that it is obstinacy.

The war is nearer an end, however, because they have quit talking so much about these things, and because they now admit a willingness to make terms—their own terms, of course, but still terms. Before they were for looting London and burning Berlin.

"THE PUBLIC BE DAMNED."

A generation ago Commodore Vanderbilt epitomized a great issue in the pungent phrase: "The public be damned."

Today Mr. Gompers seems to be courting a like fame. With all the ardor of his soul he is now declaring: "The public be damned."

Mr. Gompers does not repeat the famous phrase in its exact terms, because he is not a plain and simple man like the ingenuous Vanderbilt. Mr. Gompers is a public man and he has formulas to coat his doctrines and purposes so as to make them palatable. He would never damn the public in terms any more than would any other politician. He only damns it in purpose. He does not say, "The public be damned"; he says, "Law or no law."

Vanderbilt's attitude and Gompers' are the same, though sentimentalists are outraged by Vanderbilt's and applaud Gompers'. Vanderbilt thought his railroad was his business to do as he pleased with. The American people disagreed with him and began to assert their right of self-protection through the interstate commerce clause of the constitution. Mr. Gompers and his allies think the railroads are private interests which they ought to be free to exploit. They propose to obtain more money from them, "law or no law," by the use of unregulated force, just as Vanderbilt expected to be able to exploit the railway properties he had invested in for his own benefit. Vanderbilt wanted to be "let alone" in his right to do as he pleased with his own. He did not realize that primarily his railroad belonged to the public, was a servant of the public. Gompers and the brotherhood leaders want to be "let alone" to work for the railroads when and how they please; to quit when and how they please. They ignore as completely as did Vanderbilt the fact that the railways belong to the public, are the servants of the public, are agents of a great public necessity, which the public cannot and will not permit any man or body of men to control absolutely for their own ends.

Vanderbilt wanted to be free to do as he pleased with the railways. Gompers and his allies want to be free to use the mass strike, hoping it would paralyze a public necessity and bring the country to its knees.

The power Vanderbilt sought was a joke compared to the power Gompers and his allies wish to keep, and the events of the last few months have proved that the latter would be wielded as ruthlessly. Last August congress was forced by this power to pass a law without investigation or deliberation. No time was allowed for consideration of the probable effects of the law, of the rights of the various interests to be affected by it, of its public policy. If a band of armed men had entered the capitol and demanded instant action the situation would have been more melodramatic but not essentially different.

Now three months later we are in the same predicament. The national legislative body was hustled into undignified and precipitate action in August. Now in November it is the national judicial body, for we are warned by Mr. Gompers that if the courts do not hustle through to a decision the brotherhoods will see that their "eight hour day," which is not an eight hour day, but a raise of pay pure and simple, will be put in effect, "law or no law."

Now this is an ugly threat which Mr. Gompers and his allies are not at pains to disguise. It means that having hustled the national legislature into panic stricken action by threatening a paralysis of the nation's transportation, the same threat is now suspended over the Supreme court, in the insolent expectation that the orderly processes of that tribunal will be made to conform to the demand.

At the moment this exhibition of uncontrolled power is being given, the men who are guilty of it are declaring that they will not submit to its limitation. Mr. Gompers and his allies say that to put a check upon this power to paralyze a nation's functions would be to create "involuntary servitude." Therefore, a people of one hundred millions—farmers, workmen, clerks, business men and all their dependents—are to bow before the will of this powerful minority, whose power belongs to them only because they are voluntary employés of a public servant.

We do not believe the public will consent to be damned in this fashion by Mr. Gompers and his allies, any more than it consented to be damned in a far less destructive way by Vanderbilt and his kind.

Editorial of the Day

REFORM OF CHARITIES.

[From the Minneapolis Journal.]

Minnesota has set an example to older states in reform of taxation, regulation of banking, and more intelligent social service.

Voluntary business bodies have taken a large part in stimulating legislation and administration in all these directions. They have done the quieter service of guiding private charity to the organizations best fitted to make its beneficence helpful.

A striking side issue of the campaign against vice that is convulsing Philadelphia is the overhauling of the private charitable institutions by the charities bureau of the chamber of commerce. The bureau was constrained to withhold indorsement from a fourth of nearly a hundred hospitals, homes, and relief societies under investigation this year.

The bureau publishes an approved list only, and explains that the omissions are due to no worse fault than excess of political or selfish motive in societies professing to be organized for charity, or defeat of worthy intent and object by sheer ignorance and inefficiency. The bureau now has child relief societies under examination and expects results of value to the public.

Early in its organization the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association, through its committee on charities, undertook a similar overhauling of miscellaneous organizations and the indorsement, for the information of the public, of those it found in no way unworthy.

Incidentally, intelligent supervision of this sort discourages the undue multiplication of charity organizations for identical objects.

MR. MURATORE CONTINUES TO MAINTAIN HIS PRIMACY

"CAVALLERIA RUSTICANA"

Mascagni's opera, revived Nov. 23, 1916, by the Chicago Opera association, in the Auditorium, with this cast:

Santuzza	Rosa Raisa
Lola	Irene Pawloska
Turiddu	Giulio Crimi
Alfio	Giovanni Polese
Lucia	Louise Berat

Conductor, Mr. Campanini.

followed by

"I' PAGLIACCI"

Leoncavallo's opera, with this cast:

Nedda	Florence Easton
Canio	Lucien Muratore
Tonio	Giacomo Rimini
Beppo	Emilio Venturini
Silvio	Louis Kreidler

Conductor, Mr. Sturani.

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

JEAN DE RESZKE'S chief objection to retiring was that he had not had a hearing in "Pagliacci." Mr. Muratore's desire to go at least that far into the Italian repertoire was both explicable, like most whims of tenors, and human, unlike most. He entirely justified it last night, when he enkindled an enthusiasm which resulted in a furore not second to that evoked on Tuesday by Galli-Curci in "Lucia."

That the "house" was not more flourishing in its main-floor aspect is not, perhaps, competent evidence that the First Tenor's art is a bigger matter than the community's knowledge of it: Thursday has, in the six years of the Opera, been an off-night—and, in this respect, in alignment with the records of all other forms of stage-entertainment in the larger cities. The explanation favored by the entrepreneurs has something to do with household economy, the day-off of what is called the "help," the necessity of the family's remaining at home to forfend against burglarious emprises, and so on.

As a theory, it is, doubtless, not more inaccurate than most having to do with the fiscal fluctuations of what affluent actors call "show-business," meaning thereby what futile players and the Drama League inventory as dramatic art. The bill, comprehending a fraction less than sixty-seven per cent of all that survives of Young Italy in Music, exerted a stronger upstairs appeal: the galleries were filled, and the response of their delighted hundreds, worded as "Bis! Bis!" and the lustiest, most vibrant "Bravo!" ever heard in an opera-house, was generous in ignoring that Muratore is—in his artistic labeling, at least—a Frenchman.

Muratore's triumph with the audience was in the expected spot—the Lament: he invested it with a passional note which was irresistible. I suspect that no tenor, however trivial, has sung this in vain; and I know that none other has sung it as Muratore did last night—not once, but through an encore aflame with contagious emotion. A shrewd, obvious bit of theatrical music was here made into a great implement by a great singer. He was not, in Caruso's manner, importunate for the repetition: the curtain was dropped on the coda, and raised for the encore only after he had answered repeated calls.

The sheer brilliancy of Muratore is not a reason for ignoring what was, in nearly all respects, the most satisfying performance of Mr. Campanini's season thus far: this as to both "Pagliacci" and "Cavaleria." Miss Easton's Nedda, Miss Raisa's Santuzza, Rimini's Tonio, Crimi's Turiddu—these were matters of worth in singing and acting, and not mere routine activities as a background for the star.

Miss Easton satisfyingly replied to the many who have expressed curiosity as to her utility for parts other than the "Siegfried" Brünnhilde; and I have heard since Calvé no other Santuzza so good as Miss Raisa. Mr. Rimini was made to sing the Prologue a second time. It was a program which ought to be repeated for the benefit and experience of at least a Monday subscription.

Tonight, first time of "Königskinder," with Farrar as the Goose-Girl.

Galli-Curci is to be placed vis-à-vis with Muratore in at least one opera, according to a revision of his schedule undertaken by Mr. Campanini as a consequence of the coloratura's success in "Rigoletto" and "Lucia." "Romeo and Juliet," in which the terror last season made what was until last night his most effective drive into popular favor, is to be mounted for these two great singers.

Its performance of last season, when it was given for the American debut of Maria Kousnezoff, had good incidental features in the Mercutio of Maguenat and the Friar of Journet, both of whom are again with the company. It is, perhaps, necessary to add that Galli-Curci will sing Juliet in French.

"The Huguenots," also, is mentioned for revival, with her in mind, but by the Italian wing of the company: Raoul, it seems, is in neither Muratore's répertoire nor affections. Crimi will have the part if the plan go through.

Kousnezoff is not to return. That she would not has been a matter of opera-house rumor for weeks; but it is now a definite, if reluctant, statement by the management. I seem unable to regard the lady's defection as a matter for mourning, save, from the management's viewpoint, as it makes necessary a readjustment of such schedule for her as may have been definite. She was, last season, a Juliet, a Marguerite, a Thais, and a Cleopatra, and aroused a measure of enthusiasm only in Juliet, in which she acted with far more technical skill than is part of the equipment of most singers. She was out of scale in the Auditorium: her talents seemed to beg for a small theater.

Louise Edvina and Carolina White are to rejoin the company for some special performances. The latter will be heard in what has been her most popular part, the girl in "The Jewels of the Madonna."

Mr. Victor Herbert is not through with opera in the big manner. "I'm in sad need of a 'book,'" he confesses. "I need one based on American history; but everybody who would try seems obsessed with the notion that the Mayflower was important. Now, no real man with a feeling for the United States as a nation could write a real opera with the Mayflower in it! If a submarine had sunk that precious craft, we should, I believe, be today a greater nation in art—and in everything else!"

CURED BY LIGHT DIET.

MRS. E. S. W. sends us the following account of her experience: "Eighteen months ago I noticed that if I stooped over I felt that something would burst in my head. Two months later I came near having pneumonia. I ate no solid food for a week. I noticed that this cured me of the disagreeable sensation on stooping.

"I noticed that I took colds easily. I had a cold all spring and summer. In the fall I commenced eating two meals a day, and frugal ones at that. Presently I noticed that my colds had disappeared. In February I was away from home and I began to eat too much. The colds and the discomfort on stooping returned. I then went back on a light diet and I have had no trouble since.

"I wish I had hit upon this method two years ago, as I lost the sight of one eye from hemorrhage into the eyeball a year ago last March."

NOT A GOOD HABIT.

M. S. H. writes: "Several years ago I suffered badly from sore throat and cough. An old lady told me my stomach was upset and if I took a little bicarbonate of soda after each meal it would sweeten my stomach and stop my cough. It did so and I have never had a sore throat since and rarely cough. Does the soda do any harm? I am 52 years old and lately there has appeared a lump on the joint of my little finger, which pains me at times. It seems to be a deposit of some kind. Can you suggest a remedy?"

REPLY.

It is not good judgment to habitually take any mineral salt such as soda. When one eats too much acid ash food and therefore seems to need soda, let him eat less meat and more vegetables, especially potatoes. Soda disturbs the digestion by unduly stimulating the production of acid by the stomach. It also has some tendency to accumulate in the system. Perhaps the mass on your finger is a gouty deposit. Probably you had better have a physician decide.

MAY NEED GLASSES.

W. F. S. writes: "Will you kindly give me the cause and treatment for what is commonly called 'sore eyes'? Have tried various remedies following the advice of physician, but have found nothing as yet very effective."

REPLY.

First, you must find out what your trouble is. Perhaps you need glasses. Have you trachoma? Or granular lids? Any of these can cause sore eyes.

FOOD ADVICE.

X. Y. asks: "1. Is cascara injurious when taken in small doses through a long period of time? If so, how is it injurious? Does it injure the digestive organs, the brain, the heart, or what organ?

"2. Are not bran products too irritating for some constitutions and conditions?

"3. Are wheat cereals, rice, and sweet potatoes among the foods which should be lessened where starch is objectionable?

"4. Will you give one or two sample menus for a light supper for one who needs nourishment, but cannot digest starches satisfactorily?"

REPLY.

1. Cascara, made from California buckthorn, is somewhat similar to rhubarb in its action. It acts as a purge or laxative by mildly stimulating the muscles and the glands of the intestinal wall. It is probably the most harmless drug used as a laxative, harming no organ except those of the digestive system. It is not to be taken regularly because it does harm to habitually artificially stimulate the intestines with any drug.

2. Yes, though probably the number is small. Where bran is not suited, agar often proves beneficial. Whatever is used, water must be consumed freely.

3. Yes.

4. Cottage cheese, clabber milk, one slice of thoroughly toasted bread or zweiback, and one watery fruit should constitute the backbone of a light evening meal. Among menus recommended by Allen are:

1. Egg [1].
   Turnips [2 heaping tablespoonfuls].
   Spinach [2 heaping tablespoonfuls].
   Tea.
2. Egg [1].
   Cauliflower [5 heaping tablespoonfuls].
   Spinach [2 heaping tablespoonfuls].
   Tea.
3. Egg [1].
   Boiled onions [2 heaping tablespoonfuls].
   Bread [1 thin slice].
   Milk [8 tablespoonfuls].
   Butter.
   Cream.
   Tea.
4. Chicken [1 small serving].
   Turnips [2¾ heaping tablespoonfuls].
   Celery [6 stalks].

MODERATELY GOOD.

M. L. S. writes: "[1] Will you please tell me through your column whether or not nuxated iron is good for any one in a run down condition? [2] Is prepared mustard harmful for a baby girl of 2 years to eat? She wants it on her grub, and would eat it right out of the spoon if allowed to. She is healthy, but rather small for her age."

REPLY.

1. It is a moderately good preparation of iron but is not so good as some other cheaper forms of iron.

2. No. Young children should not take condiments on their food.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1916: By the Brentwood Co.]

SIR COURTENAY HONYWOOD, who has just arrived in New York from England, is on his way to the Bahamas, to recuperate from the effects of a severe wound which he has lately received at the front in France. While in the Bahamas he will stay at the Great Whale Key, an island belonging to his younger brother, Philip, who a few months ago married, in the Municipal building in New York, Miss Helen Hudson of East Orange, N. J., daughter of a Baptist clergyman there.

Sir Courtenay is the ninth baronet of his line and head of one of the most ancient families in England, which has been settled in Kent ever since the reign of Henry II., their country seat, Evington place, near Ashford, in Kent, having been in the possession of their family, without any interruption, for some 700 years. The baronetcy is much less remote and came to Sir Edward Honywood in recognition of his services in loaning a sum of $15,000 to Charles II. when the latter was in exile. The estates embrace about 6,000 acres, but are heavily incumbered. They were in that condition, indeed, when Sir Courtenay inherited them.

This was brought to light by litigation in which he became involved not long after he succeeded to the honors. It was then shown that Sir Courtenay, even under the most favorable circumstances, would, owing to these incumbrances and certain obligations which he had contracted before his father's death, be fortunate if he managed to derive a yearly income of $4,000, all told, from the property. This in itself is sufficient to set at rest the stories given out on board the ship from which he landed the other day and printed in some of the New York papers that he would be elevated to the house of lords on his return to England, for peerages are never given unless there is an assurance of plenty of money on which to maintain the dignity.

In 1898 Sir Courtenay enlisted as a private in the Rhodesian police and on the outbreak of the Boer war joined the army service corps, with whom he remained until invalided home from South Africa shortly before the restoration of peace. He has no children, and the next heir to his honors is his brother, William, the second heir being Philip, the owner of Great Whale Key, where he is now staying.

Philip has had a somewhat exciting career, in spite of his youth, for last April, on his way from India, he was a passenger on the liner Edinburgh when it was captured by the German raider Moewe, commanded by the late Count Richard Dohna. He was taken prisoner by the count, but instead of being sent across the Atlantic to Newport News on the Appam, now interned there, he was landed at the Canary islands, from which he was able to make his way home.

Lord Darnley, claimant to the Scottish dukedom of Lennoc, having been rejected by the military authorities on the score of age—he is in the neighborhood of 60—and feeling the urgent necessity of expending his superabundant energy in behalf of his native land, has, according to cable dispatches from Europe, secured employment as a laborer on a farm in order to set an example of war time industry and economy and at the same time to "do his bit" for his country. He is one of the tallest members of the house of lords, in which he sits as one of the representative peers of Ireland, standing 6 feet 4 in his stockings, while his eldest son and heir, Lord Clifton, a commander of the royal navy, has attained the extraordinary height of 6 feet 7 inches.

Lord Darnley has been one of the most famous cricketers in the United Kingdom, and will be remembered as such on this side of the Atlantic, under the name of Ivo Bligh. On the death of his elder brother, the late earl, the latter's English barony of Clifton descended to his now 16 year old daughter, Elizabeth, being a barony by writ, transmissible through the female line, and Ivo Bligh succeeded to the Irish earldom of Darnley and to the minor Irish honors, which include the Irish barony of Clifton.

The patronymic of the Earls of Darnley today is Bligh, and they are not descended in any way from the Earl of Darnley who married Mary Queen of Scots, and who was murdered by Bothwell. The first Lord Darnley of the present creation was an Irishman of the name of Bligh who was raised to the peerage during the reign of Queen Anne and who was descended from one of the officers that accompanied Oliver Cromwell to Ireland. In the female line, however, Lord Darnley is descended from the last Stuart Duke of Lennox, who died in 1672, when, their being no other male heir, Charles II., as nearest male heir of the duke, appropriated the peerage and conferred it, along with the dukedom of Richmond, upon his natural son by Louise de Querouailles, Duchess of Portsmouth, from whom the present Duke of Richmond, of Lennox, and of Gordon is descended.

The Stuart dukedom of Lennox was a Scotch dignity, and nearly all the peerages of Scotland are transmissible through the female line. There has always been a doubt as to whether the Stuart dukedom of Lennox belonged to this category or not. But if it does come under that head, Lord Darnley's claim thereto is a just one, for, although the last Duke of Lennox of the Stuart line left no son, he was survived by a daughter, Lady Catherine Stuart, one of whose legitimate descendants married that Irish attorney John Bligh whom Queen Anne created Lord Darnley.

Lord Darnley was at one time on the stock exchange and for several years was connected with a big firm of port wine shippers. He has likewise been president of the Marylebone Cricket club, but in recent years changed from cricket to golf. He won his wife out in Australia when in 1883 he took a cricketing eleven to the antipodes. It seems that at one of the matches he lost his handkerchief and, the day being extremely hot, inquired of his friends if any of them had a spare handkerchief that he might borrow. Immediately a very feminine handkerchief of delicate fabric was handed to him. It was a most acceptable offering on that hot day, and after the match he expressed his desire to thank the donor.

An introduction to Miss Florence Morphy followed. She was the daughter of a Victoria magistrate and governess to the younger children of Sir William Clarke. The acquaintance thus begun ripened under the kindly chaperonage of Lady Clarke, an engagement following which stood the test of a long absence in England, and then Ivo Bligh, as he was then, returned to Australia, claimed his bride, and carried her off in triumph.

Lord Darnley's country seat is Cobham hall, near Gravesend. It was built in the reign of Queen Elizabeth and was frequently visited by that monarch and was occupied by Charles I. throughout his honeymoon. It stands in the midst of a country rich in Charles Dickens associations. The famous Leather Bottle inn, frequented by Tracy Tupman and his friend Pickwick, is just outside the park walls. Near by is Gad's hill, where Dickens made his home and where Falstaff lay in wait to rob the pilgrims.

PAY FOR ELECTION CLERKS.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Why is the back pay of judges and clerks of election being held up? It has been rumored that no appropriation for this service will be made before next April. T. A. S.

Our entire office force has been busy to date on the canvass of the election and we are just started to make out the pay roll for the Feb. 29 primary and April 4 election. The city of Chicago will pay the judges and clerks for these two periods. As soon as this pay roll is completed we will immediately work on the pay roll for the April 11 presidential primary, the June 5 judicial election, and Sept. 13 primary. The County will pay these last three periods. As we have 10,804 judges and clerks in Chicago on each election and primary day, and some of them serve one day, some serve two days, and some the whole period of five days, you can see this entails a great deal of work.

DENNIS J. EGAN,
Chief Clerk Board of Election.

LAMPS ORDERED INSTALLED.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please see what can be done to better the lighting facilities in South Marshfield avenue, between Sixty-first and Sixty-second streets. F. P. B.

A survey has been made of the conditions at this location. It is found that additional lighting facilities are required to maintain the standard established for this character of street lighting, and we are pleased to advise you that the department has ordered the installation of two gasoline lamps on Marshfield avenue, between Sixty-first and Sixty-second streets.

WILLIAM G. KEITH,
Commissioner of Gas.

METROPOLITAN L EXTENSION.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Will you tell me when the Humboldt elevated branch is to be extended west and how far west it will be built? S. P.

At the present time I know of no contemplated extension of the Humboldt park branch of the Metropolitan Elevated. It may be that the Chicago Traction and Subway commission, which is now preparing a report for the city council, will recommend that this line be extended.

JOHN P. GARNER,
Commissioner of Public Service.

ALLEY WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—When will the alley north of Madison street, running east and west, be paved between Keeler and Karlov avenues? READER.

No special assessment proceedings are under way for paving the alley between Washington and Madison streets, Karlov and Keeler avenues. The board will investigate the present condition of the alley, however, and if the pavement is necessary proceedings will be started. If an estimate is made by the engineering department before the spring of 1917 a public hearing can be held immediately afterward and the alley can be paved during that year. As a temporary measure, the ward superintendent may be induced to remedy conditions by filling the alley so that it can be used for travel.

M. J. FAHERTY,
President Board Local Improvements.

PAVING SIXTEENTH STREET.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Sixteenth street, from Kedzie to Crawford avenues, is in terrible shape. When will this street be paved? N. G.

The Alexander Todd Paving company has completed the grading of Sixteenth street, from Kedzie avenue to Crawford avenue, and they will attempt to complete the paving of the street this year.

M. J. FAHERTY,

COPYRIGHTING MAGAZINE MATTER.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Will a magazine publisher's copyright protect all of the contents or must each individual article be copyrighted? If the former is the case, can I sue a party, basing plagiarism as the charge? P. B.

1. Yes, as far as the subject matter is proper matter for copyright.
2. Not necessary to protect the magazine.
3. Suit must be brought by the holder of the copyright.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

OUR SIN OF WASTE.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Henry M. Hyde is a real writer and his articles are well chosen, and just wish to add a line on the bread question recently in THE TRIBUNE.

In every large baking plant in this city you will find from a carload of bread up that is returned each week from the grocers. Why this waste of the people's money? Why not prohibit the return of bread and increase the weight of bread by law? It is worth saving and amounts to $400,000 or $500,000 per year.

On Stony Island more than a mile of cement sidewalk is being torn up to widen the street. Why not grind up this in a stone crusher and use it to repave streets?

Now, a few less aldermen and a few more experts to utilize these wastes and Mr. Citizen is going to get somewhere.

They say we waste half of our output of coal. Well, we certainly have wasted more than half of our virgin timber in the north and west country. The best timber was cut off the land whether it belonged to them, you, or the government, and the rest they applied the torch to in order to cover up the evidence.

What we need in every large city and district are a few real expert men to cut the waste down and reduce the high cost of living and taxes likewise. Teach the nation to be saving in all things and encourage it everywhere. The American people are the most wasteful people in the world.

Along every railroad track our grain feeds millions of pigeons, and waste coal is lost forever. O. C. JUNGE.

DOESN'T WANT LOEB.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—[Editor of The Tribune]—I read with the utmost astonishment THE TRIBUNE'S editorial indorsement of Mr. Loeb for president of the school board. Has THE TRIBUNE forgotten that last June Mr. Loeb had the merit clause in the teachers' tenure of office repealed, and that he had dismissed between fifty and sixty teachers who were not inefficient and superannuated, but who had been recommended by the superintendent as having good, excellent, and even superior records; that Mr. Loeb presented no charges against these teachers, gave them no hearing, and when their dismissal was protested by an outraged public gave no reason except that he personally wished their dismissal? Can any man who would be guilty of such high handed, unfair, and thoroughly undemocratic action as that be considered a safe person to put at the head of our schools? Is that the kind of business method which THE TRIBUNE would recommend?

To have Mr. Jacob Loeb reëlected as president of our school board would be nothing short of a public calamity, and would put off the day when we can hope for a just, wise, and efficient policy in our school board, based on true educational principles, and free from personal vindictiveness. H. S.

A CRITIC CRITICIZED.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I am only one of the music lovers who have attended the symphony concerts for many seasons and I cannot longer refrain from giving a point of view of the critic employed by our best Chicago paper, THE TRIBUNE.

He certainly has revealed his ignorance of our language in that he is unable to express his thoughts in well chosen words; also his lack of refinement in the quality of his thoughts, and his lack of musical perceptions, as he does not recognize good music even when he hears it executed by the best of artists.

Do you realize how ashamed we are to have our TRIBUNE go to all parts of the world with its false impressions in the music department?

A little learning hath made him mad.

C. L. CHASE, 6527 Yale avenue.

WHISKY IS A FOOL.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your interesting editorial on "The Impending Fate of Booze" in THE TRIBUNE of yesterday and also in your article this morning you might have added to the reasons why the saloon is going that of Ed Howe of the Atchison Globe, "Whisky always was a fool."

If whisky had not been a fool it would have paid some attention to public sentiment and would have tried to conduct its business as grocers and other merchants conduct theirs. But it has insolently insisted upon tramping across every limitation that order, cleanliness, and decency have placed upon it. It has crowded close to churches, close to schools, close to parks, and in all these particulars it has fought like a fool against perfectly reasonable restrictions. It refuses today to comply with the midnight or the Sunday closing laws. More than that, it undertakes to control state politics and city politics.

As you say, "the American saloon is the most useful supporter of the prohibitionist." That is because it has always been lawless. It has been the rendezvous and headquarters of every kind of lawlessness from political corruption, assassination, and white slavery down to ordinary thuggery. All of which means that whisky has been a fool. That is the chief reason that the saloon is going. T. J. NORTON.

WILSON DELUGED WITH TELEGRAMS FROM FRIENDS

Messages of Congratulation on Victory Come from All Parts of World.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The receipt last night by President Wilson of the message of congratulation from Charles Evans Hughes, defeated Republican candidate for president, caused the White House today to make public a large number of telegrams which have been pouring in upon the president since election today. They came from every section of the country and from many rulers of foreign nations, all expressing good wishes and the hope of continued success during the next four years.

Replying to the message from Mr. Hughes the president sent the following:

"I am sincerely obliged to you for your message of congratulation. Allow me to assure you of my good wishes for the years to come."

Ford Calls Victory Reward.

Here are some of the messages of congratulation to the president made public today:

Henry Ford—It requires the highest type of mind to appreciate a real service and it ought to be gratifying to you to know that there are so many of our citizens in America of that type of mind. You now have been given the opportunity to reap the only real reward there is for service to mankind, the privilege of doing still more.

William J. Bryan—I extend to you heartiest congratulations upon your reelection. I am proud of the west, including Nebraska. The states beyond the Missouri have rallied to your support and saved the day and in doing so have honored themselves no less than you. They have been largely benefited by the great reforms secured under your leadership and they stand with you for peace, prosperity, and progress.

Messages from Many Others.

Ralph Pulitzer—Sincerest congratulations.

Henry Morgenthau—I congratulate the country on securing your incomparable services for another four years and rejoice with you in having bestowed upon you the greatest opportunity ever given any mortal of giving effective service both nationally and internationally during this fearful crisis.

Many South American presidents, including Emiliano Chamorro of Nicaragua, Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala, Gonzales of Costa Rica, and Menocal of Cuba sent felicitations.

Alice Nielsen, the actress, also felicitated the president on his reëlection.

BRYAN, TIRED OF TARIFF, TAKES UP MORAL ISSUES.

New York, Nov. 23.—William Jennings Bryan has given up attempting to solve economic problems and hereafter will devote himself to moral issues, he declared here today in an address before the Rotary club.

The tariff, he said, was discussed a hundred years before he took it up "with all the zeal of a young man," and probably would be discussed for another hundred years; but as to the moral question, when that is "settled it stays settled, and so I expect quicker and more satisfactory results from my efforts."

SAYS WOMEN VOTERS HAVE BEEN BENEFIT TO ILLINOIS.

Miss Helen Hood, President of State W. C. T. U., Urges Partial Suffrage for Indiana Sisters.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The attainment of partial suffrage by the women of Ilinois through legislative enactment has not only contributed greatly to the advancement of women's interests but has elevated the political and moral level of the state, according to Miss Helen L. Hood, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Illinois.

She is decided in her opinion that Indiana women should not wait for a constitutional amendment or a new constitution, but, through obtaining legislative action, should enter into partial suffrage which would include votes in municipal elections and for presidential electors.

Blaze in University Club Basement.

Overheated steam pipes caused a small fire in the basement of the University club, 76 East Monroe street, yesterday. It was extinguished with a small loss and club members in the building knew nothing of it until later.

We are so thoroughly convinced that only honest statements will continue to attract and convince sensible men that every advertisement we publish is designed to awaken the public to the doctrine of Truth in advertising. We believe that false, fraudulent or exaggerated advertising would be nothing more or less than an attempt to obtain money under false pretenses.

Honest Advertising Has Built Our National Success

That and honestly backing up every word of every advertisement, every word in every sales-argument that we have ever used—that is what has built us from a little 20x40 ft. store seven years ago into The World's Largest Exclusive Clothiers of today. Living steadily up to every promise we have ever made—that is what has brought our customers back to us season after season, year after year, and caused them to send their friends to investigate our money-saving advantages and to let us prove to them that low rent, inexpensive fixtures, buying in enormous quantities for a transcontinental chain of clothing stores, devoting all our attention, energy and capital to obtaining the best possible values to sell at $15, manufacturing a liberal share of our output in our own eastern manufacturing plant, buying woolens in carload lots direct from the mills—these are the things that have resulted in our continuously offering

TROOPS SENT TO BORDER WITHOUT FULL EQUIPMENT

Cavalry and Artillery Minus Horses—Supplies Lacking for Infantry.

ARTICLE VI.

BY CAPT. HENRY J. REILLY.

It is a self-evident truth that troops not properly equipped are not fit to take the field. When the national guard was called out it was not properly equipped in many cases for peace strength. In all cases it lacked the equipment needed for the difference between peace and war strength.

Most of the regiments which have been mustered out completed their service without ever being properly equipped. Probably none of those now on the border are completely equipped. Many infantry organizations have nothing but the old style infantry equipment, some of them have part new and part old

Outside of some of the old regular infantry regiments, no infantry organization has enough of the new infantry equipment to give each man a complete set of it. Some of the new regular infantry regiments have practically no equipment other than rifles and belts.

Use Out of Date Equipment.

In many cases where new regular infantry companies have equipment it was brought by the men transferred from the old regiments to make the nucleus of the new. This means that the old regiments from which they came have not sufficient equipment for the recruits needed to bring them up to the proper strength.

The old infantry equipment was practically condemned by a board of infantry officers years ago, and the new adopted not only because it materially decreased the weight carried by the soldier but also because it did away with many of the inconveniences of the old equipment.

These told on a soldier's strength during a march. This additional weight and these inconveniences wi l wear out national guard infantry soldiers unaccustomed to the hardships of infantry marching much more quickly than would be the case with regulars. Therefore it is of the utmost importance that the national guard infantry should have new equipment.

Below Peace Equipment.

Probably in no case did any mounted organization receive the number of horses even for peace strength. The First Illinois Field artillery never received enough horses to enable it to take out at one time all of its guns and caissons, although only one battery of the six had the number of carriages required by war.

The First Illinois cavalry made its longest march with several hundred of its men riding in motor trucks, because they had no horses. Both these regiments could have obtained in Chicago, within a few days of the call, enough reasonably broken horses of the proper type to bring them to war strength.

The system, however, permitted no such purchase to be made. The result was that both regiments went to the border to all practical purposes horseless. There they only got what was in many cases an inferior type of horse, a few at a time, and never were completely mounted, although both were in the service more than four months.

Supply of Pistols Short.

Cavalry and field artillery soldiers are supposed to be armed with a Colt .45 caliber automatic pistol. There were not enough of them on hand, with the result that practically every national guard battery and troop had part of its men armed with .45 caliber automatic pistols and part of them with .38 caliber revolvers.

Some of the national guard cavalry units had two kinds of bridles, two kinds of saddles, and two kinds of sabers. Some of them were issued old black leather horse equipment which had been stored away in arsenals for years and was unfit for field service. Each battery of artillery is supposed to receive on mobilization four additional caissons. No case is known in which these caissons were received.

Clothing in Wrong Sizes.

While ultimately enough clothing was received to clothe every soldier, it was frequently impossible to get the right sizes Ill fitting clothing is always uncomfortable. On a march under service conditions slight discomforts ultimately become extremely irritating and frequently result in painful abrasions.

Badly fitting shoes cripple foot soldiers to the extent of putting them in the hospital and thereby removing that many effectives from the firing line. Where national guard troops did not have the clothing and equipment necessary for peace strength the state military authorities are directly responsible.

The responsibility for the lack of clothing and equipment necessary to make up the difference between peace and war strength belongs primarily on the shoulders of the quartermaster corps and the ordnance department of the regular army, who knew that any mobilization would necessitate the making up of this difference.

2,500 DRILL AT LANE TECH.

Nearly Two Regiments of Potential Soldiers Learning Military Rudiments at High School.

As an indication of what military training in all of the high schools in the United States would do in the way of providing citizen troops grounded in the elements of soldiering, it was announced yesterday that 2,500 students of Lane Technical High school are undergoing training. This work has gone ahead so rapidly that the students have been formed into companies, battalions, and regiments, a total of one regiment and two battalions, to be exact. This body of potential soldiers, from just one of Chicago's high schools, is approximately one-fifth, if not one-fourth, the total strength of the national guard in Illinois.

FOREIGN BANKS FILE PROTEST ON LOAN TO CHINA

Allied Financiers Charge Chicagoans Play Politics—Meets Denial Here.

PEKING, Nov. 23.—The British, French, Russian, and Japanese bankers of the quintuple group have sent a letter to the minister of finance saying that the loan arranged for with the Chicago banks violates article seventeen of the reorganization loan agreement of April 26, 1913. The letter declares the loan is political and not industrial, and asks for an explanation.

[The Chinese parliament recently unanimously approved a loan of $5,000,000 gold made by the Chinese government with the Continental and Commercial bank of Chicago. The loan was said to be for immediate administrative needs.]

State Department Upholds Loan.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Protests of British, French, Russian, and Japanese bankers against the $5,000,000 loan arranged to China by Chicago bankers does not surprise the Chinese legation, which, it was said today, assumed some such protest would be entered.

It was stated that every precaution had been taken before the loan was drawn not to violate any agreements and that both the Peking foreign office and the state department here had considered all phases of other contracts.

Article seventeen of the reorganization loan of April 26, 1913, which was said to have been violated, is declared to have no applicability because that refers to the salt tax while the new loan is secured by the wine and tobacco tax. Moreover, it is contended that whatever rights the quintuple group might have, it is not in a position to assume them, as it has been unable to advance money to China in several instances and it is felt the field must be left open.

It was reiterated that the loan was for industrial purposes and not for political purposes, as charged in the protests.

Loan Is Oversubscribed.

New York, Nov. 23.—Applications for the new republic of China loan—$5,000,000 in 6 per cent three year treasury notes have been made to an amount three times in excess of the total available, an announcement made here tonight on behalf of Chandler & Co., Inc., of New York and Philadelphia, and the Continental and Commercial bank of Chicago, as syndicate managers.

The public sale of the bonds has been closed, it was stated.

CHICAGO BANK'S STATEMENT.

Officials of the Continental and Commercial bank yesterday issued the following statement with reference to the protest against the bank's loan to the Chinese republic:

"The loan to the republic of China made by the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank was solely for commercial and industrial purposes and was not for political or administrative purposes. We believe the protest filed by those bankers was in order to prevent loans being made to China for political purposes.

"The Chinese government has contracted with this bank that the proceeds of this loan shall be applied by it 'for industrial purposes, including the internal development of China, the strengthening of the reserves of the Bank of China and Bank of Communications (both of which are official banks), and for other similar purposes'; and the Chinese government has further covenanted, without qualification, that the issuance and sale of these notes is not in violation of any treaty, convention, obligation, or agreement of any kind whatsoever."

GIRL IS MISSING WHO CONSIDERED BECOMING A NUN

Search of Foster Father for Marie Kent Proves of No Avail.

Miss Marie Kent left home last Saturday expecting to return Sunday afternoon in time to welcome her aunt, May Heffron, from Paw Paw, Mich. She failed to reutrn. Her foster father, W. R. Kent, returned from a fruitless search last night.

Since his wife's death a year ago Marie had been the housekeeper. She had told him that she was going to spend the night with a schoolmate, Miss Ruth Brenken of 6025 Harper avenue. The missing girl's wardrobe and beautiful fancy work are just as she left them and her savings account in the bank hasn't been touched.

Letter from Nun.

When the postman delivered a letter for Marie, the foster father opened it for some clew—and he thought he had found one, for it seemed probable that Marie was to become a nun.

The letter was from Sister Mary of St. Francis Borgia at the Convent of Our Lady of Charity, which Miss Kent had attended for a year after her foster mother's death.

The sister wrote to the missing girl that it "gave me much pleasure to learn that you are so faithful in keeping up your religious duties. No doubt but the Blessed Mother has a special care of you. She is your true mother and true friend. Continue to be faithful to her and you will always be happy in this world and it will be a great consolation to you in the hour of death.

"You wrote that you want to come back next month and try to become a Magdalen next July. I hope you will be pleased and I expect you. This was certainly good news for me.

"I thank you for the special prayers you said for me, as you say in your letter you intended to write to me, but your strength and courage failed."

Daughter Not at Convent.

After reading the letter Mr. Kent wired to the convent and the answer came that his foster daughter was not there.

Mrs. John Freeman, who lives in the same building, is positive that Miss Kent would write her if she were in a position to do so.

Miss Kent wore a midnight blue skirt, a black poplin blouse, a black velvet hat, with two steel cut rosebuds at the side, and a dark plush coat.

New York, Nov. 23.—Life insurance totaling $1,800,000 has been taken out by Harry Thatcher Dunn of Toledo, O., president of the Fisk Rubber company and vice president of the Willys-Overland company. Part of the insurance is for a term of an average of ten years, to protect Mr. Dunn in a business way, and the balance is for a monthly income for the protection of his wife and daughter. Mr. Dunn will pay an annual premium of about $50,000.

HENRY, A MOTORCYCLE COP, HAS FULL MEASURE OF WOE.

Fine of $10 for Speeding Is Climax of Long List of Misfortunes He Lays to "Pinching" a Funeral.

During his syncopated career as a motorcycle cop, Henry D. Ernest pinched 'em all. His finger was the full stop semaphore against speed fiends of high and low degree. He made "givin' her more gas" an unpopular item in the merry cometings of joy motorists.

So Henry, the Bellewood motor cop, faced a heavy debit balance when old man Retribution finally overtook him with the ledgers. The charge was speeding. Henry had made a hopeless wreck of all Chicago speed ordinances.

Says he to Judge Rafferty in Speeders' court:

"Your honor, misfortune was following me. Maybe that's why I let out a few links. I am no longer a motorcycle cop. After my arrest I was let out by the village of Bellewood. I left on the Bellewood motorcycle and a charge of larceny is pending against me there.

"My wife has a charge of abandonment against me. I broke a fellow's jaw in a fight in Forest Park, and he has a charge pending against me. I think all this hard luck fell on me because I arrested a funeral procession last August at Oak Ridge cemetery. Don't you think I have a full cup of trouble?"

"Ten dollars and costs will just make it full," said the court. Henry paid.

The Grocer and the Westfield Standard

(Twelfth of a series to appear on the pure food page of this paper every Tuesday and Friday.)

The grocer's position is not an enviable one.

Consumer and manufacturer continually bombard him with complaints. The consumer tries to tell him how to conduct his business and what he ought to sell. The manufacturer tries to sell him something he thinks the grocer ought to carry. If he is heedless entirely of the consumer's wishes he loses his trade. If he ignores the manufacturer he loses credit and a few other things, including his business.

It is the retail grocer's duty, through necessity, knowledge and privilege, to guide the consumer's buying. He is the natural adviser of the food buyer.

To please the consumer he is compelled to stock a wide variety of commodities. Many of these are subject to deterioration. Overhead charges are frequently large because he has to deliver many small packages. Profits on many staple articles are small.

The carrying of many brands of food is a hardship on the grocer. He is compelled to carry them through intensified sales efforts of manufacturers. He is often accused of fraud when he tries to sell what he has instead of what he hasn't.

The honest dealer is subjected to unfair selling methods of cut price stores, with questionable bargains in low grade goods. These apparently sell as readily as recognized standard brands. And standard brands are sold cheaper than the average grocer can buy them in these cut price places.

Many grocers to meet this competition are virtually forced to stock lines of inferior goods. Under fair competition and normal trade conditions the average grocer would not think of allowing commodities on his shelves. This evil condition of affairs is not entirely the grocer's fault.

Under such conditions it is unfair to demand that the grocer alone reform those who brought it about, for he is in no way entirely responsible for it and has fought hard against it.

"The Westfield movement, instead of condemning the grocer, seeks to aid him. Instead of censuring him for what he cannot help, it endeavors to provide him and his customers with a convenient, easy way of meeting the problem by furnishing them both with a handy guide of foods which are pure and high grade."

The reputation of conducting a Westfield Pure Food store never fails to attract trade and increase sales. It also minimizes the number of products carried.

The reputation of conducting a "Westfield Pure Food Store" never fails to attract sales and increase sales.

A list of foods approved by the Westfield Board of Health is published in the Westfield Book of Pure Foods, and with this little book in his possession the grocer is freed from all doubt. Its guarantee of purity and food values is sufficient to meet the requirements of the most exacting housewife. No housewife familiar with pure food conditions will ask for more.

This makes the grocer's position less complicated than formerly. He is able to prove to his patrons any statements concerning the purity of the products offered for sale by him.

"Let the buyer beware" was the former trade maxim, and it was easy enough for the grocer to quote this in defense. With the Westfield Book of Pure Foods available all conditions of the past were changed. The druggist, for example, is not excused from blame if he sells poison to a child, and the grocer who sells drugged concoctions in the guise of foods to people who cannot tell the difference is nearly as much to blame.

It is unjust to blame the grocer for what has happened. It is also unfair to criticize the way he does business under adverse conditions. No one is less disposed to commit this blunder than the men behind the movement for better food conditions, who know the grocer's problems. They appreciate his difficulties and have reason to respect his character.

Grocers who have made the experiment with the Westfield Book of Pure Foods have been quick to feel the benefits in buying and selling. It is simply a handy index, listing the important nationally distributed food products that have been tested at Westfield, Mass., the "Pure Food Town," and known to be pure, clean, and wholesome.

("Look For The Small Type on the Label" will be the subject of the story to appear on this page next Tuesday.)

WHITE PLAGUE IS CALLED FRANCE'S GREATEST PERIL

Tuberculosis Taking Huge Toll—Action by Government Seems Only Remedy.

BY CAROLYN WILSON.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The most vital, the most important, the fundamental question which faces France at this moment is the treatment of her tubercular victims.

Already there are over 100,000 soldiers released from the front, receiving no pension from the government, living as best they may, either in their own homes, thus spreading the disease among their children and their friends, or housed in some wretched room in a poor quarter of the city, trying vainly to secure work.

These men perhaps have had an inherited tendency to tuberculosis or they may have been slightly affected when they went into the trenches, though this is doubtful, as the medical examinations were strict.

At any rate, in less than two years of war—since this figure was given out by Dr. Landouzy in the chambres the first of July—over 100,000 have come back to France as truly "blessés," as any man who has lost a leg or an arm or an eye in the service of France.

Refused Aid from France.

But because they were only sick, and were not wounded, they have been refused the governmental aid which is given to the wounded and placed in the category "Reformés No. 2." A friend of mine calls them the poor relations of glory.

What is the use to talk about a new France after the war? What use crying for more children and larger families; talking about premiums to be paid mothers and care of state children, when the fundamental trouble much more convincing than the usually stated economic reasons of French families—of these small families—is that the father or the mother or both are consumptive?

Tuberculosis is the scourge—the plague—of France. It is so usual, so common that practically nothing is done to cure it in the smaller districts. A man or woman contracts it and regards it as natural, as inevitable, as incurable as any physical infirmity or deformity incapable of being cured.

100,000 Victims Every Year.

Prof. Landousy, speaking in the senate, cries out in the face of this astounding lethargy, "Will you ever understand that tuberculosis is one of the most important phases of the social question? Will you ever comprehend that bound up with the tuberculosis which kills—good year or bad year—100,000 French citizens are all the interests of our national security, our national power and wealth, as well as the future of our race?"

Prof. Gabriel Petit speaks in almost the same words:

"The entire destiny of France is bound up in the solution of this problem."

And yet, so far, nothing has been done, or practically nothing. In answer to the fears and protestations of Herriot in the Journal, Gourgeois, a member of the ministry of the interior, speaks of the grand effort already made and quotes the following figures: Six thousand beds in military hospitals and 2,600 beds in sanitary stations. Eight thousand six hundred beds to treat 500,000 people! And he calls that a grand effort!

Government Must Act.

The question is too big to be a matter of private interest or subscription, although that helps. It should be governmental, supported by a large grant from the state, with the help of private subscriptions, because without the interest of the people themselves little can be done.

At the present time a special representative has been sent over by the Rockefeller commission, and it is also known that Baron Rothschild is interesting himself seriously in the matter. It is estimated that at least $20,000,000 would be necessary to put the work on the footing that is demanded to do a thorough and rehabilitating work.

The Frenchman is not used to open air. He doesn't like it and doesn't believe in it. And it is hard to convince him that he can cure his disease by resting outdoors.

Americans Treating Victims.

One sees this most plainly at the American hospital for tuberculosis organized by Mrs. Edith Wharton. This is one of the private works of the war, with a large American committee back of it. The plan is to work as much as possible with soldiers who have come back from the war tubercular, but the after the war work of this association is destined to be entirely among the women and children.

Mrs. Wharton has started with a villa in Paris, which will be the reception and examination depot as soon as the country sanatora are ready. There will be two ready about Christmas, capable of accommodating about 200 patients.

Up to now these tubercular soldiers, as soon as they are "reformés" from the army, become free, independent citizens, as they were before the war, not answerable to any military authority for their actions.

They are willing to enter a sanatorium, but if the treatment annoys them, or they get bored with the inaction and lack of excitement, they get up and walk out. This has already happened several times in Mrs. Wharton's hospital. So that from now on, soldiers discovered on examination to be tubercular are not to be dismissed from the army until they are officially pronounced cured.

Germans Dread Tuberculosis.

I hear from the people interested in this work that the Germans are so afraid of it, so anxious to keep their own country free from it, that the slightest sign of tuberculosis is sufficient for release of French prisoners. They want them out of the country.

But in any walk of life, under all conditions, the ravages of this terrible disease are alarming. Among the civilians in Paris hospitals, 37 per cent are suffering from tuberculosis.

A doctor who has the examination of children brought from the villages near the lines, the orphans of the war, says 25 per cent of them already are touched by the disease, and that another 13 per cent on account of their lack of nutrition are liable to it. This is the coming generation in France. It is all France has to count on, to hope on. It must be cared for.

Destitute After Leaving Army.

Two days ago I met a boy of 19 in the testing room of this new Franco-American hospital. He had been turned out of the army after three months' care, had tried to get a position and failed, had been turned out of his miserable room by his landlady the afternoon after a serious hemorrhage. He was simply wandering the streets when he noticed the sign of the hospital.

"My own government wouldn't do anything for me," he said weakly, "but you Americans think of everything."

She Meets Him—Not!

Nicholas Goiseiu of 1658 West Austin avenue telephoned to Mrs. Mamie Mionski of 4822 Winnemac avenue, and then went to meet her. He met her husband instead. It cost him $5 in the Boys' court yesterday.

FRANCE HONORS AMERICANS FOR WAR SACRIFICES

Meetings to Teach People How U. S. Has Come to Aid of Sister Republic.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—In the amphitheater of the Sorbonne today was held the first of a series of meetings which will carry throughout this country, to civilians and to the soldiers at the front, the story of what America has done for France during the war. The meeting was held by official approval under the auspices of the association known as "The Effort of France and Its Allies." Alexander Millerand, former minister of war, delivered the principal address, and Prof. Boutroux presided.

M. Millerand spoke of American generosity and of the personal devotion to the French cause of hundreds of Americans who had come to France and imperiled their lives to serve the nation.

Lauds American Heroes.

"There will forever remain sheltered, under the mingled folds of the Stars and Stripes and the red, white, and blue of the French flag, and preserved in the annals of the two countries, the names of the young American heroes who have fallen gloriously on the field of battle as aviators, as soldiers of the Foreign legion, or in succoring the wounded," he said.

In this connection he named Sergt. Norman Prince, Sergt. Kiffen Rockwell, and Corporal Victor Chapman of the aviation service, and Rene Phelizot, H. W. Farnsworth, and Allan Seeger of the Foreign legion as among those Americans who had sacrificed their lives.

Names Relief Societies.

Alluding to the immensity of American effort for France, M. Millerand named many persons and societies, including the American relief clearing house, the committee of American art students, organized by Whitney Warren, the American chamber of commerce in Paris, the American ambulance at Neuilly, Dr. Alexis Carrel's hospital at Compeigne, supported by the Rockefeller institute; Mrs. Chauncy M. Depew's hospital at Annel, Mrs. H. P. Whitney's hospital at Juilly, and, among the individuals, Mrs. Robert Bliss, wife of the secretary of the American embassy in Paris.

A cablegram of greeting signed by thirty Americans was read by Eiml Boutroux. Among the signers were Theodore Roosevelt, Elihu Root, Thomas A. Edison, Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, Robert Bacon, Myron T. Herrick, Frank A. Vanderlip, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Miss Anne Morgan, and A. Barton Hepburn.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Easier, Quicker and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, in the form of a pleasant white ointment. Takes the place of out-of-date mustard plasters. Will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest.

and thousands of smaller users everywhere

Smith Form-a-Truck has become the leader in motor truck sales and service in the short space of fifteen months. 48,000 ordered by dealers. 9,000 have been delivered and are now in daily service, some as parts of fleet equipment for many of the biggest concerns in the country; thousands of others as single units for small companies who find in Smith Form-a-Truck the real solution of economical, efficient hauling.

Smith Form-a-Truck has established a ton-mile hauling cost fully 50% lower than that obtained from any other form of hauling service.

The Smith Form-a-Truck attachment combines with any Ford power plant to make a one-ton truck.

Big, new developments adapt it equally well to Dodge, Maxwell, Buick, Overland and Chevrolet cars.

Attachments to combine with a still greater number of power plants will follow as fast as manufacturing facilities provide.

In daily service in every line of work Smith Form-a-Truck is demonstrating that it will do the work of two or three horse drawn wagons in one-fourth the time and at less than half the cost.

And yet the Smith Form-a-Truck costs no more than a good pair of horses.

Tremendous business developments have established the Smith Form-a-Truck Co. as one of the biggest and best manufacturers in the motor truck field.

Work is already under way doubling the present capacity of the factory.

Plans are fully completed for the production of 30,000 Smith Form-a-Truck attachments next year.

Material is contracted—manufacturing arrangements have been made.

In fifteen months Smith Form-a-Truck has grown from a manufacturing idea to the leading producer of delivery equipment of the world.

And yet the future growth of the Smith Form-a-Truck has but started. Demand is growing in leaps and bounds as users everywhere have had their hauling costs cut below all previous records.

Big companies placing trial orders for a few Smith Form-a-Truck attachments have increased their demand until many are using hundreds.

Users of single Smith Form-a-Truck attachments have found their business radius so enlarged by this new form of hauling that they have been compelled to double and treble their original order to take care of increased business.

In every line of service, under every condition of use, Smith Form-a-Truck furnishes the lowest operating cost ever developed in transportation.

RESCUERS NEAR TUNNEL DEATH IN VAIN QUEST

Fireman and Gas Employe Brave Fumes Only to Find Two Men Dead.

For more than three hours yesterday the bodies of two men lay in a manhole cavity at Dearborn and South Water streets while thousands of pedestrians walked over their heads, unaware of the tragedy that had taken place thirty feet below the surface of the roadway.

The men, John Kehoe and William Hurley, had entered the manhole in the morning to work on pipes of the Peoples Gaslight and Coke company. A third employé, Roger Creighton, was stationed at the entrance to the cavity. His duty was to call down to the workers once an hour to make sure they were all right.

According to the police Creighton went away and was gone for several hours. He returned at 1:30 and shouted down the manhole. There was no reply.

Deadly Fumes Pour Out.

A sniff at the manhole opening was enough to show deadly gas fumes in the cavity. While a curious crowd gathered Jacob Curran, another gas company employé, ran to the quarters of engine company No. 13 and demanded a rope. He encounteed Pipeman Thomas H. Burns and told him quickly what was wanted.

"I'll go down," flashed Burns.

"All right," said Curran. "I'm with you."

Curran was lowered at the end of a rope, in a device known as a cradle. Burns climbed down a series of built-in steel ladders. The bodies of Kehoe and Hurley were found huddled in an angle of the narrow space underground, close to a tangle of pipes and conduits.

Bring Bodies to Surface.

One at a time the cradle was fitted to the bodies and they were pulled up by firemen. Burns, thinking the men still alive, guided the bodies half way to the surface to prevent their being bumped against the sides of the opening. As the second body went up Curran gasped and fell on his face.

"I'm going under," he called to Burns. "Help me!"

Burns went back, grabbed Curran, and carried him up the ladder. Both were dazed and only half conscious when they reached the surface and Burns had to be taken to the engine company's quarters and put to bed.

Physicians at the Passavant hospital, where the bodies were taken, said Kehoe and Hurley evidently had been overcome about 10 o'clock. Apparently the end had come quickly, for no one in the crowded neighborhood could be found who had heard cries for help.

Burns Has Hero Record.

Pipeman Burns, better known as "Topsy" Burns, has a long record for heroism in the fire department. In November, 1909, he went to the Cherry mine with engine company No. 40 and, without a gas helmet helped rescue 22 miners who had been underground for seven days. In July, 1915, he was given honorable mention in the chief's report for having saved eight lives in the Eastland disaster.

WOUNDS WIFE AND KILLS SELF

Illinoisan Shoots Mate After Quarrels—Woman Staggers to Street.

CHILDREN AT TRAGEDY

Geneva, Ill., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—During a quarrel with his wife, Pearl, this afternoon, Clayton Loomis shot her and then killed himself. Mrs. Loomis is in the Colonial hospital in a critical condition.

The tragedy occurred in the Loomis apartment in the Kendall block, on the main street of Geneva. No one heard the shots or knew of the crime until Mrs. Loomis staggered into the store of Fred Emde, electrician, where she fell to the floor, saying her husband had shot her.

Children Sitting Near Body.

Justice W. A. Keiser and City Marshal Robert Brandt found Loomis lying on the floor. Two of the little children were seated on a chair, benumbed with fright, the other three children having followed the mother downstairs.

Mrs. Loomis said her husband came home and told her that he was going to shoot her. She thought at first that he was joking, but he suddenly drew a revolver from his pocket and fired, the bullet striking Mrs. Loomis in the abdomen.

Couple Frequently Quarreled.

There have been frequent quarrels between the couple and last summer Mrs. Loomis left her husband and, with her youngest child, went to the home of her mother, Mrs. Kate Bowden of Dixon. About ten days ago a reconciliation was effected and she returned to her home in Geneva.

A note was found in Loomis' pocket stating that he had tried to give his wife a good home, but that it would no longer be possible for them to live together and expressing the hope that their children might be well cared for.

GALE CRIPPLES LAKE SHIPPING

Storm Warning Holds Many Vessels in the Ports.

TOLD TO SEEK SHORE.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 23.—Storm bound, thirty steamers tonight are grouped in St. Louis bay, Duluth, "waiting for weather," although the predicted "whole gale" forecast earlier in the day by the Duluth government weather bureau had not materialized at this end of the great lakes.

Many steamers are out on Lake Superior and the wireless station is busy warning the masters to run for shelter. The storm will cover the entire lake region, Forecaster Richardson says. The last "whole gale" that occurred on the great lakes and over a wide stretch was that of Nov. 9 and 10, 1913, which wrecked scores of ships, especially on Lake Michigan, and took a toll of over 400 lives.

REFUSES TO SIT BY NEGRO.

And Congress Hotel Maid Has Usher Pinched Because He Pinched Her Arm.

Because she refused to occupy a seat next to a Negro, Miss Rose Miller, a domestic at the Congress hotel, asserted she was ejected from the Gem theater at 450 South State street last night and her arm pinched by an usher. Harry Steinberg of 26 West Harrison street, the usher, was arrested.

Roberts Inquest Continued.

Mrs. Julia Cecilia Roberts, who was found dead in bed at her home, 423 South Homan avenue, is believed to have died of natural causes. A number of bottles found beside her had contained medicine and were not labeled "Poison," as was stated in "The Tribune." The inquest was continued until Dec. 20, pending examination of the stomach contents.

When the Brunswick was announced experts marveled. And music lovers, who had longed for such an instrument as this, hailed the Brunswick with delight.

One feature that pleases all is the Brunswick adaptability to all records. The two instantly interchangeable sound boxes permit the use of different needles—the proper one for each make of record. Yet no extra charge is made.

The Brunswick brings to one instrument—to each home—all the hitherto exclusively controlled artists.

Yet another feature of the Brunswick announcement produced nation-wide interest. This was the alliance between the House of Brunswick and Pathe.

Pathe records have first place in Europe, but heretofore have been barred from many homes in America. They are now available to all Brunswick owners.

NOW COME NEW STANDARDS

COMISKEY AND JOHNSON BUY GREAT RANCH

Magnates' Property Has 3,700 Head of Cattle—Fine Fishing, Too.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

By the end of the week Presidents Johnson of the American league and Comiskey of the White Sox probably will become wholesale manufacturers of food and raiment for the American citizen as well as promoters of outdoor amusement for the same citizen.

In company with Joe Ray of Wilmington, Ill., and Ray Ketcham of Billings, Mont., the two American league magnates are negotiating for the purchase of the cattle ranch in Wyoming which they recently inspected and expect to close the deal tomorrow or Saturday. Mr Ketcham arrived from Montana yesterday and President Comiskey, who is in Wisconsin after deer, is expected to return today.

May Take 20,000 Acres at Start.

The proposition under consideration entails the purchase of approximately 8,000 acres under deed, 12,000 additional acres under lease, with a possibility of extending the range to incude 500,000 acres by the payment of United States government reservation fees. At present the ranch is stocked with 3,700 head of cattle and is capable of expansion to 5,000 head without overtaxing the capacity of the land to produce sufficient hay and other feed to carry the stock through the winter.

At the rate the visible supply of beef on the hoof is disappearing in this country and the cost of shoe ther is increasing, it looks as if the baseball magnates and their partners not only will be investing in a sure thing but will be public benefactors if they develop the producing capacity of the ranch to its utmost.

Great Fishing on Ranch.

What tempted Messrs. Johnson and Comiskey more than the possibility of a paying investment was the fact that the ranch is traversed by three streams of water teeming with all the varieties of trout known to Izaak Walton and so thoroughly protected that some of the fish have reached the age of five or six pounds. They do not intend to quit baseball for ranching, but to leave the business end of the deal to Mr. Ketcham, who is a veteran in the manufacture of beer on the hoof, while Mr. Ray will be permanent guardian of the game and fish on the ranch.

President Johnson's conference with Messrs. Ruppert and Huston, owners of the New York Yankees, in French Lick on Wednesday was productive of the announcement that the present objectionable situation in New York will be solved by the erection of an American league plant which will be the "last word" in such structures. The plans under consideration call for a grandstand that will seat 28,500 persons. That is in addition to pavilion and bleacher space that will take care of a larger crowd than can be handled even at the Braves' field in Boston, with its 42,500 capacity. Local fans can gain some idea of the immensity of the plans from the fact the White Sox grandstand has a seating capacity close to 17,000.

New Plant Ready in 1918.

Concerning the probable location of the new Gotham plant Mr. Johnson was uncommunicative as he declared he was under pledge of secrecy to the New York club owners not to disclose their plans until they were perfectly matured. No attempt will be made to change the arrangement whereby the Yankees will share the Polo grounds with the Giants next season, but by 1918 the American league will have its new New York plant ready for use.

TINKER AND PEORIANS SPLIT CLUB'S EARNINGS.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The Peoria Fans' association of the Peoria Three Eyes league baseball club and Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Cubs, today divided the profits of the season. Tinker, as half owner, received $1,200 as his share. He immediately turned over half of his $1,200 to Bill Jackson, manager. Tinker retains Jackson as manager for 1917.

Woods and Waters by LARRY ST. JOHN

ABOUT GETTING LOST.

"HE'S no woodsman, thass all. A real woodsman knows that moss grows on the north side of a tree. I've never been lost in the woods in my life."

A party at a nearby table in a restaurant were discussing the adventures of a Chicago sportsman who was lost for five days in the Minnesota woods last week.

We were mildly tempted to "horn in" the above conversation and state that we have never discovered a north pole in our life because it was obvious that the man who made the fool remark about the moss has never been farther from civilization, alone, than Fox Lake, Ill. He is of the type who sports a ten inch bowie knife in his belt when he goes north and over whom the guides give a great sigh of relief when they land him, safe and sound, at the going out station.

The man who thinks he cannot be lost in the woods is of the specie boob which is quite generally distributed over these United States, but flourisheth, we have heard, in a certain western state.

* *

Any man, red or white, is likely to get lost in the woods unless he takes Thoreau's attitude that they are not lost, when they know not where they are at, but that the world is. It is a philosopher's way of looking at it and a good way—when time is no object and the weather is pleasant. We have never heard a real woodsman say that he has never been lost and if he would say it he would be lying by the beards of the seven prophets and the ashes of Mrs. O'Leary's cow. We know a guide in Minnesota who was lost for two days and a night and during this time he was not over ten miles from his camp, where he has lived, summer and winter, for twenty-three years. We know of half a dozen similar instances.

Getting lost in the woods is like any other trouble: Easy to get into but hard to get out of, and the fact that the Chicago sportsman who was lost survived five days of near-zero Minnesota weather proves absolutely that he is a first class woodsman. If our boob friend, the moss-on-the-north-side-of-the-tree-woodsman, had been in a similar predicament he would have come home in a pine box—providing the wolves hadn't reached him before the searching party did. This latter is not added merely to be gruesome, but to gently hint that getting lost in a wild country during cold weather is no trivial matter.

In this connection we wish to point out something we have observed, which is the fact that the principal delusions held by the average American male are three in number, namely: That he can write good advertising; that he can make money raising chickens; that he is a natural born woodsman. The latter idea is born in our youthful breasts during the period we read, breathlessly, the adventures of Handsome Hank, the Hawkeyed Hare Hunter and "The Leatherstocking Tales," and somehow or other it sticks. It is one of the "kid ideas" we never lose until we ourselves have been lost a few times.

Coming to the subject of book woodcraft, it is quite true that moss is inclined to grow thickest on the north side of a tree, but before this knowledge can be of value to a lost man he must be woodsman enough to know why, he must consider the kind of trees examined, taking their position of growth and their location in relation to sunlight in taking an average. In other words, he must know something of trees, mosses and lichens, and possess besides some ability to discriminate.

It is also true that the tips of conifers, such as pine, hemlock and spruce, incline toward the rising sun, or south of east, except where local conditions other wise affect the average rule—you should know these local conditions if they exist in your hunting territory. Also, the bark of some trees is thicker on the north side, but this does not apply to all trees.

One of the most reliable ways of finding the north without a compass is examining the annual growth rings of some trees which are thicker on the north and east sides, but generally this is junk knowledge, because in wild country no one has sawed down some trees for you; you usually haven't a big ax with you when lost, and you probably could not cut down two or three trees (remember you have to average) smoothly enough to see the growth rings—if you have, you certainly couldn't do it by "biting off" the trees with a hand ax.

Likewise it is true that the leaves of some plants, the compass plant, for instance, nearly always point in a certain direction when growing under average conditions, but you must know these plants when you see them, or know where to look for them, and know what average conditions, for them, are. Certain plants thrive only with a southern exposure, but do you know what these plants are?

As Horace Kephart, an authority on woodcraft, points out, a good woodsman would pass by unnoticed a thousand sour gums growing on bottom land, but one on a ridge would be a curiosity, a land mark. How many city men who travel in the woods know the different trees and their habits of growth? Our guess is less than 1 per cent.

The inexperienced man who attempts to hunt alone in territory he knows only in a general way is a boob—no matter of what state he is a native son.

DETROIT CUE SQUAD LEADS BY 14 POINTS WHEN HEDDON WINS

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Making a clever finish in which he scored 167 points in his last seven innings Charles Heddon, amateur champion of Michigan, defeated Wilson Henderson, 546 to 289, in the fourth game of the intercity balkline match with Detroit at Mussey's room last night.

The Wolverine leader wiped out a deficit of 225 points incurred by the first three Detroit players and put his team in the lead by eleven points, the grand totals being 1,300 to 1,289. Heddon averaged 7 36-67 with high run of 54, Henderson notching 4 21-67.

Henderson was a disappointment, his play showing no system that was akin to balkline, and the majority of his points were of the open table variety. The only redeeming feature was that he showed ability to execute difficult shots, even if unable to nurse the ivories for more than a few points in succession.

Heddon passed his 300 points in the forty-fifth inning and then led, 312 to 167. As Heddon had a spell of idleness after this it looked as if Henderson might pull out with a few points to the good, but the Michigan man caught his stroke, and just before midnight finished his final run of 46. Score:

C. HEDDON—6 1 8 2 0 2 54 12 6 1 0

1 0 1 0 31 3 0 6 0 — 289. Average, 4 21-67.

The final game of the home series will be played tonight, Irwin Huston of Detroit meeting Robert Lord. Robert Miehle and Tom Nolan may play 100 points each.

THREE CUSHION LEAGUE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Charles McCourt, representing Cleveland, won from Harry Cooler, 50 to 41, in seventy-four innings. McCourt's high run was 4. Cooler had 5.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—August Kieckhefer of Rockford has yet to meet defeat. He won his ninth straight game by defeating Hugh Heal, Toledo, 50 to 46, in eighty-six innings. Kieckhefer's high run was 8 and Heal's 6.

Crerar Jrs., 16; W. P. Baptists, 8.

Crerar Juniors downed the Washington Park Baptists, 16 to 8, in a basket game on the Crerar floor last night. Hall made all the Baptists' points.

I. A. C. PIN STARS HOLD INVADERS TO EVEN BREAK

Jimmy Smith and John Gengler broke even in their games at the Illinois Athletic club when they met Mott and Webster, two of the club's own experts. The home guard lost the two man match but knocked off the travelers in singles, Mott cleaning up Smith, while the "count" lost to Webster. McGlone and Sindelar lost in the afternoon contests at the Randolph alleys. Scores:

Two attempts to reach 300 failed on the the local bowling circuit. Otto Trader piled up 289 in the North Chicago and John Paha reached 279 in the Sherman Park league. Trader opened with 159 and it held him to a 679 series. The Staudts won the odd game from the Birk Bros., Mattie Luecker, Augie Trapp, and Tony Riermair all beating 600.

CHEERS SEND PURPLE ON WAY 'TO GET BACON'

Squad Off for Decisive Ohio State Game with High Hopes of Win.

BY EVAN STONE.

Their ears tingling with the shouts of hundreds of Purple rooters, and with a big "feed" under their belts, the treat of the Alumni association, the Northwestern team got away for Columbus last night at 10:10 o'clock.

In the words of Dick Gash, colored custodian of the general equipment and Babe Smith's shoes, "We all's goin' down ter Columbus to fetch back the old bacon rin'."

After a light scrimmage on Northwestern field, preceded by considerable detail work with the linemen by Coach McDevitt, Coach Murphy led his troupe of twenty-eight men to the University club, Chicago, where they were banqueted by 300 alumni.

Patten Is Toastmaster.

Led by Toastmaster James A. Patten, donor of the Northwestern gymnasium and wearer of an honorary "N," the coaches and squad were given the heartiest of cheers. "Jimmie" Patten spoke briefly of the pride of Evanston and Chicago in the team, and then introduced a list of speakers headed by George P. Merrick, university trustee. Coaches Murphy and McDevitt said that they took pleasure in telling the alumni that the men composing the Purple team were the gamest and most likeable bunch that they had ever seen on a field.

"They are not physically all powerful," said Coach Murphy, "but their mental determination to put to full use what power they have makes them a superior team. If it is possible to win, we shall."

Pattie a Bashful Orator.

Capt. Pattie Driscoll showed a bashfulness foreign to his field work when he was called to orate. O'Flaherty said Pattie's language was Irish, but that a translation would mean "We'll win." Other speakers were Wirt Humphrey and President Thomas Holgate.

Wee Willie McGill finally called a halt on the festivities and gathered up his "kids" for a march to the train. "Wee" lost no time in tucking every player into bed so that all would be asleep before the train started.

Work on Buckeye Field Today.

The men will arrive in Columbus this morning, where they will go to a hotel and rest until after lunch, when the coaches plan a workout on the Ohio State field. This evening a class will be held in signals and "formation imagery."

The squad is free from injuries that are of sufficient moment to hinder any one's play. Coach Murphy and Trainer McGill have watched their men closely this week on the lookout for signs of a letdown in pep, but both said last night that the team apparently was in great trim.

Uncertain Who Will Start.

Nothing could be learned from the practice during the week as to the lineup likely to start the championship game. It is likely that the reliables in the line who have started every game since the Chicago contest will be on the field at the kickoff, but the placement of the backfield is problematical.

Williams, Brightmire, and Underhill have taken turns at the quarter back job, and it is doubtful if Murphy will decide which pilot to start until just before the game. Cigrand and Ellingwood have alternated at right half and both showed great form. It is likely, however, that Ellingwood will get the call because of his greater experience under fire. Two fixtures may be set down in Capt. Driscoll at left half back and "Bubbles" Kohler at full back.

Makeup of Purple Squad.

The Purple squad taken to Columbus follows:

Linemen—Brumbach, Bennett, Ulrich, Smith, Zanger, Putnam, Norman, Arries, Lynch, Johnson, Thomas, Welch, Randolph, Mayer, Mulder, Gessler, Jones, and Ware.

Backfield men—Capt. Driscoll, Kohler, Ellingwood, Brightmire, Cigrand, Underhill, Williams, Mueller, Bradt, and Casey.

Coaches—Murphy, McDevitt, and Rogers.

Trainers—McGill and Anscheutz.

Director—Louis Omer.

Mr. Richard Washington Lincoln Gash.

BUCKEYES HOLD SIGNAL DRILL.

Columbus, O., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Ohio State's first flighters of the football squad were in uniform for about an hour, being in quarters at 5 o'clock. There was a running of signals on an emergency gridiron, the regular field being covered with hay after the turf had been wet by a morning rain.

For the signal frolic Bolen and Peabody were on ends. The Courtneys were at tackles. Karch was at one guard place and Turner at the other, with Holtkamp at center. Sorenson, Yerges, Hurm, and Harley were in the back field.

THREE PURPLE ROOTERS MOTOR TO BATTLE GROUND

Lawrence Turnbull, Sherwood Baker, and Glenn Knigge left Evanston yesterday to drive the 370 miles to Columbus in a roadster profusely decorated with Northwestern colors. They expect to arrive tomorrow morning. Two stops were expected to be made, one at Lafayette, where they expected to spend last night with the Phi Delta Theta fraternity brothers at Purdue, and another at Dayton, where they plan to be tonight.

N. W. COLLEGE TO PLAY "Y."

Northwestern college footballers, who stage their final scheduled game of the season against the Y. M. C. A. college eleven of Chicago at Naperville this afternoon, are willing to defend their claim of north Illinois collegiate championship. Coach Osborn says the victory of his team over Knox last Saturday gives him the privilege of meeting either St. Viator college of Bourbonnais or Millikin college in a post-season game. Northwestern has scored 237 points to its opponents' 60 in eight games.

RAIN HALTS HARVARD AND YALE TEAMS IN DRILL AT NEW HAVEN

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 23.—A driving rain from the south which made the gridiron in the Yale bowl soggy and slippery, interferred with practice plans of the Harvard and Yale elevens this afternoon.

The vanguard of the Crimson squad, thirty strong, headed by Coach Haughton, practiced for a few minutes in the ampitheater and then sought shelter at a hotel, later going to New London for the night. The gridiron was covered with a layer of straw after the practice.

Eli Players Stay Indoors.

The Yale squad did not attempt practice outdoors, Coach Jones driving his charges through a sharp signal drill in the baseball cage. The line was given individual instructions in breaking through. The varsity lined up exactly as it entered the Princeton game.

Capt. Black, Smith, Moseley, and Comerford have slight sore throats, but the trainers say they will be able to play on Saturday. The local weather bureau tonight predicted fair weather for the game.

Crimson Squad at New London.

New London, Conn., Nov. 23.—Harvard's football squad of thirty-one players, accompanied by coaches and trainers, arrived early tonight from New Haven to remain until Saturday morning, when they will be taken to New Haven on a special train.

The players attended a theater tonight and retired early. Weather conditions permitting, a practice drill will be held at the baseball field tomorrow. The remainder of the squad is expected from Cambridge tomorrow afternoon.

TETANUS KILLS PRAIRIE PLAYER

Elmer L. Carlquist, 17 years old, 5749 South Morgan street, died at his home yesterday from tetanus which developed from a cut in his left hand which he suffered Nov. 12 while playing in a prairie football game.

The boy fell after making a tackle and cut his hand on a piece of glass.

Drs. H. E. Stowell and F. F. Fair were called the next day, when the boy's hand began to swell. Efforts to check the infection were unavailing.

ELGIN H. S. PLAYER DIES; SCHOOL DISBANDS TEAMS

Elgin, Ill., Nov. 23.—Cyril Pritchard, 17 years old, full back of the Elgin High school lightweight football team, died today. His death followed a surgical operation to remove a blood clot on the brain, resulting from an accident in a game against East Aurora lightweights Nov. 11. Pritchard was paralyzed since the accident.

The Elgin schedule, including the Thanksgiving day game with Englewood, has been canceled and both local teams disbanded.

NEBRASKANS OFF FOR FRAY

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 23.—The Nebraska football squad, comprising members of the first team and twelve other eligibles, left tonight for Iowa City to meet the Hawkeyes Saturday. Later in the night a special train carrying scores of rooters, the university band, and freshmen players left for the same destination. The varsity squad with coaches and trainers will remain at Des Moines until Friday.

FOOTBALL RESULTS.

Emporia, 20; Washburn, 0.

Texas A. & M., 20; Dallas, 6.

77,453 TICKETS SOLD FOR YALE-HARVARD

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 23.—A total of 77,453 tickets have been sent out for the Yale-Harvard football game here on Saturday. Of this number 28,171 have been taken by Harvard. The total includes 244 press and 300 sideline tickets. Two years ago 68,042 persons saw the blue and crimson classic here. The attendants, including ushers, at the game will be 1,500.

AT PURPLE DINNER

Director Omer announced that the special rooters' train would leave the Union station tonight at 11 o'clock.

William S. Mason, university trustee, sent a note of regret, saying that he was nursing a cold "tonight, so that I may go to Columbus tomorrow night."

Phillip Shumway, university trustee, said that Murphy was the man who had taken the "stern" out of Northwestern.

President Holgate admitted that the string of Northwestern victories had benefited the university. "Nothing," he said, "so enlivens and invigorates an institution as a victory in football."

James A. Patten never mixed his signals once while acting as toastmaster. Mr. Patten said that the Northwestern trustees had spent many anxious hours over football. "We abolished it once," he said, "but we saw that was a mistake. After reinstating it we scoured the United States for a coach. We found Murphy. Our hopes are realized."

Football stands not upon false dignity. Along with the cheering for Pattie Driscoll and other members of the team, the Purple alumni gave nine rahs for "Jimmie," nine for "Tommie," and nine for "Willie," "Shummie," "Bill," and "Georgie," meaning respectively, James A. Patten, President Holgate, William S. Mason, Phillip Shumway, William A. Dyche, and George P. Merrick.

Coach Murphy, in speaking of Northwestern's schedule, said: "These so-called big teams, the 'big four,' have had a gentlemen's agreement about their own playing dates, and have chucked the rest of us in where they pleased. One of the big ones wired us last year at 2:30 p. m. that if we wished to play on a certain date, an early one, we must answer by 5:30. Politeness required us to answer, but we didn't telegraph what we wanted to say. As for Chicago, Mr. Stagg picked the date. We have no quarrel."

COACH PUTS BADGERS THROUGH HARD WORK DESPITE HEAVY RAIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Heavy rain did not prevent Coach Withington from driving his men through another hard scrimmage in the mud at Camp Randall. The practice was the most promising from the coach's viewpoint since the Minnesota game. The first team showed more drive than at any time this season.

The four players who failed to report during the first part of the week were in scrimmage, but it is probable the changes in the back field will be permanent. Hancock, the big guard, received a blow on the head and had to be taken out, but it is not believed the injury will interfere with his playing Saturday. Capt. Meyers has not been in a suit this week and Gaurnsey is slated to start in his place against Illinois.

The rain of the last two days will make the field extremely slow Saturday and will handicap both teams in open field work.

ILLINOIS EXPECTS VICTORY.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Cheered by 1,000 rooters and the Illini band, Bob Zuppke's squad entrained for Chicago tonight. Zuppke, Capt. Macomber, and other players assured their adherents that they would cop from the Badgers Saturday. The Illini will leave Chicago for Madison tomorrow morning. Less than 100 rooters will follow the squad, as no special rates have been secured.

MICHIGAN TEAM GOES EAST.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Coach Farrell of the track teams, with seven Michigan cross country runners, left this afternoon for New Haven, Conn., where they will run in the intercollegiate cross country meet Saturday. The runners are Capt. Kuivinen, Carroll, Bouma, Fox, Fuess, Sedgwick, and Bachtel. The distance of six miles to be covered Saturday is the longest yet attempted by the Wolverine outfit.

Roller Rivals Meet Tonight.

Roland Crane will attempt to get back at Leon Kemm for two recent beatings when the two hook up in the five mile professional race at Riverview tonight. Nineteen pros are entered. There also will be a one mile handicap for amateurs and a mile straightaway.

Lewis vs. Kandrat Tonight.

Ed (Strangler) Lewis and Andy Kandrat will met tonight in a finish wrestling match at the Haymarket theater. Pete Katausky will tackle Billy Thompson and Jack Savage will meet Cardini, the Italian heavyweight, in other bouts.

STAGGS EXPECT TO GIVE GOPHERS HARD STRUGGLE

Maroons on Edge for Battle Tomorrow—Visitors Favorites at 3 to 1.

BY MAROON.

The Maroons concluded all hard work for the Minnesota game with a three hour signal drill on Stagg field. The men are in perfect condition and the trainers feared too much driving would take the edge off their play. In the evening the athletes assembled for another dope session in Bartlett gymnasium, and if Chicago does not stop the forward passes Full Back Wyman shoots to Capt. Baston it will not be because they have not talked over the Gopher methods.

The regulars have not been scrimmaged since the Illinois victory. As none was crippled in that game, the Maroons will go onto the field with every man in fighting trim. The mental attitude of the players is almost as good as the physical condition.

Team Promises Real Battle.

While the general impression persists that Chicago is in for an awful beating, the team shares the opinion of the students that it will be a battle. If it gets the breaks at the start things will not look so good to those who are betting 3 to 1 on the Gophers.

Minnesota will arrive this morning and will take a short signal practice, probably at White Sox park. The big band of rooters will be on hand tomorrow morning and most of the wagers will be placed after the arrival of the money from the Twin Cities, 1 to 3 on the game and 1 to 2 that the Gophers do not win by twenty points are the most common wagers, but there are plenty of freak bets on the score.

Field Covered with Hay.

The field has been covered with hay, which will not be removed until noon Saturday, and the ground will be firm if the weather is clear until game time. A sloppy field would hinder the scoring possibilities of both teams.

All day long the carpenters' hammers rang on Stagg field as new circus seats were put in place at every possible spot on the border of the gridiron. More than half the bleacher seats were sold yesterday, leaving about 1,600 of the field boxes and bleacher coupons to be disposed of.

MINNESOTA TEAM LEAVES.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The Minnesota squad left Minneapolis tonight for the Chicago game at Stagg field Saturday. The depot was jammed with students, who turned their lungs inside out in a final "bon voyage" to the Gophers. Victory was predicted in platform speeches by Dr. Williams, Capt. Baston, Sprafka, Hauser, Wyman, and Long. Sprafka has recovered completely from his injury, but was not used in practice today. The drill consisted of signal work and phantom scrimmage. Wise was at left half. The Gopher second squad, the band, and a thousand students will leave in special trains for Chicago tomorrow night.

PURDUE OUGHT TO DEFEAT INDIANA, SAYS STIEHM.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Indiana's advance guard will move on Lafayette tomorrow noon in a special parlor car attached to the Chicago express. All coaches, trainers, physicians, and twenty odd men will make the trip. Arriving at Lafayette at 2:30 Coach Stiehm will take the squad to Stuart field for a signal drill and limbering up. The remainder of the squads, varsity and freshmen, will go on the rooters' special next day.

Stiehm was anything but optimistic tonight. He said:

"If Indiana wins it will be unexpected because of the miserable condition of our men. Taking it all in all, we realize the odds are against us. Purdue has us outweighed at least 10 pounds to the man and a wet field would be to its advantage. Prof. Moran of Purdue has drawn the conclusion that Murchie is ineligible. Therefore we have decided not to use Murchie in this game.

"Purdue can rest assured that every man on the Indiana team is eligible and we hope the Lafayette school officials will investigate the professional charges against at least one of their players."

NOTES OF THE GOLFERS.

Stewart Gardner of Old Elm has been elected secretary of the middle states section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, taking the place of Walter Fovargue, who has gone to San Francisco. Harry Collis of Homewood succeeds Fovargue on the executive committee.

Owing to adverse weather conditions the opening of the new Bob o' Link course at Highland Park has been postponed until Dec. 2.

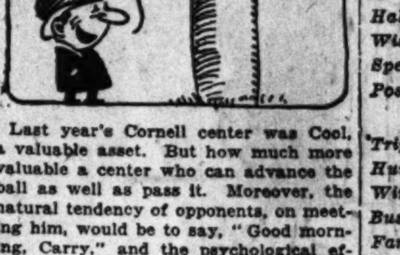
In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

IT took us just twenty minutes of careful study to select an all-star football eleven from the 1916 field. Picking a second team was more of a task and several of the men honored with positions on No. 2 have close rivals for their berths.

However, we believe there can be no question so far as the first squad is concerned.



SOME STABILITY!

Last year's Cornell center was Cool, a valuable asset. But how much more valuable a center who can advance the ball as well as pass it. Moreover, the natural tendency of opponents, on meeting him, would be to say, "Good morning, Carry," and the psychological effect of this would be remarkable—Carry's team would have a good start before the opponents realized it was afternoon.

At right guard we have a man who never has to worry over scholastic difficulties. At left guard we have the proper spirit, and in the tackle positions perfect balance.

The end selections go unchallenged.

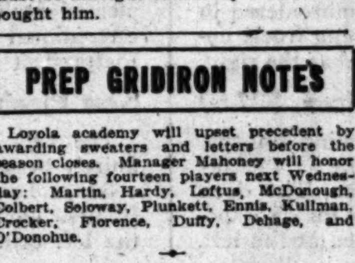
The quarterback position is annually growing more important and brains are the prime requisite. Who, then, has shown more intelligence than Hake of Purdue, who got himself so badly hurt in one of the early games that he has been unable to play since?

In this first team we have Carry, really an extra back as well as a center; Degree, Hake, Kraft, and Wise for brains; Little and Hogg for balance; Speed for speed; Post for stability; Proud for spirit, and Peach for obvious reasons.

* *

Triplett is given the three center positions on the second team to cut down expenses. Hurt of Crane is placed at right tackle for his gameness, and Winn at the other tackle on general principles. The end berths are given to Buschmann and Farnum to attract the ladies to the game.

Bell at quarter is a novelty. The signals could be rung instead of sung.



DING!
THEY WORK FAST WHEN I USE A DINNER BELL!
HALL

For one half back we have Eddy because he is Very Good. For the other we have Light so the boys can practice after sundown.

And at full back we have Szold, who must be all right or nobody would have bought him.

ARMY SQUAD LEAVES FOR NEW YORK TODAY; DALY NAMES LINEUP

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Head Coach Daly of the Army eleven tonight announced that the lineup and approximate weights for the game with the Navy at New York Saturday would me:

The Army squad of fifty-six players, with coaches, trainers and rubbers, will leave here for New York at 8:40 o'clock tomorrow. The battalion of officers and cadets will follow Saturday morning.

The Soldiers went through their final workout in a heavy rain. Except for a brief practice at the Polo grounds the eleven will do no further work until it meets the Navy. Coach Daly asserted the team is in good condition and ready for a fight.

NAVY.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 23.—Confident in the ability of their favorites to pummel the Army and break the series of West Point victories, 1,200 midshipmen this afternoon hauled their team through the streets of Annapolis and gave them a real sendoff when the start was made for New York, where on Saturday the interservice football classic will be staged.

The Navy team admittedly has shown more real football prowess this year than for many seasons past, and the Navy rooters see nothing but a Navy victory by a decisive score.

Amateur Teams Meet for Title.

When the North Shores and Lexingtons end their championship Chicago Amateur league game at Schorling's park Sunday afternoon, Judge Newcomer will present the cup he donated to the winning eleven. The teams are tied in percentage with four victories and a tie each. The Cornell-Hamburgs will oppose the reorganized Homewood A. C. at 1:15 o'clock.

PREP GRIDIRON NOTES

Loyola academy will upset precedent by awarding sweaters and letters before the season closes. Manager Mahoney will honor the following fourteen players next Wednesday: Martin, Hardy, Loftus, McDonough, Colbert, Soloway, Plunkett, Ennis, Kullman, Crocker, Florence, Duffy, Dehage, and O'Donohue.

The climax of the local prep season will be marked by gay doings when Loyola and St. Ignatius academies meet on the north side gridiron Thanksgiving day. A band will be hired, which will play before and during the game on the terrace overlooking the field. The seat sale has been extremely heavy, and it is expected that at least 5,000 will be at the battle.

Lake Forest academy will make the Culver Military combat at Lake Forest tomorrow a homecoming affair. Culver alumni residing in Chicago will travel to the game in a special train, while at least 1,000 former Lake Forest students will attend the closing game of the season. This will be the sixteenth meeting of the rival schools, with Culver leading in victories.

Englewood High, which has been looking for a Thanksgiving day game for several weeks, apparently is jinxed. Everett High of Boston was signed for a game in the east, but this contest was canceled because of the poor showing by the easterners. La Crosse, Wis., was almost hooked up, but decided to meet Elkhorn, Wis., in a contest for the Badger state championship. Elgin gave assurances for a game, but this scrap was canceled because of the death of an Elgin player. Now there are some hopes of battling at Oshkosh.

Harrison heavyweights, who finished next to Englewood in the southern division, will travel to Mason City, Ia., while Hyde Park will engage the Boys' High school at Louisville in turkey day contests.

Both Coach Baradell of Englewood and Coach Meyers of Crane finished their strenuous work yesterday for the championship battle of the Chicago heavyweight league at Tiger park, Forty-seventh and Lake street tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Englewood practiced in the Parker High school gymnasium, because the field was in no condition for the drill. Crane took to the air at Douglas park and engaged in an hour's scrimmage.

"Chick" Anderson, Englewood's left halfback, has played his last high school game. Anderson will celebrate his twenty-first birthday tomorrow and therefore will not be eligible for the championship game with Crane.

There will be no De Paul-Lake Forest academy game this season. The authorities of both schools got together yesterday, but couldn't reach an agreement.

Dusossoit to Head Dartmouth.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 23.—F. J. Dusossoit of Brookline, Mass., was elected captain of next year's Dartmouth football team today. For the last two seasons he has played end.

GRIFFITHS GETS BEATING IN BOUT WITH TED LEWIS

English Welter Scores a Clean Victory in Ten Round Thriller.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—In a thrilling ten round battle tonight, Ted Lewis, English welterweight, outpointed Johnny Griffiths of Akron. Lewis was forced to extend himself to the limit during the last few rounds, when the Akron lad tried to regain his lost lead.

Griffiths had the edge in only one round, the seventh. He took a severe pummeling in the sixth, when Lewis slammed him into the ropes several times and staggered him with rights to the jaw. Four rounds went to Lewis and the rest were even.

Lewis Better at Infighting.

Johnny started out to mix furiously, but found Lewis just as ready to get in close. Several right jolts reached Griff's jaw and Lewis got the edge. In the second Griff kept his distance and came out with honors even, but in the next two he tried his infighting tactics again and took a beating.

In the fifth Griffiths was tired and by dancing away and working his left he kept matters even. He started to mill it again in the sixth and was staggered so badly by a hard right swing to the jaw that he seemed in danger of a knockout, but managed to slip many of Lewis' blows and got through the round.

Griffiths Makes Only Spurt.

The Akron boy recuperated so fast that in the seventh he got the margin, but through the rest of the rounds it was a toe to toe battle, with no advantage to either.

MYSTIC TOSSERS BEAT DOWNERS GROVE, 47-16.

Mystic A. C. won an easy basketball game from Downers Grove, 47 to 16, at Lewis Institute gym last night. The Mystic boys used two men for each position, trying out the array of candidates which may make the Dearborn street club team a formidable five for all rivals this year. Horn led the scoring with six baskets. Lineup:

NEW STAR HIGH IN SHOOT.

W. A. Lee, a newcomer among the pistol topliners, won the sixth weekly shoot of the Chicago Revolver club at the range, 1800 North Halsted street. W. P. Northcott, usually winner, shot well, but the competition was so keen he landed fifth. High scores:

W. A. Lee, 213; Walter Wolff, 212; W. Douglas, 203; G. S. Reynolds, 201; W. P. Northcott, 200; T. D. Tuite, 177; H. L. Werner, 175.

NOTES OF THE SOCCER PLAYERS

Manager Shea of Joliet, who will have charge of the Illinois State soccer team, which will play an all-Chicago team at Bricklayers' park Thanksgiving day, announces that no player on the champion Joliet team will appear in the state team. The visiting team will be picked largely from the mining teams, some of the men coming from as far south as Johnson City.

Secretary Cahill of the United States Football association writes that the mixup on Sunday in the local games in the national cup series here cannot be blamed on the U. S. F. A. officials at large, the matches being in charge of the national cup committee.

And Now the Winter Modes in

Misses' Charming Frocks and Coats

A Fashion Opportunity With Emphasis Upon Certain Advantages in Pricing

Not a day without additional new and charming arrivals in these Misses' Sections. Here are smart and simple frocks for service, fluffy affairs for gaiety, and coats for both. But here we make mention especially of some splendid values in just the clothes young women are needing now,

Navy Blue Serge Frocks at $15

The bodice is quaintly cut in closer lines. Two old-fashioned looking pockets, suspended from the waist, are embroidered in old blue. In all, a most becoming frock, unusually priced at $15. Sketched at the right.

Winter Coats of Wool Velour, $27.50

Stitching is the sole trimming on this very smart coat—but stitching is the favored of fashion this season. The deep collar converts itself cleverly into a cape. In the desired colors. Sketched at the left.

Straight-Line Frocks of Serge, $18.75

In navy blues also, with a touch of white at the collar. Fashioned in the new pleated style, loosely belted at the waist. Exceptional in style and pricing at $18.75. Pictured at the right center.

New Plush Coats, Fur-Trimmed, $45

The soft richness of this fabric is infinitely becoming to youth. Fur edges the collar and cuffs, and a broad belt holds the fullness both front and back. Sketched at the left center.

Fashion Favors Kolinsky

This soft, rich Fur, much like Russian sable, is so universally becoming that it is enjoying a wide popularity. Some charming novelty pieces have been developed in it, from diminutive Capes, reminiscent of our grandmothers' Furs, to long Stoles reaching to the hem of the gown and regal enough for an empress.

A quaint little Cape of Kolinsky has a monk collar effect reaching quite to the eyes, and priced $125. Illustrated at the right.

A double purpose shawl effect Stole of Kolinsky has cleverly designed pockets on the front and a narrow tie around the waist. Price $385. Illustrated at the left.

Tassels are a feature of the Cape illustrated in the center, for each point supports one. Priced at $215.

Scarfs and Stoles are priced at $65, $85, $100 and up.

Muffs are priced at $65, $75, $85 and up.

SERVE GOOSE, SHUN TURKEY, AND SAVE $1.20

One Sure Way to Cut the High Cost of Your Thanksgiving Dinner.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Serve a roast goose for Thanksgiving dinner and cut $1.20 off the high cost of living!

Turkeys sold on South Water street yesterday at 32 cents a pound wholesale. That means the retailer will be obliged to charge at least 35 cents a pound. A twelve pound turkey for Thanksgiving dinner will therefore cost at least $4.20.

Geese sold on South Water street yesterday at 19 and 20 cents a pound. No retailer should charge more than 25 cents a pound for a fine, fat goose. One that weighs twelve pounds would cost $3.

The difference on the one item represents a saving of $1.20. For larger and smaller families—and birds—the proportion of saving is the same. Turkeys cost at least 10 cents a pound more than geese of the same quality.

Last year at this time the consumer paid 27 cents a pound for his Thanksgiving turkey. The rise in retail prices in the year is about 25 per cent.

The Tangible Method.

It is time that consumers realized that if they want to break down the high cost of living they will have to depend chiefly on themselves. If any considerable number of Chicago families will turn—however reluctantly—from turkeys to geese for the great autumnal feast they will do more to lower the price of gobblers than any number of federal or municipal investigations are likely to accomplish.

If both turkeys and geese are too big or too expensive for the family, the housewife should be able to buy ducks for 24 or 25 cents a pound or scalded chickens at the same figure.

Whether or not there is anything like a corner in turkeys, there are sound reasons why geese and other fowls should regularly sell at a lower price per pound. Young turkeys are extremely delicate and hard to raise to maturity. If a gang of young turkeys get their feet wet half of them are likely to die, while being caught in a cold rain will wipe out most of them. Geese, on the other hand, and chickens and ducks as well, are comparatively easy to raise.

Consumers Hold Power.

Consumers will find, in the matter of poultry as well as of other food products, that when high prices become oppressive the best remedy lies in their own hands. The best way to fight the selfish action of individual or corporate food speculators is by the collective action of consumers. By simply boycotting almost any article of food and refusing to serve it on their own tables for a few weeks the women's clubs of Chicago could almost certainly break the price—provided, at least, that the high price is artificial and not entirely caused by a real scarcity and a big demand.

That some such action on their part may be expected is indicated by statements made yesterday by two club presidents.

Women Talk Boycotts.

"We have appointed a committee of five members," said Mrs. Rhoda M. Roberts, president of the Englewood Woman's club, "to devise plans for making Thanksgiving dinner a less expensive and elaborate feast in the homes of all of us. The committee will meet on Monday next and I shall suggest and urge that goose be substituted for turkey on the menu."

"Our board will meet tomorrow morning," said Mrs. A. H. Brumback, president of the West End Woman's club. "The annual Thanksgiving dinner of the club will be held this year on Dec. 2, and we have already about decided that we cannot afford to serve turkey. We will consider the plan of substituting goose at tomorrow's meeting. Whatever the decision in regard to the club dinner, the idea of serving goose will be presented to the club section on household economics, which meets later in the day."

Water Street Explanation.

South Water street dealers insisted that it was extremely difficult to get a sufficient supply of turkeys to supply the demand in Chicago and the adjacent territory. They blamed bad weather conditions, chiefly the cold and wet of last spring, for what they declare is a short crop of turkeys. The high cost of wheat and other poultry foods is also urged as one reason why more turkeys have not been raised.

It is stated positively that no turkeys are at present in cold storage, the market depending entirely on the daily arrivals. It is also denied, though with no great emphasis, that the turkey crop is practically controlled by two or three large shippers.

ADMITS VOTING 37 TIMES; SAYS OTHERS DID THE SAME

Election Frauds Unearthed at Kansas City—"High Up" Politicians Said to Be Involved.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Affidavits from four men swearing that they voted fraudulently in the election of Nov. 7 and that to their knowledge others did likewise were in the hands of Francis M. Wilson, United States district attorney here, tonight.

One man swore that he voted thirty-seven times and that he "knew of forty more men who voted as many times and in as many paces as I did."

Included in the affidavits were names of men high up in local political circles. These, however, were not made public.

Tea.

The diet squad cook book offers the following recipes for today's three meals for twelve people:

GRIDDLE CAKES.

3 cups flour.
1½ tablespoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.
2 cups milk.
1 egg.
3 tablespoons melted butter.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients; beat egg, add milk, and pour slowly on first mixture. Beat thoroughly and add melted butter.

GINGERBREAD.

¼ cup butterine.
½ cup sugar.
½ cup molasses.
1 egg.
½ cup sour milk.
1¾ cups flour.
2 teaspoons ginger.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
1 teaspoon soda.

Cream the butterine; add sugar, molasses, sour milk, and the egg well beaten. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add to the first mixture. Bake in a moderate oven thirty to forty-five minutes.

CREAM TAPIOCA PUDDING.

½ cup pearl tapioca.
1 quart scalded milk.
2 eggs.
1-3 cup sugar.
¼ teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Soak tapioca in cold water one hour; drain and add to milk; cook in a double boiler until tapioca is transparent. Add the sugar and salt to the eggs when slightly beaten. Add milk and tapioca to this mixture; return to double boiler and cook until it thickens; add slowly to stiffly beaten eggs. Chill and flavor.

DIET SQUAD TO DANCE TONIGHT

But There'll Be No Imbibing and No Extra Food.

Health Commissioner Robertson's diet squad found a way last night to dispose of the money saved by eating model meals at his expense. After the dinner tonight the whole squad will attend the health department annual ball at the Hotel Sherman.

"We are going to go it strong at the ball," Dr. A. J. Stokes, head of the squad, "flowers and all that, and if we have any money left afterward we will be marvels."

The ball will be accompanied with refreshments, but none of the squad will be permitted to indulge.

Some Landladies Stand Pat.

Several of those who live at boarding houses protested that their landladies would make no allowances for the two weeks' table absence as guests of Dr. Robertson.

"As for me," said Miss Lessie Petit, now known as "Ma" Petit, because she sits at the foot of the table, "I am remembering that Christmas is not far away."

Those who live at boarding houses and are able to induce the landladies to count off the missed meals will save at least $5.50 for the ball or the Christmas presents.

Two Terrible Blows.

Two terrible blows befell the squad yesterday. The first was the information that "hash day" comes today. It will be served at luncheon, disguised as "beef and rice croquettes," but it is the leftover of Tuesday's beef purchases just the same.

The other blow was the announcement from Dr. Robertson that he had received a gift of fine venison and would tantalize the diet squad by serving it to friends at an adjoining table, while the dieters watched.

Members of the squad were present at all meals during the day. All are in good health. Their reports were to the effect that the meals were entirely satisfactory. Since they started the balanced ration diet a net gain of eleven pounds has been marked on the report.

Dr. Robertson has not yet made public any official figures on the cost of the meals except the original statement that it would be below 40 cents a day a person.

BOY PITCHES 1,000 STONES AS SENTENCE; NEVER AGAIN!

Massachusetts Youth Who Injured Companion Near Collapse When Court's Order Is Completed.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Leonard Crowder, 16 years old, threw the last stone of his young life this afternoon when he paid the penalty imposed by Judge Henry T. Lummus in the Juvenile session of the District court and pitched 1,000 stones in succession in a gravel pit while Probation Officer Thomas A. Farmer did the counting.

It took the youngster one hour and thirty minutes to complete his sentence. Crowder was arrested after he had thrown a pebble which destroyed the eye of one of his companions. Previous complaints to the police of the boy's habit of throwing stones prompted Judge Lummus to impose the sentence.

When the officer called out the nine hundred and twenty-fifth stone Crowder said, "I can't throw any more. I'm all in. No more stones for me!" His arm was limp and the boy was gasping for breath when Officer Farmer called out the thousandth stone. "I have thrown the last stone," the boy said.

Held as Dope Peddlers.

Three alleged dope peddlers were held to the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote. They were arrested in a raid on a flat at 1522 South Wabash avenue. Quantities of morphine and cocaine were confiscated. The defendants are Oscar and Nellie Lance and W. J. Schilling.

DIVORCE MENACE MORE OMINOUS; SEEK SOLUTION

"Tribune" to Aid in Solving Marital Social Problem by Depicting Ill Effects.

BY AUDRIE ALSPAUGH CHASE
(Kitty Kelly).

During the month of October in Cook county there were issued 3,203 marriage licenses and 634 divorce decrees. The divorce figures came from Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, head of the county social service bureau, which is preparing a report with recommendations on the problem. The statistics for the preceding months of 1916 are not yet available, it being a mountain of work to sift them out of all the cases coming before the courts with which they are filed indiscriminately, but in 1914 there were to 33,897 marriages, 3,614 divorces, and in 1915, to 31,509 marriages, 4,116 divorces.

This indicates a growing marital restlessness in one of the most populous spots of the country, which it is felt that the complete records for the year will bear out.

The Question Is "Why?"

A big question is the "why" behind those cold facts of figures.

There are, of course, the equally cold facts of the charges on the court record, the permissible statutory reasons.

For instance, in 1915 the 4,116 divorces are divided thus:

Desertion	1,905
Cruelty	1,342
Adultery	501
Habitual drunkenness	151
Convicted of felony	27
Bigamy	45
Impotency	16
Insanity	2
Fraud	11
Consanguinity	1
Minority	30
Failure to get license	1
Violation of remarriage provisions	84

Many Are Childless.

But these statistics don't illuminate much. They are too routine and too impersonal. Mrs. Britton has drawn some other figures on the percentage side which help in casting light. For instance, for these two years nearly 64 per cent of those seeking divorces were childless. The percentage of those securing divorces in the first year of marriage were, for 1914, 21.17 per cent, and for 1915, 20.17 per cent. Divorces granted in the first five years of marriage were, for 1914, 20 per cent, and for 1915, 21 per cent. One striking note is that only 3 per cent were home owners.

While these charges hold true on their own merit in many cases, there must be behind many more of them conditions which lead irretrievably to the divorce courts—conditions of such delicacy, temperamental considerations, psychological significance that knowledge of them might aid in remodeling social relations so as not to remedy but to get at the root of the divorce trouble, and prevent—not wholly, of course, but its modern extravagant manifestation.

Some Basic Causes.

Might not some of the reasons underlying statistics be such things as these: Lack of right home training in youth, lack of spiritual discipline, lack of mutual toleration, lack of realization of the seriousness of marriage with too much stress on the love glamour, youth and impulse, a girl's home unhappiness that drives her to marriage as an escape, economic pressure for single women that makes them seek any marriage offering as an escape, too much emphasis on the physical side, lack of mutual ties and interests?

Much as it may care and do, consideration of such fundamental reasons as these is beyond a court's detailed notice. A court must deal with the immediate crisis.

Many Special Tribunals.

To cope with this special problem there are many busy courts in the city. Judges Gridley, Sullivan, and Bell of the Superior court hear divorce cases, the contest cases occurring usually during the week, in among other cases just as they are filed, the default cases being sifted out mainly for Saturdays. Judge Thomson of the Circuit court hears nothing but divorce cases all day long, averaging thirty a day.

Related municipal courts are the Court of Domestic Relations, which seeks to hold families together, presided over by Judge Rooney, and the Morals court, dealing with unfortunate girls, with Judge Fisher. Socialized courts bearing on the problem of society and human relationships are the Juvenile court, with Judge Victor P. Arnold, in which Miss Mary Bartelme has a section meeting the problems of delinquent girls, and the Boys' court, where Judge Dolan bridges the gap from 17 to 21 years.

Humanity Built on Love.

This is the machinery evolved by men, and women, too, to undo the life tangles wrought by the love force, thwarted. Humanity is built on love, civilization is evolved on love. It is the dominating force of uplift, and, thwarted, the most powerful force of demoralization. It ramifies all life.

While society does a deal to encourage the flowering of the love force, it is responsible, likewise, in individual manifestations, and, en masse, for much thwarting. These courts every day are crowded with evidence of this. There are reasons for divorces, and fallen women and delinquent children behind the obvious ones cited in court. If this were a private matter it might be a private matter. But it isn't. The court dockets prove it. It is a matter of community interest. If the community has part in the cause the community as a body and as individuals ought to know about it. Every act of every individual is far-reaching.

For instance, the divorces for the preceding two years affected 4,337 minor children. In 1914, 1,921 had the homes to which their birthright entitles them shattered; in 1915 it was 2,416. Of this total, 1,999 were girls, 2,338 were boys. Immediately these children are a community interest; they must be taken care of, they may grow into the future material for the juvenile court, the divorce courts and all the other courts for that matter, for, of course, there are other life forces, thwarted, which wreak harm.

Children are the great complication which makes divorce so insidious an evil and which makes its increase so ominous—they are what make some solution imperative.

"Tribune" Seeks to Help.

It is purposed by THE TRIBUNE to help in the seeking of the solution by the indirect, yet shortest, method of looking for the real reasons that must lie below the surface of circumstances. This is to be done by objective verbal pictures of cases that come up in these various courts. It is not to be sensational; it is not to exploit individuals.

But situations will be presented to readers, facts about love, broken, deceived, and, it is hoped, revived, that will give material for conclusions as to things that are wrong which may be righted and things that are right which may be strengthened. Living is to be learned from life. This will be a sort of mental moving picture of a manifested phase of the love life which will speak for itself without moralizing subtitles, leaving it to the lady behind to explain to her neighbor.

THE SKY LOSES SOME OF ITS BLUENESS

Fate Not So Hard After All on French Players Who Now Are on Pot-Boiler Trip to Urbana.

Although the French Players have left Chicago on a potboiler trip to Urbana to break the long hiatus between meals, their suites in the Tyson apartment have been retained and—merci le bon Dieu!—there has been a sudden accession of real money from somewhere! It is Canadian money, which is considerably more grateful to an impoverished band than currency from across the southern border. Still M. Gustave Rolland, the director, has by no means satisfied the financial requirements of the twenty artists in the company. Many of them complain they have not been given enough money even for food. The company was forced to leave the Playhouse because the rent was not paid. M. Raymond Faure, artistic director, declares he is hopeful of putting the project on a sound financial basis in the near future.

HEARTHSTONE ASHES

In Which the Cheer Has Gone from Matrimonial Fires.

JANGLED matrimonial chords sounded yesterday when the "other man," the "other woman" and cruelty were alleged as causes for divorce.

Mrs. Maude J. White said her husband, Bert C., former postmaster of Downers Grove, broke her glasses. Decree.

Mrs. Harry Fletcher said Harry was in love with Mrs. Pearl Heller. She is free.

Charles A. Cuney said his wife kept a picture of "the other man" on the mantel. That was enough.

Edward Lottman moved all the furniture out, according to Mrs. Lottman, formerly of Peoria. He needn't come back.

Mrs. Frederick Frankenberg said her husband is an inventor who mostly invents excuses to drink. She was awarded $60 a month.

Charles E. Coleman of St. Paul is mostly a card player and an indifferent one, according to his wife. Decree.

Mrs. Max Caplan of Jersey City, N. J., followed Max to Chicago and found him with a woman. She asks a divorce.

Mrs. Amalie Stroening, seeking separate maintenance, asserts her husband, acquired in Russia, has hit her, kicked her, and thrown a telephone in her face because she selfishly objected to his attentions to other women.

WOMEN CAN'T SCARE EGG KING

James E. Wetz Finds Little to Fear in Boycott Proposal.

James E. Wetz, "egg king," who asked Wednesday night what the public was going to do about the high cost of eggs, got his answer yesterday.

"I have arranged with the officers of women's clubs," said Ald. Pretzel at a meeting of the council health committee, "to call an egg buyers' strike. The boycott will begin at once and last four weeks. All housewives are asked to join in a refusal to buy eggs until the price goes down.

"This seems to be the only way of getting action. I have called on District Attorney Clyne and there appears to be no way there of getting at the food barons. A boycott certainly will bring the price down."

Mr. Wetz's Opinion.

Mr. Wetz's opinion of a boycott is that it won't work, for the very simple reason that those who agree to it clandestinely buy eggs just the same.

When United States District Attorney Clyne was asked if he would investigate Mr. Wetz's egg operations, he said: "Mr. Wetz may come in and see me."

When this was relayed to Mr. Wetz, his reply was:

"O, he says I 'may' come to see him, does he? From that I infer that I might be forced to see him. O, well, either way makes little difference. I'll be delighted to see him."

When Mr. Wetz was asked what chances there were for lower egg prices, he replied: "It's up to the hens, you'll have to ask them."

Healey on Carpet.

Members of the council health committee demanded that Chief of Police Healey explain why he had not followed out their order seeking to have him enforce the ordinance against holding goods in storage for speculative purposes.

The chief's reply was that he had asked the corporation counsel's office for an opinion on the ordinance.

"DOLESS" CLASS IN DEMAND.

Chicago's leisure class—that is, the tatterdemalion leisure class—is being asked to work. Addressing and circular mailing concerns, burdened more than usually by the pre-Christmas rush, are making extra efforts to procure folders. One large concern yesterday "circularised" the haunts of the doless in the hope of stimulating a toil desire by offering to pay each night. Tons of matter are being sent out each week by the mailing companies.

NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS ASSAIL BUREAU CHIEFS.

Sanborn, Foreman, and Garrity Among Those Who Berate "Swivel Chair" Army Officials.

Three field officers of the Illinois national guard last night paid their respects to the regular army—that is, to some of the regular army bureau chiefs at Washington who oppose the general staff, which Secretary of War Baker has directed be supreme in army affairs.

Blind indifference, ignorance, and "thick headedness" were some of the charges made against some of the bureau chiefs and others, who it is also said are no more popular with regular army officers in the field than with the militiamen.

And the speakers were Col. J. B. Sanborn, First Illinois infantry; Col. Milton J. Foreman, First Illinois cavalry; Col. J. J. Garrity, Second Illinois infantry, and Maj. Abel Davis. They addressed a meeting of the Industrial club.

Col. Foreman styled the government's military policy as being "a soft pedaled, rep taped, swivel chaired, hit-me-again" system of running an army.

"When we left our homes to go to Mexico," he said, "we were sent to a former duck pond to camp. We spent about five weeks digging ditches to drain off the water. We were supposed to be cavalrymen. We were given a few decrepit nags, which had never eaten a grain of oats in their lives. Old, decaying buildings were used for hospitals. Yet our wise men at Washington said we were at a perfect state of peace with Mexico."

Col. Garrity called universal military training a necessity.

"It is the duty of every citizen with the welfare of his country at heart," said Col. Sanborn, "to advocate military preparedness. Those who oppose an adequate system are unfit to call themselves Americans."

Maj. Davis urged the Industrial club members to use their collective and individual influence to build up and encourage the building up of an efficient military system.

STATE JAIL INSPECTOR SUGGESTS NEW LAWS.

A variety of measures designed to abolish antiquated jails and punitive methods in Illinois were urged at the City club yesterday by Miss Annie Hinrichsen, jail inspector for the state charity board, and Miss Grace Abbott, superintendent of the Imigrants' Protective association.

Chief among the reforms suggested were the establishment of a state farm for persons convicted of misdemeanors, indeterminate sentences for misdemeanors, and state control of county jails.

MITCHEL TO CUT N. Y. COAL COST?

Mayor Plans to Deliver Fuel in City Owned Wagons Free of Charge.

New York, Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Mayor J. Purroy Mitchel took action today with practical results to supply coal at greatly reduced cost to small consumers if dealers continue to exact exorbitant profits.

He obtained from the coal dealers their promise to coöperate with him. They will supply the coal and the city will deliver it with city owned vehicles without charge for cartage. The money to finance the scheme will be advanced by private citizens.

Inmates of New York City's prison and reformatories will eat corn bread, instead of wheat bread, three days a week, beginning tomorrow, as a result of the high cost of living, it was announced tonight. Turnips and beets already have been substituted for potatoes.

Quiz Detroit Coal Men.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23.—Six Detroit coal dealers today were summoned before a federal grand jury which began an investigation of the high cost of living in this district. The testimony is being taken behind closed doors.

Protest to Washington.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 23.—Resolutions were forwarded today by the city of Decatur to President Wilson and Congressman McKinley protesting against the high cost of living. The resolutions, which were formally adopted by the city council, favor an embargo on all foodstuffs until a new crop is harvested.

POLICE SEEK BOY INVENTOR OF WONDERFUL DYE PROCESS

Former Chicagoan, Well Paid but Believed Deranged, Charged with Theft of Platinum at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 23.—A police dragnet has been spread over the United States for the apprehension of a 19 year old genius believed to be mentally deranged and in whose brain rests the secret formula for the successful manufacture of dyes. A warrant technically charges Henry Arbutle with the theft of a platinum mechanical contrivance valued at $2,000.

Arbutle, an orphan, formerly lived at 1439 Rokeby street, Chicago. He was employed for the last four months by August Oesterreich, president of the local branch of an international dye concern. Arbutle's salary was $10,000.

OLD LEVEE FEUD HAS FATAL TURN AT BURNHAM

"Dandy" Hogarty Shot Dead in Row Over Business, Politics, and Women.

"Mossy" Enright's brother Tom and his stockyards mob went out to Burnham Inn early yesterday to do a little job of work. A battery of automatics spit and crashed, lights went out, some women screamed. When the lights came on again "Dandy" Joe Hogarty, with two notches in his gun, was hunched up on the floor dead.

It was a feud with the added acid of the woman angle. It had been staged as silently as though every actor had known his role in advance. When it was over Enright, "Sonny" Dunn, and three others of his gang had made an easy escape in one of the two automobiles in which they drove to Burnham. "Bud" Connors, Enright's chauffeur, was arrested.

Mayor Patten Annoyed.

"Johnny" Patten, chief of police and mayor of Burnham, was disturbed. He couldn't find any one who knew anything about it. He arrested Connors, Eugene McCall, Hogarty's chauffeur, and Edward Berlin, Hogarty's companion. But they had happened to be looking the other direction at the moment the shooting came off.

Patten also questioned Frank Hitchcock, manager of the Burnham Inn. But he didn't hold him. Hitchcock and Patten are the joint owners of the Burnham Inn.

Hogarty was half owner of the "H. & H." cigar store at 50 East Twenty-second street. The "H. & H." is the lounging place of the sleek, mysterious, carefully gilleted blue-black jawed contingent of the Twenty-second street district. This morning he was to have appeared in the Municipal court on a charge of operating a gambling house.

Enter: Sol Von Praag.

Hogarty is said to have nursed some rancor over this charge. He was "in right" with the powers of the First ward and there seemed no reason why his place should be raided. It was said he blamed Sol Van Praag, another personage in First ward affairs. A few nights after the Hogarty raid there was a holdup in Van Praag's cigar store. The "wise cracking bunch" said Hogarty was getting back at Van Praag.

Of Kelly and Dillon.

Thus it was recalled that Hogarty was not to be "monkeyed" with. Then there was the incident of the Jimmy Kelly murder. Kelly had been of the stockyards gang, but he did a little revenge work for a well known First ward politician and got himself in bad odor. But it was forgotten by all in the gang save Thomas Dillon. Dillon, it was said, harbored malice. One night Kelly was driven home in an automobile by his roystering compatriots. As he stepped to his door he was shot dead by a hand that thrust the gun into his own pocket and fired it and left it there.

Last spring Tom Dillon was called to his door at 113 West Ontario street. Over his wife's shoulder a bullet sped that killed him. That was enough for a time. It was said a pair of St. Louis burglars had killed Dillon because of some differences purely their own.

Hogarty's place was raided next and then came the robbery of Van Praag's. It began to look as if everybody was retaliating. Late Wednesday night Edward Berlin, a saloonkeeper of East Dubuque, called on Hogarty and asked him to join in a party. Robert Gainey also was asked to join. They drove to various cafés. In the Bristol at Sixty-third and Halsted streets Hogarty called for a taxicab. Eugene McCall was the chauffeur. They drove to several Burnham places and then to the Burnham inn.

A Party and Insults.

In the meantime Enright and Dunn and their gang had been visiting the cafés and drinking. They decided to visit Burnham. It was after midnight. They met Joseph Sherman, a pugilist.

"Come over to the Burnham inn," said one of the Enright party to Sherman. "Your friend Hogarty is there."

They went over. Hogarty's party and Enright's party drew their tables together and made a banquet. Hogarty went in the bar and sulked over some grievance. Enright is said to have made an advance to one of the girls. Both girls went in the bar and told Hogarty they had been insulted.

Frank Hitchcock, the manager of the place, saw the Enright gang deftly shift their automatics from their overcoats to their hips. He called to McCall, the chauffeur.

"Beat it out and get a copper," he said. "There's somethin' coming off."

McCall went. So did Hitchcock.

Hogarty stepped from the barroom to the café. There was a crash of exploding cartridges. In a trice the place was empty.

No one had seen it! "Kid" Conley, a waiter, picked himself up out of the tossed furniture. His hand was bleeding. He had been shot through the wrist.

"If it was rainin' soup," he growled, "I'd be there with a fork."

OPPOSE DRUG STORE LIQUOR

After listening to two former health commissioners the council committee on health yesterday recommended an ordinance prohibiting druggists from selling spirituous liquors without physicians' prescriptions.

"It is the opinion of the members of the American Medical association, as well as my own," said Dr. W. A. Evans, former commissioner, now health editor of THE TRIBUNE, that the use of spirituous liquors as medicine should be abolished. In hospitals the use of whisky and gin in emergency cases is being abandoned."

Former Commissioner A. R. Reynolds also spoke. The ordinance would impose a fine of from $25 to $200 for each violation.

Coat of Moleskin and Kolinsky.

BY HELEN MERRILL EMERY.

THROUGHOUT the ages furs have ranked with jewels as the most coveted possession of women of every land. Feminine nature revels in luxury, and it must be confessed that the acme of luxury is reached in the gorgeous wraps destined for the woman of today.

Quaintly shaped capes, long, graceful stoles, and collars of unusual design are a feature of the new models. The most costly pelts are chosen for the fashioning of coats which have the distinction of line usually associated with fabrics of delicate texture.

A remarkably handsome coat is shown in the accompanying illustration. This model is developed in moleskin, with Kolinsky used for the deep shawl collar, which can also be fastened high around the throat, and for wide cuffs. The long line of the waist is especially smart, and an extremely clever note is seen in the skirt, which apparently is cut circular so that the skins run diagonally. Another model, also of moleskin, features collar and revers of dyed lapin.

Entire sleeves of sealskin lend interest to an evening wrap of white velvet, while chinchilla is used in the same fashion on a voluminous coat developed in midnight blue velvet. Nothing lovelier could well be imagined than lamé brocade, with two wide panels of moleskin extending from neck to hem, both back and front. Bands of this exquisite fur also appear on the sleeves and around the hem.

Beauty Hints by Antoinette Donnelly

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks, or how she added twenty pounds in five weeks to Miss Helene Barnett's weight, or how she corrected a head of dry, thin, falling hair and an oily scalp with dandruff, or the article on treating Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads, send a stamped, addressed envelope and the information will be mailed to you. Any other questions pertaining to beauty and hygiene will be gladly answered.

ED: IN MY WORK OF TREATING Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads I allowed her fresh meat but once a day. She could eat plentifully of any of the following vegetables: Spinach, carrots, tomatoes, onions, beans, lettuce, radishes, beets, asparagus, and turnips. Bran bread was substituted for white bread. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you full instructions on removing pimples and blackheads.

L. D.: IN THE WORK OF GROWING hair the first thing to do is to get rid of the unhealthy conditions that are causing decay. If the hair is dry, greasing the scalp lightly with vaseline, olive oil, or sweet almond oil is effective. Dryness of the hair is due to deficient secretion of fat by the sebaceous glands, or it may be due to disturbances of the general health or scalp disorders. If due to health disturbances, the general health must be remedied first. I shall be glad to send you my instructions on how I corrected Miss Hosmer's dry, thin, falling hair if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope. This will give you much valuable information and will help, I am sure, to overcome your difficulty.

SLEEPY: THE AMOUNT OF SLEEP necessary to the best condition of health is that which provides for complete recovery from previous fatigue. Eight hours' sleep is a reasonable allowance for a person in normal health. Less than eight hours' sleep proves wearing in most cases and usually results in a haggard face. Sleep is the period of quiescence which is necessary for the reparation of living animal tissues and for the recuperation of nervous tissues. The healthy person who feels stupid and wants an unusual amount of sleep is not suffering from mental exhaustion, but from lack of exercise and torpid digestion.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

"Where ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise" is a doctrine that cannot be justified in food matters.

Cooking Starch Foods.

ACCORDING to United States department of agriculture experiment station's bulletin on "The Digestibility of Starch of Different Sorts as Affected by Cooking," by Edna D. Day, "potato, arrowroot and probably tapioca and sago starch pastes are not made more easily digestible by long continued cooking. On the other hand, the cereal starches are made more easily digestible by long cooking. . . . The commercial preparations of cornstarch require thirty to forty minutes' cooking because of the improvement of flavor which results."

I have had a great many inquiries lately about how much to cook starchy foods. Because of their exceedingly loose construction I believe potatoes may be cooked completely and sufficiently in fifteen minutes if sliced thin and cooked in a closed kettle over a bit of fire. With just water enough to start the steam they are full flavored and when dressed with cream universally considered to be delicious. They may be mashed and served or manipulated as mashed potato or used for a potato soup. A little onion may be added, etc.

Because the cereals are so much more delicious of flavor if cooked until they jelly I would advocate that they be cooked this amount, and I know that they are also much more digestible and safe as foods when so cooked. In general I recommend that any cereal be cooked four times as long as the package recommends. Manufacturers have tried to please patrons by saying that their product can be cooked in a short time.

My old time package of cornstarch says cook a boiled pudding four minutes, but Miss Day says: "The selection of potato starch instead of corn or wheat starch for thickening sauces, in accordance with the custom of French cooks, is rational since . . . it forms a clearer and more digestible sauce, and since it does not require forty minutes' boiling for improvement in flavor, as is the case with cornstarch.

James was uncomfortable and complaining in a new collar which was rather higher than his others.

"But, James," said his mother, "you know summer is over and it won't make so much difference for the cool weather."

Why Drag the War Into Our Movies?

"WE ARE FRENCH"

Produced by Bluebird.
Directed by Rupert Julian.
Presented at the Playhouse.

THE CAST:

Gabrielle .... Ella Hall
Pierre .... Rupert Julian
Little Marie .... Zoe Rae

BY MAE TINEE.

AS long as the terrible weary war wages on across the scenes we must needs have war news and, it seems, war pictures. We will sorrow with the stricken and give of our bounty to the orphan until peace is declared. I believe, however, that as a whole we are beginning to shrink from added tax on our emotions. We realize war is horrible, but until, heaven forbid! the time shall come when with our naked eyes we must witness its desolation we would rather not hear more nor see more than is necessary. Feeling this way, it is possible that the rather charming picture, "We Are French," may not be as popular as its sponsors might wish, for its romance is all pathos and its heroism ends in death.

Gabrielle is a French girl, the only mother her young brother has ever known. You see her first, happy in her home, rejoicing in the love that has come into her life, embodied in one Pierre, a fine, strapping young Frenchman.

The call to arms bursts with all the suddenness of a shrapnel shell into the midst of all this idyllism. Brother and lover say good-by to Gabrielle, and she is left with no one to care for her but the faithful dog that has been Anatole's best friend. As Pierre leaves she says to him:

"He is hot headed. You are cool. Bring him back safely to me." And she takes from her neck the silver chain bearing its weight of a cross and puts it about his neck. He takes a solemn vow to never desert the brother.

When the two return it is to a deserted village—and no Gabrielle. No one knows where she is. Pierre, who has come back eager to pour into her ears a tale of a brave act Anatole has done, finds only the dog and the faithful priest to listen. It is Anatole's idea that Gabrielle is dead. Pierre, however, feels differently, and he resolves to keep his vow never to leave Anatole until he can deliver him safely into his sister's care.

Fifty years go by. We see the two men, white haired and inseparable, spending long eventless days at the village tavern, Pierre hoping beyond hope that still may come news of Gabrielle.

The French government decides to bestow the cross of the Legion of Honor upon Anatole—some other more popular hero having died just as a banquet was to be held in his honor to which was coming the president of France. An offer is made to pay Anatole's fare to Paris, but he declares:

"No. I will walk, as befits a soldier." And, bearing a banner, "We Are French," accompanied by Pierre, he starts on the long journey. He dies on the way. Pierre, leaving him covered by the banner in the home of a peasant, goes to the banquet and in the name of Anatole Picard receives the decoration. At the banquet he is surprised by Gabrielle, now a little, old, white haired woman, whom the authorities have found and now bring back to him. Together they go to where Anatole lies smiling in his last long sleep, cover him with flowers, and depart, presumably to enjoy the sunset of life together.

While, as a whole, the picture was pleasing, it struck me as rather long drawn out and far fetched. Ella Hall fails somehow, too, to strike the note of sincerity her prettiness makes you wish she would. The two men gave a fair performance, and little Zoe Rae, who did nothing in particular, was cunning about it.

New Movie Merger.

New York, Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Announcement was made today of another big moving picture merger, that of the Triangle Film corporation with the recently organized $9,000,000 Superpictures, Inc.

The Triangle distributing corporation, the announcement said, was being incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, with a capitalization of $950,000 noncumulative 6 per cent preferred stock and $100,000 common stock, both of the par value of $100,000, and $950,000 series A notes and $850,000 series B 6 per cent notes.

The Superpictures, incorporated, will own all the preferred stock of the new firm, one-half of the common stock, and all the $950,000 series A notes. The other half of the common stock and all the $850,000 series B notes will be held by the Triangle.

The Triangle has arranged with bankers, it is said, for the sale of these notes, which will furnish sufficient cash to liquidate all debts and provide working capital.

PHOTOPLAYERS PHOTO

Mae Marsh.

MAE MARSH, best known by her work in "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance" and for several years identified with Griffith and companies in which he has been interested and called by him "the world's greatest moving picture actress," has signed a contract with Samuel Goldfish, former vice president and treasurer of the Lasky company, at a salary of $250,000 yearly. Although details have not been given out, it is thought there probably will be a "Mae Marsh Film corporation" and her pictures handled independently of any program.

Real Love Stories

He Found the Ring.

In the late fall of 1913 the junior partner of a New York law firm went abroad on business for the firm. He had intended to make the trip as quickly as possible and get the business over that he might be home for Christmas. Business complications arose, however, and he was unable to sail before the 1st of January.

A friend of his asked him out to his place in Warwick for the holidays, and he was glad to take advantage of the invitation. On Christmas eve the host, who was fond of the old English customs, had a ring thrown into the Christmas cake. According to the superstition, this ring was named for a young lady, and the man who found the ring in his portion of the cake was to marry the young woman for whom the ring was named.

The wife of one of the attachés at the German embassy named the ring, and on the next day, when the young man found the ring in his portion of the cake, questioned Mme. von —— and found that the girl lived in New York, but exclusive of this he found out nothing.

Of course he was rather disappointed, for he had almost fallen in love with the girl's odd name, but when he sailed in January he had almost forgotten about the whole affair.

In the spring he and his mother moved from the family hotel at which they had been staying to an apartment house. The first evening as he entered the lobby he looked up and saw on the list of residents the ring girl's name, but with the prefix "Mrs."

He was startled and rather disappointed, for he had hoped to meet the girl. A few days later, however, he learned that it was the girl's mother's name that he had seen.

In a few weeks he met the girl, and a year later they were married with the ring he had found in the cake.

He Worries the Widow.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 32 and I am desperately in love with a widow of 29. Her husband died two months ago and I have written to her trying to make a date with her. She wrote back not to call, as she did not like my letter and she did not want to have anything to do with any one. Now, how long should a fellow wait in a case of that kind? I would like to get married. O."

In a case like this I think a fellow had better wait indefinitely before pursuing his courtship. You are rudely intruding upon her sorrow and you could expect to be rebuffed at such a time. If you really think that there is any hope for you in the direction of the widow you had better wait about a year before you try to step in her husband's place.

What Her Birthday Means.

"Dear Miss Blake: Will you please tell me if my birthday means anything? I was born Dec. 16, 1899, and it fell on a Saturday. R."

Rose, dear child, of course your birthday means something. Would you know how much, send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

"—and for icings, too, it's simply wonderful!"

—for Runkel's is more than a wonderful table beverage—it has other uses as important. In making icings, for instance, how much easier it is to use the powdered cocoa than to slice up a cake of chocolate!

And being so finely powdered, how much more possible it is to get into the icing the FULL, rich taste of the cocoa bean, that wonderful "chocolaty" flavor which makes your guests say, "My! what a good cake—and such delicious icing!"

Smooth, rich, inviting to both eye and tongue—the icing made with Runkel's—well, why talk any more? You just try Runkel's for the icing of the very next cake you bake. At the grocer's today remember to ——

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advt.

Some of the Buds Bidden to the Ball.

To be one of the fourteen—that is what has stirred the youthful hearts of the entire fifty debutantes for some weeks past: To be one of the fourteen buds to be invited to the Bachelors' and Benedicts' ball which takes place in the gold ballroom of the Congress hotel next Wednesday evening. For the invitation list is a limited one, and out of the 450 guests there has been found room for only fourteen of the maidens who are living through the glories of their first season. The names of these fourteen maidens have been held back for days—some indefinite theory of ethics being involved, according to the committee in charge of the dance. But at last they are known and can be officially announced, ethics or no ethics. The debutantes invited are Miss Lolita Armour, Miss Sylvia Shaw, Miss Isabelle Baker, Miss Erminga Carry, Miss Elizabeth Folds, Miss Elizabeth Adsit, Miss Harriet Buckingham, Miss Elizabeth Goodrich, Miss Betty Hoyt, Miss Emma Blair FitzHugh, Miss Violette Selfridge, Miss Rosalie Wacker, Miss Helen Hoyne, and Miss Lucy Jewett.

The ball will open promptly at 10 o'clock, and there will be a number of brilliant and effective figures danced during the cotillon, which will later be led by members of the committee. Midnight supper will be served in the Elizabethan room.

Miss Frances Williams Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons Miller of 1236 North Dearborn street, was introduced yesterday afternoon at a large tea given by her parents at the family residence.

Assisting were Miss Caroline Allport, Miss Barbara Blatchford, Miss Margaret Clinch, Miss Isabel Gilmore, Miss Louise Garaghty, Miss Betty Hoyt, Miss Virginia Marshall, Miss Frances Marshall, Miss Alexandria McNeil, Miss Elizabeth Martin, Miss Katherine Pierce, Miss Mary Buford Pierce, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Marion Osborne, Miss Carter Williams, Miss Henrietta Wurts, Miss Barbara Preble, Miss Eleanor Holden, Miss Rosalie Wacker, Miss Eleanor Street, Miss Elizbaeth Buckingham, and Miss Elizabeth Grey.

The young debutante was gowned in white satin trimmed with crystal bands, a gown which she brought back with her from Paris recently, and she carried a cluster of purple orchids.

Perhaps the leading feature of all the many features of the new musical comedy that is to be given by the Service club on Dec. 1 and Dec. 2 at the Strand theater for charity will be the Ballet Divertisment from "La Bal Poudre," the opera that was given last year with such marked success by the club. The following young women will take part:

Premiere danseuse—Miss Evelyn Isom, assisted by William Burrows Jr.

Pas deux—Miss Doris Russell and Miss Lila Leonard.

Coup de ballet—Miss Helen Hoyne, Miss Elizabeth Hoyt, Miss Louise Garaghty, Miss Erminie Mathews, Miss Harriet Stuart, Mrs. Mildred Swigart Burrows, Miss Katherine Schmidt, Miss Katherine Blossom, Miss Rosalie Wacker, Miss Mary Pierce, Miss Ruth Orton, Miss Florence Harris, Miss Ruth Hopkins, Miss Jean Hopkins, Miss Marcelle Spry, and Miss Eleanor Gann.

Valtz fantasie—Miss Anita Blair and Joseph Kelleher.

Horn pipe dance—Miss Lillian Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hartwell Lyford, who are spending the winter in New York, will come to Chicago early in December and will be at the Blackstone during the holidays, when their son, Calhoun Lyford, who is at Yale, will join them.

Mrs. Hubert Burnham has gone to New York to attend the Army and Navy game on Saturday and will not return until next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick will arrive from Wichita, Kas., on Dec. 18 for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany Blake of 25 Walton place have gone south and their apartment has been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitehill.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. John Buckingham will give a debutante ball this evening at the Blackstone to introduce their daughters, Miss Sylvia Shaw and Miss Harriet Buckingham. Only the younger set and the younger married people are to be among the guests.

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison and her daughter, Mrs Edson Manierre, gave a luncheon for fifteen guests yesterday at the Blackstone. The affair was in the nature of a farewell, as Mrs. Harrison is to leave early in December for New Orleans, from which port she will sail a few days later with Mr. Harrison for a trip to South America.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pratt Judson entertained a party of eight at dinner at the Blackstone preceding the opera.

The twenty-first annual Irish ball will be held tomorrow evening at Emmet Memorial hall under the auspices of the Illinois Gaelic association.

Some of the prominent members of the Illinois Woman's Press association are giving a penny party in room 1404 Mallers building, 8 South Wabash avenue, this evening for the benefit of an aged I. W. P. A. member. Not only members of the club are urged to come, but friends also. One penny entrance, one penny exit, one penny for everything; "extraordinary entertainment" is promised, and refreshments as well.

Mrs. George W. Dixon of 2706 Michigan avenue will entertain at luncheon for Miss Elizabeth Dixon Martin today.

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING HAND

By Marion Harland

Ants in the House.

"A FEW weeks ago an article appeared in your paper which told how to prevent ants from coming into the house. I intended to cut the article out, but the paper was destroyed before I got at it. Will you print it again? Also, what will remove white marks from varnished furniture? They came from the heat. B. H."

We cannot be sure of selecting the right one of the many preventive against ants we havep ublished lately. Instead of attempting it I offer one of my own composition: Borax and red pepper, soap, mixed with cayenne smeared on the edges and at the back of the shelves. Let me commend, in particular, the expedient of smearing the under side of pantry shelves with soap into which cayenne pepper has been worked. Next to this I place sticky fly paper recommended in premises infested by fleas. Ants seem to have a special antipathy for the odor of the composition coating the paper. They are often found lying dead in heaps under the paper, without attempting to cross it. White spots on furniture, left by hot water, or hot dishes, or sharp acids, are one of the common blemishes of polished and oiled woods. Try, first, wood alcohol, rubbing it in well. Should a whitish mark remain, wet a bit of flannel with camphorated oil—just as you would use upon your baby's sore throat—and rub the spot faithfully with it until it is absorbed. Then cover the spots with olive oil, leaving it on all night. In the morning rub the oil in well. This will remove scratches and slight indentations. Use asbestos mats in future under hot dishes and plates You may buy them with washable covers, more or less ornamental. An equal mixture of turpentine and linseed oil will remove white marks from furniture caused by water.

Reading Matter Wanted.

"If any reader of the Corner has old books or magazines which she no longer wants and would let me have I will gladly call or pay postage on them. "LILLIAN L."

It is a comfort, and a sensible relief, to insert a petition that has not the underpinning of a plea of physical infirmity and one which we are confident will be speedily answered. Books and magazines are lively stock and are all the while changing owners, for which fact we are thankful and proud.

Needs Abdominal Belt.

"I write this for an old lady, one in great need of an abdominal belt. She read in the Corner that a supporter, forty inches, was on hand. She could use it, if you will let her have it. She has neither husband nor child, and has lived a long time in this neighborhood. She is worthy of your kindness. Please let her know if she may send for it, as she never goes out. ROSALIE L."

"On hand," is, alas! in the past tense. Otherwise, you would have heard from us by mail. Your aged friend's claim upon us is strong. We are issuing now a hurry call for a belt that will fit her. Her desolate loneliness is enough to enlist the Corner's kindly offices. It is strengthened by your feeling indorsement of her worthiness.

Her Boy Wants a Violin.

"I see that a correspondent offers a child's violin and rack. I should be so thankful for them! I hope I am not too late. I will gladly pay postage. We have three boys—10, 9, and 5 years. My 9 year old boy is fond of music and has for a long time longed for a musical instrument. My husband earns only small wages, and it takes all he can earn to buy food and clothing for us. "MRS. D. M."

It is with real pain that I tell you of the bestowal of the violin and music rack upon an earlier applicant. I should have notified you of this by mail, but for the hope that a special and definite call for musical instruments of some kind for that music loving 9 year old might bring one to our knowledge, intended expressly for him. There are men who loved to play upon the violin when they were younger, who have no time for practice nowadays. We trust to your letter to revive their memories of those times, and remind them of the happiness they may impart by the gift of what is useless to themselves.

OBITUARY.

WHEELER BARTRAM, former chief of police of Evanston and for many years a member of the Chicago police force, died at the Presbyterian hospital last night. Mr. Bartram was born in Madison, O., in 1843, and was a boyhood companion of President Garfield. He came to Chicago when a young man and joined the police department, and eighteen years ago retired with the rank of captain. He then acted as chief of police of Evanston for several years, and retired to act as a trustee of the Chicago police pension board. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the home of his niece, Mrs. A C. Cracraft, 4568 Oakenwald avenue. Burial will be at Graceland. He had been a widower for a number of years and had no children.

DR. FRANCIS ADAM SIEBER, well known in medical circles in Chicago and elsewhere, died at 4327 Michigan avenue yesterday, at the age of 75. He was born in Germany on March 28, 1841. He served in the German-Danish war in 1866 and was in the German army during the Franco-Prussian war. Later he came to the United States. He practiced medicine in New York City, Leavenworth, Kas., and Santa Fé, N. M. Dr. Sieber came to Chicago in 1882 and from 1884 until it became part of Chicago was health commissioner of Lake View. While at Santa Fé Dr. Sieber was married to Miss Louise Brooks. He is survived by the widow and two children, Agnes Isabella and Mrs. Louis Geyler.

DE VOSS WOODWARD DRISCOLL, aged 43, well known cartoonist, is dead at a Dayton, O., hospital. He had been ill about one month. Driscoll originated the mule "Maud" cartoons.

OBITUARY.

BODY OF JACK LONDON TO BE CREMATED TODAY

Glen Ellen, Cal., Nov. 23.—The body of Jack London, California author, who died here last night, will be cremated in Oakland tomorrow at noon. Only near relatives will be resent.

The body, accompanied by the widow, Mrs. Charmion London; a sister, Mrs. Eliza Shepard; and London's secretary, J. Byrne, will leave Glen Ellen early tomorrow morning. At Oakland they will be joined by London's two young daughters, Bessie and Joan London, and their mother, London's first wife, from whom the author was divorced ten years ago. Arrangements for the burial of the ashes will not be completed until after the cremation, but it is believed that they will be interred in an Oakland cemetery.

That the famous writer's death was an unexpected blow to his widow and physicians was admitted today by the secretary, who said that he had seen Mr. London early yesterday afternoon and that he seemed "cheerful and confident of recovery."

London's properties, including the Glen Ellen ranch, are almost entirely free from debt. During the last year he paid off more than $20,000 in mortgages. One small mortgage remains.

COL. ISADORE EISENSTAEDT of 5204 Ingleside avenue and for forty-nine years a resident of Chicago, died yesterday. He was senior member and one of the founders of the present Eisenstaedt Bros. Co., the oldest silk and neckwear manufacturing firm of this city. Col. Eisenstaedt was born in Germany in 1842 and came to the United States as a young lad. During the civil war he volunteered and joined the One Hundred and Forty-sixth Ohio regiment, Co. F. He was a student of Egyptology, philosophy, and religious history, and he made several trips to Egypt and the far east in connection with the study of his favorite subjects. The funeral will be held today at 9:30 a. m. from The Temple, Indiana avenue and Thirty-third street. Burial at Rosehill.

MRS. ROBERT SWAN SCOTT of Hubbard Woods died at Washington. D. C., on Thursday. Mrs. Scott was the widow of the late Robert Swan Scott one of Chicago's pioneer merchants, and a member of the firm of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. Before her marriage Mrs. Scott was Miss Sina Smith of Hagerstown, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Scott were for many years active members of the Third Presbyterian church of Chicago, and later of churches in Glencoe, Evanston, and Winnetka. Since Mr. Scott's death, Sept. 20, 1904, Mrs. Scott spent the summers at her home, Swanscott, Hubbard Woods, and the winters in Washington, D. C., and in Europe.

JOHN B. PFEIFER, resident of Chicago since 1849, died yesterday. He was a widower and left one daughter, Clara. Services tomorrow at 9 a. m. at the residence of his brother, George C. Pfeifer. Burial at St. Boniface cemetery.

MRS. ELEANORE K. LA BATT died yesterday at 306 North Menard aveune at the age of 59. She was injured in a street car accident on Nov. 5.

An Effective Laxative For Growing Children

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Highly Recommended as a Family Remedy.

In children the slightest irregularity of the bowels has a tendency to disturb the entire digestive system, and unless promptly remedied invites serious illness. The experienced mother knows that by training her children to regularity in this respect, and when occasion arises administering a mild laxative, she will have little need for the doctor's services.

Mrs. Leo Weigand, 3251 Central Ave., N. S., Pittsburg, Pa., whose two boys, Frank and Joseph, are shown in the illustration, writes that she has found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a most effective laxative, not only for the children but also for herself, and that she will always keep it in the house to use when needed. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts easily and naturally, without griping or other pain or discomfort. It is pleasant to the taste so that children like it, and is equally effective on the strongest constitution.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents, and should have a place in every home. It will save many times its cost in lessened doctor bills and maintain the health of the entire family. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois, for whom this advertisement is published.

REPORTS DRIVE PRICES LOWER IN N.Y. MARKET

Depressing Rumors Cause of a General Decline in Stocks at the Close.

BAROMETER OF THE MARKET

Average of Closing Prices of Twenty Leading New York Stocks

Thursday, Nov. 23	95.04
Wednesday, Nov. 22	95.53
Net loss for the day	.49
Year ago, day of week	92.84

The twenty stocks are: Anaconda Copper, American Car and Foundry, American Smelting, American Telephone, Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Chesapeake and Ohio, Erie, Great Northern preferred, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, St. Paul, American Sugar, Union Pacific, and United States Steel.

Total sales of stocks, 1,620,000 shares.

Total sales of bonds (par value), $5,870,000.

MODERATE DECLINES GENERAL.

New York, Nov. 23.—Traders seemed in the mood today to accept with little or no reservation the many reports of a character calculated to depress quoted values. These ranged from the stability of existing war contracts to the measures employed by banking interests to check excessive speculation, and the international situation was injected with some effect.

Declines were mostly moderate, but general, coppers, munitions, and related issues, including equipments, making extreme concessions of one to three points. Shipping shares also were heavy, a result ascribed to the loss of the Britannic, although Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies rose briskly on intimations of an early distribution of profits to shareholders.

Leather issues were comparatively strong in connection with established trade conditions, and such distinctive industrials as Bethlehem Steel and Lackawanna Steel made gross gains of substantial proportions, as did Gulf States Steel.

U. S. Steel Fails to Recover.

United States Steel was sold steadily in round amounts down to 124, an extreme decline of 1⅛, with no material recovery

Efforts to revive interest in motors and affiliated stocks met with indifferent success and the operations of pools in other parts of the list were equally futile. Final prices in the more important shares were at or near lowest levels of the day.

Rails denoted the lack of public interest so long shown in that group, despite the publication of additional excellent statements of earnings. Reading, Atlantic Coast Line, Rock Island, and less prominent issues shaded a point or more on light offerings.

Call money rose to 4½ per cent toward the close, and time accommodations stiffened also, further discrimintion being shown against industrial loans.

Bonds were irregular, with concessions in most international issues. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO FREIGHT RATE HEARING COMES TO AN END.

Examiner Thurtell of the interstate commerce commission closed the Chicago end of the commission's investigation into the transcontinental freight rate controversy yesterday. Representatives of the railroads, shippers, and steamship lines from all sections of the country have appeared since last Monday. The investigation will be continued in Salt Lake City Monday.

The railroads, led off by the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific, appeared to justify the lower long haul rates they propose to fix from the Missouri river points and east, to the Pacific coast ports, without a proportionate cutting down of intermediate rates. Denver, Salt Lake, Arizona, New Mexico, and Spokane shippers furnished the opposition.

Henry C. Barlow, appearing for the Chicago Association of Commerce, consented to the 10 cents per hundred increase in certain car load rates proposed by the carriers over the present tariffs, but contended that the increases suggested in some of the less than car load rates were too high

The present hearings grew out of a demand by the intermountain representatives for higher long haul rates when slides clogged up the Panama canal and the higher returns for boats in the Atlantic service lured the coastwise boats out of the service.

FLOUR MILLS FACE CLOSING BECAUSE OF CAR SHORTAGE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 23.—Local flour mills soon will be forced to close down unless the freight car shortage situation is relieved, according to statements by leading millers and grain men here today.

"Our mills are filled to capacity and as the outlet is greatly inadequate, we can operate now only a few horus at a time," said an officer of one of the largest concerns.

Other millers declared the situation to be the most serious they had ever faced. Refusal of western railroads to send their cars east and the closing of lake traffic are the chief causes of the present congested conditions, the millers dclared.

Triangle Film.

L. E. D.—The Triangle Film corporation, which was formed in July, 1915 recently filed a balance sheet of July 1, 1916, with the Massachusetts secretary of state. It shows the following assets: Furniture and equipment, $39,878; merchandise, $2,545,598; bills receivable, $159,400; good will, $4,362,361; total, $7,127,238. Liabilities are: Capital stock, $5,000,000; floating debt, $1,042,217; accounts payable, $596,662. This leaves a so-called surplus of about $486,000. Net tangible assets are only a little more than $1 a share for stock that was issued fifteen months ago at $5, if memory serves, and that sold on the curb up to $9.25. The company's gross earnings have been large. It is supposed that inflated salaries to actors and managers have eaten up the assets.

Grant Motor.

F. C. M., Barnesville, O.—The present Grant Motor company, which took over the business last February, has paid three quarterly dividends on its $1,000,000 of preferred stock. There has been no distribution reported on the $2,000,000 common. The president of the company stated recently that 930 cars were shipped in August, yielding a profit at the rate of 44 per cent a year on common stock, and that shipments in October and November were expected to be larger.

Advance-Rumely.

J. H., Racine, Wis.—Advance-Rumely issued $12,500,000 of preferred stock, $13,750,000 common, and $3,500,000 of debentures when it took over the assets of the old Rumely company nearly a year ago. The preferred stock is entitled to 6 per cent dividends before any distribution on common, the right becoming cumulative from Jan. 1, 1919. The new company has not reported any dividends or issued any statement of earnings.

Automatic Carburetor.

J. R. R.—No reports of the Automatic Carburetor company are available except the statement that it is now earning the preferred dividend four and one-half times. It is a comparatively new undertaking, with $200,000 of preferred stock and $800,000 common. Ownership of shares may be desirable if you are in a position to keep in touch with the business. If not, it would be a speculation.

Ajax Rubber.

W. A. G.—The Ajax Rubber company was formed a year ago to take over a concern that had been earning about $425,000 a year net. The new company issued $4,000,000 of stock, all of one class. In the nine months ended May 31 it earned $442,422, or at the rate of 14¾ per cent a year. It is paying dividends at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

Brief Answers.

M. G. M.—Treasury stock is stock which a corporation is legally authorized to sell, but which is held in the treasury. It may be held because nobody will buy it, or for other reasons. It differs from outstanding stock in that it represents no value.

A. E. T.—The Parry Sound copper mine has been idle a long time, but early this year the management promised to undertake further work. There is no recent information on the Congress Gold Mine and Milling company. No market for either stock.

E. C. L.—The Edmunds & Jones corporation is paying dividends of 7 per cent a year on its $1,000,000 of preferred stock and $4 a share on its 40,000 shares of common. It is said to be earning at the rate of $700,000 a year net.

O. J. W.—The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company has been in business forty-nine years. It has had a steady growth and has a substantial surplus. The death rate is moderate.

E. M. K.—The Coin Machine Manufacturing company has refused information about its finances. There is no reason to think the stock other than purely speculative. It has been discussed heretofore.

M. O.—The Providers' Life Insurance company began business last February with $100,000 capital and $297,500 surplus paid in. No reports of its operations have been issued.

COMMERCE ASSOCIATION RENOMINATES O'LEARY.

Present President Will Succeed Himself, as No Opposition Ticket Is in Field.

John W. O'Leary was nominated yesterday for reëlection as president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the only president besides David R. Forgan to be named for a second term. The election, purely a formal proceeding, will take place Dec. 13.

Lucius Teter, president of the Chicago Savings Bank and Trust company, nominated as a vice president, will serve as president pro tempore. The following officers and directors were nominated:

Other nominees for vice president are Alfred Decker, Frank I. Bennett, Walter J. Raymer, and B E. Hutchinson. John T. Stockton is nominated for secretary and H H. Merrick for treasurer. Nominees for directors at large are Frederick T. Boles, John D. Shoop, William P. Sidley, J. F. Nickerson, and Marvin B. Pool; of the interstate division, Frederick H. Scott and H. O. Edmunds; of the civic industrial division, T. E. Dougherty, L. A. Ferguson, and George W. Dixon; of the local division, John S. Capper and Joseph W. Moses; of the foreign trade division, H. P. Crowell, Arthur Reynolds, and T. W. Robinson.

The annual meeting of the association, at which the installation will take place, is set for the second Wednesday in January.

Engineers' Jobs Open.

Many jobs for designing engineers, which pay from $10 to $15 a day, are open in the government service. Open examinations for the places were announced by the United States civil service commission yesterday. Applicants must be college or university graduates with experience of not less than fifteen years in general design work.

NEW YORK BANKS PUTTING BRAKES ON BULL MARKET

Ask Higher Call Loan Rates to Check Speculation—Little Effect in the West.

Money which on call in Wall street firmed up on Wednesday to 5 per cent, but closed lower yesterday, led bankers to give consideration to present money conditions. According to one of the Chicago commercial paper houses rates for high grade paper rule at 3½ per cent. This applies to borrowings by firms throughout the west and purchases by bank in Chicago and a few of the largest banking institutions west of this center.

It appears that heads of New York banking houses have feared that the present bull market might become a runaway one, and in exercising their judgment have applied the usual brakes in the form of asking a higher rate per cent for call loans. The latter are regarded as favoring speculation. Commercial paper, which represents the business demand of the country, rules in price as before stated.

With rising deposits and general confidence plus the influx of gold from abroad, it would appear that the banks for some months must figure on receiving low rates of interest.

Forgan Analyzes Money Market.

J. B. Forgan, chairman of the board of the First National bank of Chicago, returned yesterday from the east. As a member of the federal reserve advisory council he took part in the recent conference with the federal reserve board in Washington. In discussing money rates, Mr. Forgan said:

"Conditions are such that I believe the money market will show some strength in the near future, giving the banks more of an opportunity. Our surplus funds are pretty well invested and the demand for money is getting better. I attribute this partly to a seasonal condition, business always growing active at this time of year. It is, of course, especially active at this time.

"The New York interests are optimistic as to the immediate future, at least. The only question before them, apparently, is what will happen when the war is over and the stream of gold recedes. In the meantime, they are going ahead and taking profits while it continues."

In referring to the Washington conference called by the federal reserve board to discuss, especially the gold supply, Mr. Forgan stated that the various bodies created under the law were working together with little differences of opinion or friction.

"We found that practically all the bankers are thinking along the same line," he said. "The council has become a definite part of the federal reserve system now and will be of considerable help in the future when the system will be put to its real test."

Equipment Buying Broadens.

The general signs are that the railroads have definitely entered the equipment market in a broad way, and in spite of high prices and delayed deliveries, running as far ahead as fourteen months, are contracting for their needs. With the various lines reporting a net shortage on Nov. 1 around 108,000 cars and the resulting pressure from the government and shipping interests, the explanation is apparent. In addition, there is no indication that the export demand, which has been a factor in pushing steel prices to their present levels, is likely to slacken, at least in time to meet the demands. A large part of the railroad trouble has resulted from just such postponement eighteen months or even a year ago.

The New York Central is leading off, there being serious talk of an equipment issue of $15,000,000 for spring buying.

Heavy Buying This Month.

During the first three weeks of November more orders for freight cars were placed than in any month of the last three years, with none of the deliveries under six months. The Railway Age Gazette reports that a total of 34,908 cars were ordered in this time. The domestic orders so far this year total 123,386, as compared with 84,296 up to this time last year.

Locomotive orders for the first three weeks of November amounted to 889, with a total of 4,224 placed for the year in Canada and the United States. The increased tractive power is an indication of one method being resorted to by the transportation companies to move the trains faster.

The prices are from 40 to 50 per cent higher than normal. The Philadelphia and Reading has paid $600,000 more for an order of 2,000 freight cars than it would have paid eighteen months ago. Norfolk and Western, it is said, has ordered 4,700 cars at $1,410,000 more than it would have paid under normal prices. On the present basis of prices cars have gone up from $1,200 apiece to $1,800.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago steady at 4 per cent on collateral, 3½ per cent on commercial paper, and 4½@5 per cent over the counter. New York exchange sold 20c and 15c discount. Chicago bank clearings were $79,915,268.

NEWS OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD

Three mortgages aggregating $400,000,000, were filed with the registrar of deeds in Wyandotte county, Kansas, by representatives of Thomas F. Fauntleroy, special master in the reorganization plans of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad. This is said to be the final step in the reorganization of the company.

The board of representatives of the New York Curb Market association has listed and admitted to trading the 5,000,000 capital shares of the United Arizona Copper Mining and Smelting company, as a prospect, and the 1,750,000 shares of the United Milling company of Arizona.

As indicating the extraordinary advance in the price of diamonds, the report of the De Beers Consolidated company for the year ended June 30, 1916 shows net revenues of $10,710,460, against $2,871,995 the previous year. Sales of diamonds amounted to $13,262,810.

According to Wall street, the technical position of the stock market is, outside of the railroad list, vulnerable. This vulnerability applies to steel, copper, and equipment pools, which are being subjected to some pressure in loan readjustments.

The physical valuation of the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railway, announced by the interstate commerce commission, places the cost of reproduction at $8,865,636. It is capitalized at $40,938,031.

The Pacific Gas and Electric company is about to spend about $225,000 in enlarging the corporation's irrigation system in Placer county, California.

The distribution of inside holdings of Utah, Kennecott, and Anaconda has been of substantial proportions. There remain large accounts for powerful sources and these are expected to lend bullish support to the market.

Among the orders placed for freight cars with the Pressed Steel Car company during the week were those of the Wabash, Pittsburgh Terminal, the Carnegie Steel company, the Nickel Plate, and the Great Northern railway.

According to Wall street gossip, an officer of one of the largest equipment companies says that after April 1 there will be no further shell orders, as Great Britain is now able to take care of the situation.

It is reported from Pittsburgh that an advance in prices for wire shortly will be announced and that the new basis will be $3 a keg for nails.

Stockholders of record of Oct. 24 may subscribe to Mother Lode 6 per cent bonds at 95. These rights expire Dec. 31, 1916.

Railway Steel Spring stockholders are expecting some favorable action by the directors of the company at their meeting today.

Directors of the Steel Company of Canada have voted to pay initial dividend of 4 per cent on the common stock.

A pool of western origin is reported buying Corn Products common and preferred for considerably higher prices.

Wall street gossip suggests that railroad shares are now considered the safest part of the market.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The market for coffee futures was irregular today, with a good part of the business representing exchanges from December to later deliveries in preparation for possible notices. Rumors that valorization plans were being discussed in Brazil, which would provide for holding about 3,000,000 bags of coffee in France until the end of the war, seemed to prompte some outside buying during the early trading. The market opened 3 points lower to 3 points higher, and active deliveries sold about 5 to 7 points net higher before midday, with December advancing to 8.23c and July to 8.72c. There were increased offerings at this level, however, with March selling off to 8.41 and July to 8.68 in the late trading, and the market closed net two points higher to 2 points lower. Sales, including exchanges, 105,000 bags. Closing bids: November, 8.16c; December, 8.16c; January, 8.23c; February, 8.32c; March, 8.41c; April, 8.48c; May, 8.55c; June, 8.61c; July, 8.67c; August, 8.72c; September, 8.78c; October, 8.83c. Spot coffee quiet; Rio 7s, 9¼c; Santos 4s, 10½c. Cost and freight offers were reported unchanged to a shade higher, with 4s quoted about 10c on the basis of London credits. The official cables reported no change in the primary market. Rio cleared 20,000 bags and Santos 114,000 for New York. Brazilian port receipts, 67,000; Jundiahy, 45,000. It was reported that Santos 4s had sold at 9.80c, American credits, for shipment to New Orleans.

BOSTON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The market continued irregular, with more realizing pressure affecting prices, conspicuously in the mining group. Atlantic Gulf was the feature, rising from 121¼ to 128, a new high record. There were announced two copper dividend increases—Calumet and Arizona from $2 quarterly to $2 and $1 extra; Allouez from $2.50 to $3 quarterly. The news proved to have been discounted in both cases, Calumet and Arizona declining 3½ and Allouez gaining only ¼. Calumet and Hecla lost 5, to 625. Though losses were general, trading was orderly and in reduced volume. Call money ruled at 4 per cent; time loans, short dates, 3¾@4 per cent; time loans, six months, 4@4¼ per cent; time loans, one year, 4¼@4½ per cent.

SWIFT MADE A DIRECTOR OF WILLYS-OVERLAND.

Toledo, O., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Automobile company, announced today that Edward F. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., Chicago, has just been elected a director of the Willys-Overland company of Toledo, and has signified his acceptance. Mr. Swift has been for several years a personal friend of Mr. Willys and one of the large holders of Willys-Overland stock.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A renewal of heavy general liquidation caused a break of fully $2.50 per bale in the cotton market today with January contracts selling off to 19.96c, or more than a cent a pound under the high record of Tuesday morning. That delivery closed at 19.99c, and the general list closed unsettled at a net loss of 45@53 points. The opening was steady at a net decline of 20@28 points in sympathy with lower cables, but prices rallied several points right after the opening. Liverpool continued weak, however, showing a break of approximately 1 cent a pound, and for the first time in weeks houses with Liverpool connections were heavy sellers. The market here soon became extremely weak and excited. Private cables attributed the decline abroad to panicky liquidation on stop-loss orders and a lull in the demand from Manchester. For a time offerings here were enormous and prices broke to a net loss of 43@49 points by midday. At around or a shade under 20c for January, the selling became less active and the market steadied on covering and rebuying by local and western longs. Rallies of 20@25 points followed, but the support was not aggressive and the market weakened again in the late trading under a renewal of general selling. May broke to 20.36c, or 51@54 net lower and some 106@116 points under the recent high record. December sold 16 points under January and the expectation of notices tomorrow probably helped to unsettle the general list. Exports today 500 bales, making 2,214,922 so far this season. Port receipts, 85,020 bales. United States port stocks, 1,486,350 bales. Futures:

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—SUGAR—Following prices were quoted by the wholesale dealers per 100 lbs: Cut loaf, H. & E., $9.18; powdered standard, $8.26; standard cane granulated, $7.98; beet granulated, $7.58; extra C, $7.98; canary, $7.38.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The market for raw sugar was dull and easier again today. There were only sales of 10,227 bags of full duty sugars at 4⅝c c. i. f. with refiners again indifferent to offerings of Cubas, which were 5c cost and freight, or about in line with the full duty sugars. The close was easy at 5c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 6.02c for centrifugal and 5.15c for molasses. The market for refined sugar was dull and unchanged at 7.50c for fine granulated. In sugar futures there was a decline early of 2@3 points in sympathy with the easier spot market, but rallies followed on covering prompted by reports of unfavorable weather in Porto Rico, which would necessitate the lowering of crop estimates with closing prices unchanged to 3 points higher. Sales, 10,250 tons. December sold from 4.86@4.95c, closing 4.91c; January, 4.30@4.37c, closing 4.34c, March, 4.00@4.07c, closing 4.04c; May, 4.10@4.18c, closing 4.14c; July closed 4.21c.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Money was in fair supply and discount rates were firm today. Dealers and investors are not inclined to make fresh commitments and today's stock market was dull and sagging. There were a few bright spots, such as industrials, rubbers, and Rio Tintos, but most of the metal stocks were affected by profit taking, especially Otis steel. The decline in British and foreign funds represented simply marking down from lack of support. American securities were quiet. Bar silver, 34 15-16 an oz. Money, 4¾ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 5¼@5⅜ per cent; three months, 5¼@5⅜ per cent.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve decreased £98,000; circulation increased £25,000; bullion decreased £63,388; other securities decreased £7,599,000; other deposits decreased £9,307,000; public deposits increased £1,842,000; notes reserve decreased £18,000. Government securities unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 23.56 per cent; last week it was 22.54 per cent. Rate of discount, 6 per cent.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Trading was quiet on the bourse today. Rentes, 61 francs 10 centimes. Exchange on London, 27 francs 81½ centimes. Five per cent loan, 87 francs 80 centimes.

The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Gold on hand increased 13,075,000 francs; silver on hand decreased 2,929,000 francs; notes in circulation increased 58,114,000 francs; treasury deposits increased 18,829,000 francs; general deposits increased 122,380,000 francs; bills discounted decreased 16,377,000 francs; advances decreased 7,174,000 francs.

French Municipal Loans

$20,000,000 City of Bordeaux
$20,000,000 City of Lyons
$20,000,000 City of Marseilles

Six Per Cent. Three-Year Gold Bonds

Due November 1, 1919

INTEREST PAYABLE MAY 1 AND NOVEMBER 1

Principal and interest payable without deduction for any French governmental or municipal taxes or other French taxes.

Principal and interest payable in New York in United States gold coin or, at the option of the holder (to be exercised as to principal thirty days before the date of maturity), in France in francs at the fixed rate of francs 5.60 per dollar.

Coupon bearer bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100 each.

The Government of the French Republic is to undertake to furnish and permit the exportation of gold, so far as necessary, to permit the cities to pay the interest of principal amount of the loans in gold in the City of New York.

We are informed that these loans are the only external loans of the above mentioned cities and are to be made to provide for expenditures for the alleviation of suffering caused by the war and for other Municipal purposes.

We are advised that

BORDEAUX, one of the three leading French seaports, has, according to the last enumeration, a population of 261,678 and a funded debt of fcs. 48,500,000 (approximately $9,000,000).

LYONS, next to Paris the leading trade center of France, has, according to the last enumeration, a population of 523,796 and a funded debt of fcs. 97,000,000 (approximately $18,000,000).

MARSEILLES, the foremost seaport of France, has, according to the last enumeration, a population of 550,619 and a funded debt of fcs. 122,800,000 (approximately $23,000,000).

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE ABOVE BONDS AT 98 PER CENT AND ACCRUED INTEREST, AT WHICH PRICE THE BONDS YIELD ABOUT 6.75 PER CENT ON THE INVESTMENT.

Particular attention is called to the small per capita debt of these cities, to the attractive yield of the bonds and to the possibility of a very substantial profit in exchange, in view of the option to collect the principal and interest of the bonds at the rate of francs 5.60 per dollar. Thus if at the maturity of the bonds the rate of exchange should be francs 5.18 (the normal rate before the war) the principal sum payable in France would equal a redemption price in dollars of about 108%.

Subscriptions will be apportioned among the three issues of bonds and allotments will be made on the basis of equal amounts of each issue, in so far as feasible.

The subscription will be opened at three o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, November 28, 1916, or earlier, the right being reserved to reject any application and to award a smaller amount than applied for. The undersigned reserve the right to close the subscription at any time without notice.

A first payment of [illegible] per $1,000 bond subscribed for must accompany all subscriptions. The balance of the amount due on bonds allotted must be paid in New York funds, on December 6, 1916, at the office of the undersigned, against delivery of temporary bonds exchangeable for engraved bonds when prepared.

If no allotment be made, the first payment will be returned in full, and if only a portion of the amount applied for be allotted, the balance of the first payment will be applied towards the amount due on December 6, 1916. [illegible] when due [illegible] forfeiture.

All allotments will be made subject to the necessary official action to complete the transaction and to the opinion of counsel as to legality.

New York, November 23, 1916.

Wheat was under pressure yesterday and at the finish prices were practically at low points of the day. December was relatively weakest and closed 2¼@2⅜c lower, while other months were off 1½@2⅛c. May received the best support, meeting with a commission house demand on all soft spots, and there was buying of May and selling of December by a leading elevator concern. Selling of July wheat was encouraged by rains over the winter wheat belt. Seaboard advices as to the export demand were discouraging and no business was confirmed, while premiums were reported as weaker.

The action of the Liverpool market in the face of the easier feeling here puzzled the trade. Spot wheat there was 1½@2½d higher, while the government advanced cargo prices 1s per quarter. Rumors that the Argentine government is to put a tax on export grain influenced that market, and Broomhall said the demand exceeded supplies.

Sheep Advance at Outset.

Prices were sharply higher at the outset, with active buying stimulated by the strength abroad and unfavorable Argentine news. Some estimates on the amount of Argentine wheat that will be available for export are as low as 18,000,000 bu, or about one-fifth of normal. The bulge at the opening brought out much long wheat, however, and following the reaction the market ranged lower. Continued talk of an embargo on American exports of grain has shaken the confidence of many of the longs, while the light clearances are also making an impression on bulls. Yesterday there were 302,000 bu cleared.

Some of the larger commission houses are advising their customers to prepare for a sharp setback in prices and a lot of bearish sentiment has been created in the last few days. Primary receipts yesterday were 1,725,000 bu, there being no comparison on account of a holiday a year ago. Argentine shipments this week are estimated at 1,200,000 bu.

Long Selling Weakens Corn.

Longs were also selling corn on a large scale, and the market closed at the bottom and ⅞@1¼c lower than previous resting spots. The opening bulge in wheat and wet weather over the belt caused much short covering early, and a higher market resulted, but prices quickly reacted under free realizing sales. Cash men said the wet weather would not curtail receipts, as the country elevators are full, and, while soft roads might check farmers' deliveries, the elevator people would welcome the opportunity to relieve the strain on their capacity. Cash corn was 1@1½c lower, with receipts here 303 cars. Local shipping sales were 55,000 bu.

Crop reports from Argentina grow more alarming and general rains are badly needed. Corn shipments from there this week are estimated at 2,500,000 bu, against exports of 4,489,000 bu last week. Liverpool spot corn was 1½d higher. Seaboard clearances were nothing. Primary receipts were 1,007,000 bu.

Light Trading in Oats.

Trading in oats was rather light and prices were kept within a comparatively narrow range. The market was influenced by wheat and corn and closed ⅛@⅜c lower. The export interest was lighter and the market found no real support, while there was selling by scatttered longs. Cash oats ruled steady and local shipping sales were 90,000 bu. Crop prospects in Argentina are poor, and Broomhall estimates reserves of old oats at 3,500,000 bu. Clearances from the seaboard were only 38,000 bu. Primary receipts totaled 857,000 bu.

Hog product was erratic, with pork closing unchanged and lard and ribs showing fair advances. Lard was most active and also exhibited relatively more strength than other product, and this, too, in face of reports that the Belgian relief committee has made heavy purchases of compound lard and is likely to take more of the substitute. Support came from packing interests. Hog prices at the yards were unsettled, with western markets getting a total of 138,850 head. Local meat shipments were 2,573,000 lbs, while 1,606,000 lbs lard were shipped.

Firmer Market for Rye.

Rye ruled firm, with No. 2 $1.51 bid and No. 3 selling at $1.48½. Receipts were 5 cars.

Barley was unchanged. Malting quoted $1.06@1.28 and sold $1.12@1.25; feed and mixing quotable 90c@$1.04 and sold $1.04; screenings were quoted 50@96c and skimmings 65@70c, former selling at 70@96c.

Timothy seed was firm. Year, $5.60 bid; March, $6.05 bid and $6.25 asked; cash lots quoted $3.00@5.50. Cloverseed held steady, with cash lots quoted $12.00@15.00.

Flax was ¼c lower, with cash quoted $2.84½@2.88½; Minneapolis was ¼c, Duluth ¼@1¼c lower, and Winnipeg ¼c off to 1½c higher.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE

Argentine news continues bullish, with the weather hot and dry. Reports in regard to the corn outlook are discouraging and prices continue to hold firm in Plate markets, while Liverpool is affected by the bullish cables from South America. Broomhall estimates reserves of old crop grain as follows: Wheat, 25,000,000 bu; corn, 31,000,000 bu, and oats, 3,500,000 bu. The exportable wheat surplus from the new crop is placed by Bromhall at 29,000,000 bu and of corn 28,000,000 bu. Cables from conservative sources in Argentina said it was thought the government would impose a tax on export shipments of grain. Crop news from the Pampas and Buenos Aires provinces was discouraging, with further deterioration of corn reported.

With the possibility of a fight in congress to have an embargo placed against exports of breadstuffs, sentiment in the wheat trade has become decidedly mixed, with the enthusiasm of the bulls considerably cooled. Yesterday there appeared to be more influential selling by commission houses than for some time. With the increased pressure to sell, the buying demand was inadequate. Traders and grain men generally do not believe conditions warrant any embargo at the present time, as there is no prospect of an immediate scarcity. Visible supply stocks are still increasing and the export movement is far below expectations.

Cash corn was 1@1½c lower, and the demand was slow. Lack of cars is keeping business comparatively narrow. With colder weather predicted it was expected country sales would again increase. Receipts are fairly liberal here and in the west, but there was no great pressure to sell reported yesterday. Oats were unchanged. Receipts are moderate, and there was a fair shipping demand.

Yesterday clearances of wheat and flour were only 302,000 bu. The small clearances are causing the bulls much concern. For several months enormous export sales have been given out, and there is generally supposed to have been a tremendous business done in both United States and Canadian wheat. However, export clearances to date have been nowhere near reported sales. Either there is a decided shortage in tonnage or else the buying agents for foreign governments are in no hurry to move the grain out, although the demand abroad is said to exceed the supply.

The shipping demand for wheat was generally reported slow yesterday. Local sales were only 15,000 bu. Export advices from the seaboard did not indicate much business had been done, although the continued strength in the Winnipeg market was supposed to have reflected a fair export business. Omaha reports were not particularly encouraging, and business in that direction has been slack for some time.

Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 1,200,000 bu wheat and 2,500,000 bu corn. Last year actual shipments were 388,000 bu wheat and 2,341,000 bu corn.

Receipts inspected yesterday: Wheat, 52 cars; corn, 303 cars; oats, 121 cars; rye, 5 cars; barley, 28 cars. Hogs estimated for today, 36,000 head.

TENNIS CLUB TO HAVE NEW HOME ON SOUTH SIDE

Buys 7 Acre Tract in Seventy-third Street from J. R. Mann—Plans $15,000 House.

A transaction of much interest outside of the real estate features of the deal was reported yesterday in the purchase by the South Side Tennis club of Chicago from Congressman James R. Mann of a tract of seven acres in Seventy-third street, adjoining on the east the property just acquired by the city of Chicago from Mr. Mann as a site for a new pumping station at the northeast corner of Stony Island avenue.

A consideration of $60,000 is reported, which is at the rate of $8,571 an acre. A clubhouse to cost about $15,000 will be erected, while the remainder of the ground will be for the greater part occupied by tennis courts.

The South Side club formerly occupied the grounds of the Wanderers' club at Seventy-first street, which recently was purchased by Murray Wolbach for subdivision purposes. The club recently reorganized and consolidated with the tennis club at Fifty-third street and Cottage Grove avenue. The present transaction was negotiated by George C. Bour & Co., who also negotiated the sale of the corner plot to the city.

Sheridan Road Frontage Sold.

An interesting transaction is reported in Sheridan road frontage in the sale by Le Roy F. Harris to Frank B. Klock of the vacant 100x260 feet, 160 feet south of Waveland avenue, the consideration being withheld.

Mr. Harris purchased the property some time ago from Helen Scott and is said to have made a handsome profit in the transaction. The purchase, which is said to have been made for investment, was negotiated by Baird & Warner.

Murray Wolbach appears as the seller in another interesting deal in apartment house property. He has sold to Morton Clausen the high grade fifteen apartment building at the northeast corner of Leland and Drake avenues, lot 58x125 feet, for a reported consideration of $52,500, subject to an incumbrance of $27,500.

The purchaser conveyed in part payment the three flat building at 1454 East Seventieth street, the three flat at 2661 Rhine street, and the residence property at the corner of Elm street and White avenue, Lyons, at a reported consideration of $11,000, the remainder in cash. John F. Diffenderfer represented both the parties to the transaction.

California Man Sells Half Interest.

John A. W. Miller of Ford, Pa., has purchased from O. E. Hotle of Oakland, Cal., an undivided half interest in Chicago and Evanston flat property amounting in the aggregate to $300,000. The properties include the northeast corner of Madison and Sherman streets in Evanston, 100x130 feet, improved with a twenty-one apartment building of three, four, and five rooms each, taken subject to an incumbrance of $55,000, on which the annual rental is $10,000; also the southwest corner of Sherman and Seward avenues in Evanston, improved with a tweny-four apartment building of four and five rooms each, on a lot 100x130 feet, subject to an incumbrance of $57,500, the gross annual rental of which is $10,000; also the northwest corner of Seventieth street and Calumet avenue, improved with a building containing twelve apartments, subject to an incumbrance of $29,500, the annual rental on which is $6,000, and the three six flat buildings on 150x125 feet at 6625 to 6635 Ellis avenue, taken subject to $42,500, on which the annual gross rental is said to be $10,000. Krause, Beak & Co. represented all parties to the transaction.

Buy High Grade Apartment.

Margaret E., James B., and E. J. Burke have purchased the high grade eight apartment building at the northwest corner of Seventy-sixth and Sangamon streets from Fredericka and S. O. Hawkinson for a reported price of $29,000, subject to $16,500. The purchasers gave in part payment the apartment and residence property at 520 to 524 North Paulina street, valued at $13,500, subject to $1,000. W. A. Murphy & Co. represented both parties.

The property at the northeast corner of Monroe and Sangamon streets, 70x96 feet, has been sold by Isaac Marks to Frank A. Eckart. While the consideration is not disclosed, it is understood that $30,000 was paid for the property. Marks & Co. represented the seller and E. C. Waller Jr. the purchaser.

The three story apartment house at 6316-18 Harper avenue, together with the vacant twenty-five feet of frontage running through to Blackstone avenue, has been sold by Joseph Stravinsky to Martha Nelson, price withheld, but understood to be $24,000, subject to $17,250 incumbrance. In part payment there was given the property at 2335 and 2337 School street, valued at $6,500. W. E. Meyers & Co. and George J. Jank & Co. were the brokers in the transaction.

Nihran B. Donchian has leased from John Griffiths the store and basement at 29 South Wabash avenue for a term of years from Dec. 1, at a term rental of $40,000, through White & Tabor. The same brokers have leased for Stern, Mayer & Co. to Alfred, Decker & Cohn the seventh floor, 307 West Van Buren street, for a term from Jan. 1, at a rental of $18,000; for Ullman & Co., to Stern, Mayer & Co., the fifth floor of the building at 301 to 311 West Van Buren street, for a term from Jan. 1 at a rental of $10,000.

H. A. Hoban has conveyed to Theresa C. Alcock the apartment house property, northeast corner of Adams street and St. Louis avenue, 125x180 feet, price withheld, subject to an incumbrance of $21,500.

Leases in Converse Building.

Ban K. Babbitt of the office of John R. Magill & Co. has leased the entire seventh floor of the recently constructed Converse building at 618-26 West Jackson boulevard to the Printing Machinery Company of Cincinnati for a term rent of $30,000. They will occupy the space, 11,000 square feet, for demonstrating rooms for a new type of multi-color press.

The same broker also has leased the entire second floor of the same building to the W. R. Garton company and William J. Doherty, dealers in electrical apparatus, for a term rent of $18,000.

The six flat building on 50x124 feet, west front, in Calumet avenue, 197 feet south of Forty-fifth street, has been sold by R. J. Friedman to Lillian W. Merriman for $30,250, subject to $12,500. E. B. Woolf & Co. were the brokers.

In the three years ended December 31, 1915, the Pacific Gas & Electric Company increased its gross earnings by $4,190,520; increased its net earnings by $3,425,000—at the same time its bond interest requirement increased by only $15,820.

In 1912, 25.7% of its gross earnings were required for bond interest; in 1915, the requirement was only 20.1%.

In 1912, 60.1% of the net earnings were required for bond interest; in 1915, only 39.1% were required.

The Common Stock

of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, after all deductions for maintenance and depreciation, shows earnings for 12 months ended September 30, 1916, of $8.50 a share. Prior to depreciation the amount would be equivalent to about $12.90 per share.

The stock pays a 5% dividend; at the present market the yield is over 7%.

DREXEL DOINGS

A Bulletin of Up-to-Minute Facts

"Bonner, Mont., Nov. 14, 1916.
Drexel Motor Car Corporation,
Chicago, Ill.
Dear Sirs:

I have driven a Drexel car nearly 4,000 miles and have found it satisfactory in every way.

It is admired by everyone for its graceful lines, its sturdy appearance, and also the simplicity of its motor. In operation it is efficient and economical. It has a fast pick-up and is a great hill climber. It has all the qualities of a car costing $1,200 to $1,400.

I consider it an excellent buy for the money.

Very sincerely,
WALLACE W. MARKLE."

Over and over these testimonial letters from Drexel owners affirm and repeat the claims we are constantly making for the Drexel Car. Read Mr. Markle's letter again, and ask yourself if more could be expected of any automobile. And note that every Drexel owner has just about the same good things to say about his Drexel car.

This advertisement is not printed for the purpose of selling Drexel automobiles, but with the expectation of selling stock in this great Chicago enterprise. With such assurances of the perfection and permanency of the Drexel Automobile, the prospective stock holder should be able to see wonderful money-making opportunities in the purchase and holding of a standard automobile stock which may now be bought at $10 per share. Particulars on request.

Range feeding lambs	9.00@10.50
Cull lambs	8.50@ 9.75

Prime heavy and butchers hogs at Chicago yesterday sold at strong prices, while the less desirable grades of light and mixed weights held steady. Receipts were posted at 39,000 head and there was a good demand, with shippers fairly active buyers. Top sales were made at $10.10, and the bulk at $9.50@9.85. Pigs sold at weak prices, with only strong weight lots selling at $8.00 and better. Light pigs went down to $7.00@7.25.

Cattle trade was dull and weak. All grades of steers showed weakness and even the good fat killers were 25c lower than on Monday, while less desirable grades showed more loss. Cows and heifers sold 10@15c lower than on Wednesday, while calves were weak to 25c lower.

Sheep and Lambs Higher.

Sheep and yearlings made firm to 15c higher prices, while lambs were up 10@15c. Receipts were 13,000 head. They found a ready outlet, with several loads of prime western lambs at $12.05. Native lambs topped at $12.00, while yearling breeding ewes sold up to $9.00.

POSTOFFICE FRAUD ORDERS AGAINST THREE ILLINOISANS.

F. W. Beach of Danville and A. B. Fay and J. D. Edwards of Chicago Accused of Fake Schemes.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Fraud orders have been issued by the postoffice department against the No-Ak company at Danville, Ill., and J. D. Edwards and A. B. Fay of Chicago for obtaining money through fraudulent means.

F. W. Beach, under the name of "No-Ak Insole company," advertises for women to make insoles for shoes at home. Women answering the ads, says the department, must purchase two outfits and make samples, which are always found faulty. They are told to try again, but after numerous attempts are told their work cannot be used. Each woman loses from 50 cents to a dollar and a half. About 200 letters are received daily by the company.

Edwards and Fay obtain remittances of money "from alleged astrological readings, which in fact are merely printed form letters not made up in accordance with the rules of astrology and of an utterly worthless character."

BANK VICTIMS HOLD MEETING

Depositors in Defunct Paisley Concerns Pick Chicago Title and Trust Co. Receiver.

Five hundred victims of the Paisley private bank failures held a meeting in the federal building yesterday and chose the Chicago Title and Trust company receiver. About 300 of those present were women. After choosing a receiver it was decided to postpone auction of the bank's fixtures until another meeting. There were about 2,500 depositors when the Paisley banks failed. Liabilities were said to be more than $250,000. Depositors are not expected to recover more than 20 cents on the dollar.

J. V. FARWELL CO. REVIEW.

The John V. Farwell company weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade says:

"Tremendous inroads made into American manufacturers' and distributors' stocks of dry goods and general merchandise by export and also by heavy domestic demands have brought about a condition which makes the semi-annual clearance of Dec. 4 and 5 an event of unusual importance. Buyers in larger number than usual have signified their intention of coming to market at this time, not only to buy goods but to investigate the upward tendency of prices for 1917.

"The big demand for lightweight wool dress fabrics is giving way to heavier materials. Amoskeag mills have advanced prices of all their fifty inch serges 5 cents a yard and are holding a limited amount of their thirty-six inch serge at 55 cents. British manufacturers have sent out notice that they are in position to take a limited amount of business, but their prices are about 25 per cent above present prices asked for similar fabrics by American manufacturers and colors are not guaranteed. These conditions are moving far seeing buyers to cover their storm serge needs for fall. Printed wool challies are unusually active sellers.

"In silks, printed goods have the lead for spring, with Paisley effects well in the foreground. The continued increase in cost of all drapery materials has stimulated advance business and sales are considerably ahead of corresponding periods in past years."

Investigator Accused by Hotel.

W. A. Phillips of 322 West Thirty-first street, an investigator for the public utilities commission, was arrested yesterday on complaint of the Springfield police, who say he is wanted there for failing to pay a hotel bill of $55.

A company reincorporating for $500,000, with assets of some $3,000,000, owner buying property at receiver's sale for a pittance a few months ago. Since then he has put it on a paying basis and is now a going project, sound to the core, although same was in course of construction since 1905.

Buying it at three per cent [3%] of its value, I have the benefit of the former owners' loss. Now big money can be made. No debts against it and money coming in monthly.

Present owner invites a few business men of integrity to associate themselves to enlarge and put in better shape present project. We can use $100,000 to $150,000 for such, and will sell only enough stock to put the project in better shape on sound business principles, without the usual high finance methods. For such little help we are assured of untold returns without any speculation or factor of unsafety.

An opportunity in a legitimate enterprise like this will never come to me again to help you make such big money without gamble, as it is not a scheme—a going concern NOW.

Needing so little, and having so great assets and so large margin of profit, ought to appeal to careful investor. This offer only open for a short time, as we have nearly the amount raised now.

BIG PROFIT IN PORK

Prices of Pork today are higher than any time since the Civil War. Experts predict further advances. Take our membership in our syndicate organized for the purpose of breeding and fattening hogs for the market. $50.00 pays for one membership. You are guaranteed 8 per cent on investment payable semi-annually besides 50 per cent of the pro rata net earnings on your holdings. We have the land, water, climate, forage, and shipping facilities, in a section where cholera is unknown. Hogs raised under direction of an expert, no chance to lose, good interest guaranteed by responsible corporation. If you want to make money write us for full particulars. Address P S 251, Tribune.

MR. BUSINESS MAN—Are you looking for a good connection or an investment? I have a gilt edge, legitimate business in New Orleans, La.; I need more capital; if you can invest in cash $5,000 or more I have the opportunity you are looking for; your investment will net you over 25%; I have over $30,000 in cash personally invested in the proposition; I am in a position to secure your investment; if you are a live wire and have the capital to invest and mean business, address me; I am in the city and will give you an interview. Address G 156, Tribune.
